LONDON ELECTS NEW LORD MAYOR FOR ONE YEAR TERM

Election Held According to Tradition and Precedents—Interest of the Day Was Centered in Guild Hall

London, Sept. 28.—In a manner both dignified and picturesque, and closely in accord with ancient traditions and precedents, Sir David Burnett, senior member of the Board of Aldermen, was today elected Lord Mayor of London for the term of one year, beginning with November 9. For Londoners this annually repeated custom has never varying ceremony has lost much of the charm of novelty; some of the younger folk are even inclined to poke fun at it in a mild and inoffensive way; but to strangers visiting London the ceremonies accompanying the election of a new Lord Mayor are invariably interesting and even fascinating. Among the throngs in the vicinity of Guild Hall during the election ceremonies were many Americans.

The interest of the day had its center in the Guild Hall, where the election took place. Outside the historic building a barrier had been erected, with a score or more of gates, inscribed with the names of the various guilds or "City Companies." In accordance with an ancient custom sweet herbs were strewn outside the gates, "to preserve the civic dignitaries from the fumes of the crowd."

The members of the city companies assembled at the Church of Old Jewry, where they attended the customary services preceding the election. From the church they walked in stately procession to the adjoining Guild Hall. After they were assembled in the big hall of the building, the town clerk solemnly announced that only the "liverymen," or members of the city companies were permitted to remain, while all others must withdraw on pain of imprisonment. Even the retiring Lord Mayor and his colleagues of the Board of Aldermen were thus excluded from the privacy of the momentous gathering.

Then the common sergeant from the hustings of Guild Hall read the names of the two candidates available for election, Sir David Burnett and Sir T. Vansittart Bowater. The name of the senior alderman, Sir David Burnett, was received with cries of acclamation from the liverymen, while the name of the other candidate was greeted with cries of "Next Year." This really settled the matter, but in accordance with the prescribed rules a show of hands was taken and the common sergeant declares that the choice of the liverymen had fallen on Sir David Burnett.

MRS. W. H. WILLIAMS HAS DONATED A SET OF BOOKS TO SCHOOL

On Wednesday morning of this week it was a great pleasure to have Bishop Henderson, Hon. Jno. H. Small, Rev. J. H. Warren and other gentlemen present at the opening exercises. Bishop Henderson made a most excellent talk. In his talk Mr. Small made some remarks relative to equipping the play ground of the public school with suitable apparatus for all the children to use at recesses for exercise and pleasure. Before he got through he had secured for us $50 towards purchasing the necessary equipment, $25 of which was contributed by himself and $25 by Capt. Geo. T. Leach. Since that date Mr. G. A. Phillips has also contributed $25 to this cause. Without doubt other citizens of Washington will be glad to make contributions to this most necessary and helpful cause.

Mrs. W. H. Williams, formerly Miss Lillian Bonner, who now resides in this city, has donated to the school a splendid set of books "The South in the Building of the Nation" comprising eight large volumes, in all more than 4,000 pages of useful reading matter. The books are nicely bound and well illustrated. She gave the books to the school with the request that they be held by the school as a memorial to her father, the late Capt. M. H. Bonner. The School Board by formal action yesterday gratefully accepted this donation and directed the secretary to formally thank Mrs. Williams for her magnificent gift. It will be a most valuable set of books for the future use of the student body in the school.

FOUR EXPELLED FROM STATE UNIVERSITY ON ACCOUNT HAZING

The following appeared in the Raleigh News & Observer today: Chapel Hill, Sept. 27.—The faculty investigation into the condition of hazing at the University of North Carolina for the past college year, as well as during this session, reached a dramatic stage today when it was learned that four students had been permanently expelled and twelve had been suspended for a year from attending the institution. The probing into the conditions of hazing had been carried on in secret session by the entire faculty of the college for several days and rigid examinations into reported hazing episodes last session were pursued to the limit, yet it was not definitely known until today that students were to be expelled for hazing or aiding or abetting in the practice at any time during last session.

However, the whole matter was aired and especially was the incident of shooting into the room of four freshmen adjoining Pickard's hotel subjected to rigid examination, and as a result seven of last year's sophomore class were sent home on the charge of either participating in or witnessing the shooting up of the college at the sophomore banquet held last February.

Those Who Looked On.—The expulsion of the other eight as a result of the faculty investigation came as a consequence of securing evidence today that they either were on the athletic field when "Billy" Rand lost his life or they witnessed the hazing and refused to lend a helping hand or make any attempt to suppress the hazing. Dr. Venable gave as his reason for the expulsion of the latter class of students that in lending their presence they were aiding and abetting in the cause.

The students that received their permanent expulsion are: A. K. Blakemey, of Cheraw, S. C.; D. L. McWhorter, of Rocky Mount; J. L. Horton, of Farmville; and H. A. Martin, of Onheville. None of these were implicated in the Rand hazing. The four who based Rand will be dealt with by the board of trustees.

The list is composed of three juniors and one sophomore. The students suspended from college for a year are: J. P. Burke, of Bessemer City; E. G. Kelley, of Clarkton; R.

