TARIFF HAS HELPED FARMERS

Senator Gardner Gives Reason For Supporting Wilson.

NOW IS TIME FOR REWARD

Too Long Have They Been Feared by False Gods—Rallying to Democracy's Banners.

The reasons why those engaged in agricultural pursuits should support Governor Woodrow Wilson for President are strongly set forth by Senator Obediah Gardner of Maine, in an address to farmers.

Senator Gardner is a practical farmer, one who farms his own farm, and he is probably in closer touch and sympathy with country life and its environments than any other man in public life.

For twenty-five years Senator Gardner has been actively interested in the National Grange and for ten years he was the master of the State Grange of Maine. A few years ago he came within a close margin of being elected Governor of the Pine Tree State.

A little less than a year ago, when Senator Frye, who had represented Maine in the Senate for thirty years, died, Governor Plafsted honored Mr. Gardner, and recognized the agricultural interests of the country by appointing him to the United States Senate, where he has made a most creditable record, devoting particular attention to the welfare of the great rural population of the country. He is now a candidate for re-election and will undoubtedly be successful.

In his address Senator Gardner says:

To the Farmers of the United States, Greeting:

Being one of you and for the greater part of my life having been engaged in the practical every-day duties of my own farm, having been for 25 years past actively at work through the National Grange and the National State Granges, having served for 10 years as a member of the National Grange and as master of the Maine State Grange ten years, during which time the organization added 15,444 members and attained a power and influence never held before. I feel I am in a position to speak from the standpoint of one who knows the farmer and his needs, and it is solely because of this that I am permitted to address you.

For years farmers have justly complained of being treated to pull at the short end of the yoke because of unfair and unjust discriminations in legislation and transportation, and at the present time the farmers are charged with being the cause of the high cost of living, when as a matter of fact taking collectively, the amount invested in their business, the hours devoted to hard labor, and everything connected with the details of agricultural life—they are, as a whole, the most industrious and the most patriotic, while relatively the most important.

Farmers Have Been Deceived.

During all recent years farmers have been sold what a great blessing has been their through the tariff, and yet to find a market for their principal crops they have had to compete in the market of the world where the price is fixed. But suddenly it is discovered that the tariff is the sole cause for the high cost of living, and what happens? The President (Mr. Taft) with total disregard for the welfare of the farmer, submits a plan to open up to competition with the farmers of the United States the products of foreign countries while being careful to preserve the tariff, or more correctly speaking the tax, on all the farmers has to bear, which, as clearly as anything can, exposes the hypocrisy and "humbuggery" of the claim that the tariff is any benefit to agricultural as compared with manufactured products.

Now, the farmers of this country have an opportunity to benefit themselves that has never appeared within my recollection, as the Democratic party has been compelled by the force of public opinion to nominate a man for the presidency who is best equipped for all classes of any that have been nominated or elected since Lincoln. A man that I speak of from a personal acquaintance with, and a knowledge of his fitness; a man of great natural ability, splendidly educated, not theoretically but practically, a keenness of intellect remarkable for his grasp of every condition of the present, and a confidence, an indomitable courage to do right; and above all a great broad tendency with the whole family of Woodrow Wilson was especially prepared to fill a great need in the present crisis in the history of our country, as Jefferson, Washington, Jefferson, Jackson and Lincoln; and I would advise the farmers upon any reservation as a man if you want to protect your own interests and those of your families; if you want to render the great government the best country and future generations; if you want to contribute your part to the end that people government under the sun, then do not turn from the earth, then see that the Hon. Woodrow Wilson is elected President.

O. GARDNER.

THE PEOPLE AND THE CURRENCY.

In dealing with the complicated and difficult question of the reform of our banking and currency laws it is plain that we ought to consult very many persons besides the bankers, not because we distrust the bankers, but because they do not necessarily comprehend the business of the country, notwithstanding they are indispensable servants of it and may do a vast deal to make it hard or easy. No mere bankers' plan will meet the requirements, no matter how honestly conceived. It should be a merchants' and farmers' plan as well, elastic in the hands of those who use it as an indispensable part of their daily business.—From Woodrow Wilson's Speech Accepting the Democratic Nomination.

TEN GOOD REASONS FOR HOME PATRONAGE

- 1. Your home merchants can duplicate the prices made by any responsible concern anywhere on goods of equal quality, in the same quantities, and on the same basis of delivery and payment.
2. You can examine your purchases in the home stores and be assured of satisfaction before investing your money.
3. Your home merchants are always ready and willing to make right any error or any defective article purchased.
4. Your home merchant helps support through direct and indirect taxation your schools, churches, and other public institutions.
5. Your home merchants help make a good local market for everything you have to sell, and that market—more than any other factor—gives your land its present value.
6. Your home merchants are your good friends, ever ready to extend a helping hand in time of need.
7. If this community is good enough for you to live in and make your money in 'tis good enough to spend it in.
8. The best citizens in this community are those who believe in and practice home patronage. Be one of the best.
9. The merchants in the distant city gives you nothing valuable that the home merchants cannot give you—and the former cannot and will not do for you the many things the latter do gladly.
10. Every dollar kept in circulation in this community helps increase property values. Every dollar sent out of this community that could as well be spent here hinders the wheels of progress and helps build up some other community at your expense.

