THE SOUTHERN AMERICAN REPUBLICS ARE TO EXHIBIT

PERMANENT EXHIBITION IN WASHINGTON

Already Some of Displays Have Been Installed. All Southern Governments Interested.

Special to the Daily News. WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—Central and South American Republics are taking steps to install government exhibits in the permanent exposition of the Southern Commercial Congress, in the Southern Building, in this city. This was announced today by Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, President, and Dr. C. J. Owens, Managing Director, of the Congress. The Congress has provided for State exhibits in the exposition from the sixteen Southern States and some of these displays have been installed. The plan of the Congress to obtain exhibits from the Pan-American Republics originated with the officials of the Congress. They brought the project to the attention of the State Department and the Pan-American Union. Secretary of State Knox, and Director General Barrett, of the Pan-American Union, gave their cordial support to the plan, and are now working with the Congress to get the exhibits as soon as possible. Secretary Knox has addressed a letter to diplomatic representatives of the United States in these countries, asking them to co-operate with officials of the Pan-American Republics in all matters concerning the exhibits. In a letter to Senator Fletcher, Mr. Barrett says: "I am in sympathy with the purposes and plans of the Southern Commercial Congress, especially in reference to the exhibits which it desires to have in the building in Washington."

Ambassadors and ministers of the Pan-American countries, resident in Washington, have taken the exhibit matter up with their respective governments. It is planned to have all these exhibits installed in the permanent exposition hall before the fifth annual convention of the Congress, which will be held in Mobile, Ala., coincident with the opening of the Panama Canal in the fall of 1913. Many of the diplomatic representatives of the Pan-American Republics in Washington will be on the program of the Mobile Convention. Participation of the Pan-American Republics in the permanent exposition and the Mobile Convention will have two important international results, said officials of the Congress today. It will bring these countries into direct touch with the work of the Southern Commercial Congress is doing to increase the export and import trade between the republics and the United States, in which the Panama Canal will be a great factor, and it will afford the thousands of visitors to Washington, many of them from foreign countries, an opportunity to see something of the resources and products of the Pan-American countries, as shown by their exhibits in the exposition.

Ocracoke Pleasure Seekers Experience Rough Weather

Life Preservers and Life Boats Are Ready and All Looked for Watery Grave.

A thankful crowd of pleasure seekers are today on terra firma and if the word of Mr. Samuel Etheredge is the opinion of the entire party that went to Ocracoke Saturday night and returned Sunday night, then the Daily News will find to publish many more seeking pleasure and comfort on the beach this season. The trip down was all that could be desired. Pleasure and merriment reigned supreme from start to finish. On the return the placid waters of the Pamlico turned into wrath and if the reports are true the entire party called pleadingly and seriously for New York every hour of the way. Life preservers were in evidence on all sides. Mr. Etheredge was seen with two upon his person and his faithful colored valet was donned with at least one half dozen. To quote Mr. Etheredge: "When the water reached the upper decks the time had come to do away with superficial thought and turn attention to those more serious. This intention was carried into effect quickly. A short exhortation was given the rest of the party—the main thought being, this was no time to joke and think lightly for the time had arrived when the question was whether land would be reached in safety or not. Seriousness at once took the place of merriment and after the turbulent waves had been passed and the dock in this city reached, it is said, that not a single was seen to play upon the countenance of any one member of the party. They experienced a strenuous night and their experience will long linger in and around their trip. Mr. Etheredge is a land-lover and today he is eloquent in his argument why terra firma is preferable to the waters of Pamlico sound especially.

Mallison received the first prize while the consolation went to Miss Olive Gallagher. A delicate two course luncheon was served. About sixty guests were invited. All present voted Miss Tankard a charming hostess.

NO SERVICE.

The many friends of Mr. Jarvis Sugg, of Hertford, N. C., are glad to see him in the city.

for special uses like the establishment of scholarships, special collections in the library, or the maintenance of the College in any of its departments. Whenever desired the donation will be kept as a separate fund, thus preserving the identity of the gifts as well as perpetuating the names of the givers.

District Committees are being organized in the chief centers of population and the campaign is on throughout the State. It means so much for the cause of Southern Education that it must of course succeed.

REV. THOMAS GREEN DELIGHTS CONGREGATION

POLITICAL LEADERS ARE ASKED TO TESTIFY

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—August Belmont and William F. Sheehan have been invited to testify next week before the Senate committee investigating political campaign contributions in 1904 and 1908. An invitation also was sent to Thomas Fortune Ryan, but he is out of the country. Postmaster-General Hitchcock, who directed Mr. Tatt's campaign, and Representative Lloyd, chairman of the Democratic congressional committee, also have been asked to testify.

Senator Clapp, chairman of the committee, today emphatically denied that the committee had yet considered calling Colonel Roosevelt, President Tatt, William J. Bryan or Alton B. Parker.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of Charles R. Hall, assistant treasurer of the Democratic national committee during the Parker campaign of 1904 would save the committee a lot of trouble by notifying it. Chairman Clapp said today his committee had been unable to locate him.

