LABOR DAY!

Jewish Feast of Tabernacles Is Now Being Celebrated

According to the Jewish ritual, the year which began on September 12 is the 5,673d since the creation of the world. Rosh Hashanah, the first day of the new year, marks the beginning of a long list of Jewish fast and feast days and calendars have already been prepared and circulated among the Jewish people to show on which of the English dates the principal religious holidays will fall during the coming year.

Of particular interest is the number and character of the great fast and feast days that fall within the next few weeks. Rosh Hashanah, the new year, has already come and gone. The holiest day in the calendar is on today, September 21, which is Yom Kippur, the Holy Day, the Day of Atonement, when all Jews are commanded to fast the entire day with prayers and devotions for atonement. This is the day on which all orthodox Jews attempt propitiation and atonement for the sins of the past year. The fast is of great antiquity and is oftentimes referred to in Leviticus and Numbers. It is considered the culmination of the Jewish explanatory ceremonial and the ideal expression of Israel's religion.

The Harvest Feast. Following Yom Kippur comes the Feast of the Tabernacles which falls on Thursday, September 26, which as the name implies, is the harvest feast and was said to be the greatest of the Hebrew feasts in Hebrew times. Many references appear to it in Exodus, Deuteronomy, Ezekiel, Leviticus and Numbers. It is termed the feast of Ingathering and the Feast of the Booths, and last eight days, the eighth day having a ritual of its own with the name of Shmini Atzereth. The days in to celebrate the gathering of a baccanalian character. It has never lost its joyful character, even though few of the ceremonies practiced in the prophetic days are now observed.

The year 1813 of the Christian calendar is the 5,673d of the Jewish calendar with the difference that the first begins on January 1, while the second begins on September 12.

The principal fact about the year 5,673 is that it is a Leap Year, of thirteen months, 348 days, 55 Sabbaths. In this year there is an extra month; that of 28 Adair, a month of twenty-eight days. According to the Jewish ritual, it is the eleventh year of the 29th lunar cycle of 19 years, and the nineteenth year of the 263d solar cycle of 28 years since the creation. The month of 2d Adair is interspersed periodically in the year to maintain the relation of the Jewish months, which are strictly lunar, to the solar year.

After the feast and fast days of the first month in the Jewish calendar there are few days of extraordinary moment until the Festival of Purim on March 23 of next year, preceded by the Feast of Esther, three weeks earlier. The day of days, however, is the Passover, which falls on the 15th day of Nisan, or April 22. Pentecost, or the Feast of Weeks, comes seven weeks after the Passover, on June 11.

Below is published the records made by the members of the Washington Gun Club so far this season. Mr. A. M. Dumay holds the highest average. SETH K. CORDON DIES AT GORE, OKLAHOMA

News was received here this morning announcing the death of Mr. Seth K. Cordon at his home in Gore, Oklahoma, on September 15, of heart failure.

He was a Washington boy who has "made good" in his adopted home. The sympathy of the entire city goes out to his aged mother, Mrs. A. E. Cordon, in her grief.

The following account is clipped from the Sallisaw Daily News, which will be read with interest as well as regret:

Seth K. Cordon died at his home in Gore last Sunday morning, September 15th, at 2 o'clock, a. m., of heart failure.

How strange it sounds to our ears. Only a few short days ago he was so full of life, hope and honor, and now he is dead.

Will we ever forget him? Will the sun and stars cease to shine? The deceased was born at Washington, North Carolina, May 4, 1868, and came to Gore, seven years ago, where he taught school for a while, and met Miss Mattie Hair, who was one of his pupils. Two years later they were married and to this union two children were born, Fannie, age 13, and Mamie, age 11.

He was a member of the Episcopal church, having united with that organization at his old home, Washington, N. C., and was a member of the W. O. W., the M. W. A., the I. O. O. F., and the Y. M. C. A.

Since the organization of our state government, he had been a leader in state affairs and had held several positions of trust, always discharging his duties with much credit to all interested.

It can truly be said of this good man that to know him well was to love him and to know him better was to love him more. One of his most admirable characteristics was his ever readiness to approve the right and condemn that which he knew to be wrong, without any thought of consequence and if he had enemies those of us who know his true character love him better for having made them.

The cloud still hovers low over the little town of Gore, for practically every citizen, man, woman and child, in the town and community knew and admired him. What better can be said of a man than that he had the unanimous good will of the people of his home?

Deceased leaves a wife and two children, of Gore, a brother and mother of Washington, N. C., and a brother of Clayton, N. C., and a very great number of friends in his adopted state.

SCHOOL PROMISING. The first week of the Washington Public Schools shows a decided advantage of that of last year. The prospects for the coming session are more than bright.

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR HERE. Judge E. B. Cline, of Hickory, N. C., arrived in the city this afternoon, and is registered at Hotel Louise. His many friends in Washington are glad to see him.

NEWS FORECAST COMING WEEK ONE OF INTEREST

Washington, D. C., Sept. 21.—New York Republicans will gather at Saratoga Wednesday to select candidates for governor and other State officers to be voted for in November. Leading aspirants for the gubernatorial nomination are former Speaker James Wadsworth, Jr., former Congressman William S. Bennett and Job E. Hedges, of New York City.

In the general primary in New Jersey on Tuesday the voters of the two old parties will nominate candidates for all offices, from United States senator down to town constable. The third party men will have no standing in the primary, but will be obliged to nominate by petition.

United States Senator Frank O. Briggs is opposed for another term on the Republican side. Several are engaged in a spirited contest for the Democratic indorsement. The election of State senators is attracting attention, since upon the new State senate will depend the choice of a Republican or Democratic governor to fill out the unexpired year of Governor Wilson's term in the event of his election to the presidency.

Republicans and Democrats of Massachusetts will name complete State tickets in the primaries Tuesday. The Progressives, as a party, will take no part in the primaries; Governor Foss is a candidate for re-nomination on the Democratic ticket and is opposed by District Attorney Pelletier of Boston. Joseph Walker, former speaker of the State assembly, and Everett C. Benton, a business man of the town of Belmont, are contesting for the Republican nomination for governor. The legislature, for which nominations will be made, will have the choosing of a United States senator to succeed Senator Crane.

The several political parties in California will meet in State convention Tuesday to draft platforms and choose their states of presidential electors. Michigan Republicans will meet in Detroit to choose candidates for all State offices excepting the governorship.

President Taft's public engagements for the week call for his attendance in Washington for the opening of the International Congress on Hygiene and Demography. Later in the week he is expected to be present in Boston at the banquet in connection with the International Congress of Chambers of Commerce.

Colonel Roosevelt will carry his speech-making tour through the South, covering the territory from Missouri and Arkansas to the eastern coast. Governor Wilson will return home Tuesday to cast his vote in the New Jersey primaries. The remainder of the week he will devote to a trip into the New England States.