Popular Young Couple Surprise Their Friends By Marriage

A surprise marriage occurred in the city last evening at the residence of County Commissioner S. F. Freeman on East Second street. The happy couple are now at Morehead City spending their honeymoon carrying with them the best wishes and congratulations from their host of friends in this city and throughout the county. Not even the family of the respective parties had any knowledge of the young couple's intention until about ten o'clock last night. At one o'clock last night at the home of the bride, Mr. Claude L. Ricks, son of Sheriff George E. Ricks and Miss Rosalie Freeman were made man and wife, the ceremony being impressively performed by Rev. Robert V. Hope, pastor of the Christian Church in the presence of the families of the couple. Immediately after the marriage Mr. and Mrs. Ricks went to the Norfolk Southern depot, where they boarded the train for Morehead City. The groom has accepted a position in that town and he and his bride will make that town their future home. The bride is a daughter of County Commissioner S. F. Freeman and a young lady possessing many attractive traits. She is popular among her friends and is a prize well worth striving for. Her friends are legion. The groom is the youngest son of Sheriff George E. Ricks, energetic and popular. The Daily News wishes these two young lives every happiness.

MISS ELEANOR BERRY AT HOME LAST EVENING

One of the most popular social functions of the season was given last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd J. C., and Miss Mary Carrow, of Wilson, N. C. The home of the sweet little hostess was attractively decorated in red and yellow. Fruit punch was first served by Miss Eliza Branch. After the many guests had been treated to this delightful beverage Progressive Conversation was made the feature and all present entered into this interesting contest with spirit. After this cream and cake was served by sweet little Misses Lenora Blount, Athalia Taylor, Marjorie Hoyt, and Dorothy Blount. WILL WIN LEGION OF FRIENDS

Is Not to Play a Part in Democratic Campaign, Declares Publicity Chairman.

New York, Aug. 8.—Josephus Daniels, Chairman of the Publicity Committee of the Democratic National Committee said today:

"Eight years ago during the presidential campaign of 1904 I came to New York and being a member of the Democratic National Committee, I dropped in at the headquarters of the committee. I found the literary bureau of the committee very actively engaged in perusing the volumes of Theodore Roosevelt. When I saw on every desk 'The Winning of the West,' 'The Life of Thomas H. Benton,' and a half dozen others of the works of the then republican nominee for President, I wondered whether or not I had gotten into the right place. I was immediately set aright, however, when I was informed that the literary young men were engaged in culling from those books some of the many denunciations and bitter criticisms and attacks made by Theodore Roosevelt upon public men and measures, and his aspersions upon great representative bodies of our people, such as workmen and farmers. I found them preparing to send forth broadcast all over the land such excerpts from the writings of Theodore Roosevelt as:

"Cowboys are much better fellows and pleasanter companions than small farmers or agricultural workers; nor are the mechanics and workmen of a great city to be mentioned in the same breath."

"Mr. Bryan and his adherents have appealed to the basest set in the land,—the farmers."

"They (workmen who object to government by injunction) are not in sympathy with men of good minds and sound civic morality."

"They quoted from what he said about the Quakers, that those who would not fight were traitors to their country."

"They said that when the farmers and workmen and the Quakers came to know what Theodore Roosevelt had written about them they would rise up with wrath and indignation and bury Theodore Roosevelt beneath an avalanche of votes. They said that Roosevelt would not answer that exposure of his views, and, of course, he never did. I agreed with them that it was the proper thing to do to herd these utterances through the country."

"As to whether or not that sort of campaigning had any effect, the result of the campaign eight years ago speaks for itself."

"The republican party is attempting to do to-day the same sort of thing that the democrats tried in 1908. The democrats out-Rodenberg Mr. Rodenberg. They were eight years ahead of him in this sort of thing. It didn't work with us then and it will not work with them now."

Stands on Record. "The attempt to attack Gov. Wilson because of certain statements which he made in writing history and in commenting upon events of history as they appeared to him as historian, will fall signally. As one great metropolitan newspaper pointed out, Mr. Rodenberg and his kind are simply 'blowing against the wind.' Governor Wilson is running for President on his record as a public man, and with that record the public is fairly well conversant, and it will continue to learn more as the campaign progresses."

"He is running for President on his record as governor of New Jersey, what he said and did in that capacity rather than what he wrote as a historian, chronicling events and commenting upon them as they appeared to an impartial observer whose duty it is to write of things as they are rather than as they should be or as he would have them."

"Our republican brethren are entitled to all the thunder they can make out of Governor Wilson's writings. I hope they will read them carefully and thoroughly. They will be able to gain a great deal of valuable information and when the context is read along with the excerpts which have been taken from his works for the purpose of placing him in a false light, I have no fear as to the result. All that is needed is a thorough understanding."

"Ingersoll sought to disprove Bible truths and to assail Holy Writ by the same methods which the republicans are seeking to assail Gov. Wilson."

SENATOR GORE, OF OKLAHOMA:

"The closing sentence of his speech will become the battle hymn of democracy in the pending campaign: 'I thank God and take courage.' It is at once a poem of praise and is a summons to patriotic duty."