George Foster Peabody, treasurer of the Democratic national committee in 1904, testified he was only a figurehead in the campaign and the contribution books were kept entirely by Hall. Thomas Taggart, chairman of the committee that year, testified that he burned the books in 1908.

Inquiry was made of Mr. Peabody as to Hall's whereabouts, but he informed the chairman he was unable to locate Hall. An attempt was made to locate the assistant treasurer, through William F. Sheehan, chairman of the Parker executive committee, but that likewise failed.

BODIES OF DROWNED BOYS LOCATED EARLY SUNDAY MORNING

LORIMER IS OUSTED BY THE SENATE

Secured His Election by Corrupt Methods and Practices.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—Overturning the majority of its own committee, and reversing its vote of March 1, 1911, the Senate Saturday took away from William Lorimer his seat as a junior Senator from Illinois by a vote of 55 to 41. A member of the Senate since 18, 1909, Mr. Lorimer today declared to have been elected by "methods and practices" which the Senate had held to have been invalid. Mr. Lorimer will pass out the records of the Senate as a member of that body, notwithstanding his more than three years' occupancy of his seat. Facing his associates with the declaration: "I am ready," Mr. Lorimer sat in the chamber and heard his fate decreed as the roll call showed the adoption of the resolution of Senator Luke Lea, of Tennessee, the Senate's youngest member.

The man who for three days had held the Senate to close attention with his remarkable speech of defense and attack upon his enemies, rose wearily from his seat, and passed back to a cloak room door. Senators and members gathered about him grasping his hand and patting him on the back. Outside the Senate door, as Mr. Lorimer stepped into the corridor, friends greeted him again and a party of Sisters of Charity pushed forward to express regret at his expulsion. At his office later, when a physician had attended him, he said he would not leave Washington before the first of next week.

The outcome of the vote was not a surprise; but the leaders of the fight against him had not estimated a greater vote than 50 to 35. Lorimer gained only one of the men who voted against him March 1st, 1911, Senator Jones, of Washington; while he lost the votes of his associate, Senator Cullom, and of Senators Curtis, of Kansas; Briggs, of New Jersey; Simmons, of North Carolina, and Watson, of West Virginia.

Lorimer's fight for his own official life began in the Senate chamber early Thursday afternoon. When he concluded his eloquent declaration that he was not a coward and "would not run in the face of certain defeat," at 2 o'clock this afternoon he had held the floor for 12 hours with intermissions and recess to restore his strength.

The moving character of Lorimer's appeal was admitted on every hand but it apparently swayed no votes. Instead of the pleading defense that had been expected, it was through-out a ringing defiance to those who had opposed him, a declaration of his unflinching belief in the purity of his election in Illinois and a promise that he would not give up his fight with eviction from the Senate.

FOUND FLOATING IN TAR RIVER NEAR ACCIDENT

Capt. Leach and Party Locate One of the Bodies Two Miles Down Stream.

FUNERAL WAS HELD YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Remains of Young Hardee First Recovered by the Searching Party.

The bodies of Theodore and Elbert Tucker, sons of Mr. Samule B. Tucker, of Farmers Landing and Robert Hardee son of Mr. Coon Hardee, of Greenville, who were drowned in Tar River sometime Friday afternoon, while bathing near Farmers Landing about four and one half miles above Grimesland, N. C., were recovered early yesterday. The first body recovered was that of young Hardee who was found near the landing floating in the water. His body was discovered between sunrise and six o'clock. The Tucker boys were not found until about ten o'clock. The elder boy was located floating in the stream about two miles from the landing towards Grimesland and the younger was discovered about one half mile nearer the landing. Captain Geo. T. Leach of this city, with a party of volunteers left here early Sunday morning in his gas boat Cora for the scene of the tragedy for the purpose of aiding in any way possible towards recovering the drowned boys. When within two miles or thereabouts, of the landing, Captain Leach found the body of the older boy, Theodore, floating. While the remains were being taken on board the Cora Mr. Elijah Proctor, of Grimesland arrived on the scene with his gas boat. Captain Leach suggested that he go on up the river with the hope of securing the other body. When Mr. Proctor had reached a point about one half mile nearer the landing the remains of the younger Tucker boy, Elbert, was found. The bodies of the Tucker boys were interred Sunday afternoon in the Tucker family burying ground and the Hardee boy was buried in the Hardee burying ground near Greenville.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION THE PASTOR'S THEME

A large and appreciative audience heard with pleasure as well as profit the admirable discourse delivered by Rev. R. H. Broom on Christian Education at the First Methodist Church last night. The sermon was in keeping with Mr. Broom's reputation as a speaker and nothing but the highest praise was heard by those present last evening and today. The main thought in the discourse was that Christian Education fits one to live. With this as the foundation the congregation listened to a sermon full and overflowing with wholesome truths. The music was one of the features.