B. McKnight, of Charlotte; I. R. Strayhorn, of Durham; J. G. Tyson, of Goldsboro; J. G. Dickson, of Raeford; L. A. Harper, of Greenville; J. B. Hughes, of Black Mountain; T. Y. Koehler, of Charlotte; W. W. Thomas of Charlotte; and A. R. Parshley, of Hertford.

May Be Lenient.—The list is composed of five juniors, six sophomores, and one ministerial student. It is understood that in the cases of some of these names, some members of the faculty committee have recommended leniency. It is possible that the action taken today will not be final in some cases.

When interviewed today, President Venable made it unmistakably clear that the investigation of hazing would be unflinchingly pursued as long as a single clue could be obtained. In the light of this statement, it is expected that the examination will be carried on tomorrow and further expulsions from the University are expected.

Junior's Protest.—Feeling that a grievous wrong had been committed against them as a class in such a wholesale expulsion of their members for being onlookers and participants in last session's hazing, the junior class had a called meeting today to take steps for investigating the expulsion of members of the class. A committee of five was appointed to examine into the matter. The student sentiment as expressed in this meeting was that members of the class should not be subject to discipline for last session's conduct, but should have received their punishment at the time of commitment of the act. This charge is made against Dr. Venable.

MISSOURI STATE FAIR OPENS.

Sedalia, Mo., Sept. 28.—The enormous fruit crop which Missouri is gathering this year is illustrated as one of the most striking features of the annual State Fair, which had its formal opening here today. The horticultural and agricultural exhibits are the best on record. The Ozarks, the home of the "big red apple," have for competitors the orchards of northern, eastern and western Missouri. The display of horses and live stock is also above the average.

COMING WEEK FORECAST NEWS IS INTERESTING

Democratic State Convention in New York Among the Items of Interest—Labor Trial for Law Violators is Anticipated

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—Interesting developments are expected when the subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections reassembles in Washington on Monday to resume its work. Colonel Roosevelt has announced his intention to appear before the committee on Tuesday to tell what he knows of the contributions of big corporations to the Republican campaign fund in 1908. Other important witnesses who have been summoned to testify are J. P. Morgan, George W. Perkins, Henry C. Frick, George B. Cortelyou, William Rockefeller, William R. Hearst, former Senator Charles Dick of Ohio and former Senator Nathan B. Scott of West Virginia.

Looming big among the political events of the week will be the Democratic State convention of New York, which will meet in Saratoga to name candidates for government and other State officers to be voted for in November.

Governor Woodrow Wilson is scheduled to address the Good Roads Congress in Atlantic City on Monday and the next day he will start on his second campaign tour of the west. He will speak before the National Conservation Congress in Indianapolis and later will be heard in St. Louis and Omaha. Saturday night will find him in Lincoln, Neb., where he will remain over Sunday as the guest of William J. Bryan.

Organized labor everywhere will follow with interest the trial of Jos. J. Etter and Arturo Giovannitti, members of the Industrial Workers of the World, who are to appear in Lawrence, Mass., on Monday to answer to a charge of murder. The charge grows out of the killing of a woman in the street riots during the textile strike in Lawrence last spring.

Also of interest in labor and industrial circles will be the trial of fifty-four leaders or others affiliated in less degree with organized labor for alleged violation of the law relative to the interstate transportation of dynamite. The trials are scheduled to begin Tuesday in the Federal court at Indianapolis. The cases are an outgrowth of the Orrie McManigal confession which brought about the arrest and conviction of the McNamara brothers for the Los Angeles Times explosion.

Important conventions of the week will include the first annual American Good Roads Congress at Atlantic City, the triennial meeting of the National Association for the Study of Pellagra, at Columbia, S. C.; the twentieth annual meeting of the National Irrigation Congress, at Salt Lake City; the National Conservation Congress at Indianapolis; the annual conference of the Railroad Y. M. C. ### REPUBLICANS OF NEW YORK MAKE CHOICE

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 27.—Job E. Hedges was nominated Republican candidate for Governor of New York yesterday. Three ballots were taken. Hedges led from the first and when the third ballot showed him steadily gaining strength the delegates looked to him so fast that the tally clerk could not keep the record.

Before the vote could be announced the motion to make the nomination unanimous was put and carried with enthusiasm.

James W. Wadsworth, Jr., the young former Speaker of the Assembly, gave Hedges the hardest fight for the nomination, and former Representative William S. Bennett was third.

The platform having been adopted yesterday, the way was cleared for nominations for Governor. In quick succession speeches were made presenting the names and merits of former Speaker of the Assembly James W. Wadsworth, Jr.; Job E. Hedges and former Representative William S. Bennett, of New York; William H. Daniels, of Buffalo; P. W. Cullinan, of Oswego, former State excise commissioner, and Edgar T. Brackett, of Saratoga, former State Senator.

As the balloting proceeded scattered votes were cast for State Senator Harvey S. Hinson, of Binghamton, and Igbert Woodbury, of Jamestown. Jas. W. Wadsworth, Jr., was nominated for lieutenant governor without opposition.
