CHURCHES TO DENOUNCE THE CURE FRAUDS

NATIONAL CRUSADE ON TUBERCULOSIS DAY AGAINST REMEDIES FOR CONSUMPTION.

From thousands of pulpits in all parts of the United States, fake cures for consumption will be exposed and denounced on Tuberculosis Day, October 17th. This is part of the program for the movement announced today by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

Literature giving information on fraudulent and alleged "cures" for consumption will be sent to clergymen all over the country, and an organized crusade against the traffic in these drugs and devices will be instituted. The literature will be sent to ministers either directly from the National Association office in New York or through the many states and local anti-tuberculosis associations scattered throughout the country. It is estimated that over 100,000 clergymen will be reached in this way.

From actual records on file in the office of The National Association, it is estimated that the volume of business done annually by the various concerns who sell fake remedies for tuberculosis amounts to well over $15,000,000. The number of these remedies now being used as so-called "cures" is over 500.

Three classes of "cures" are distinguished by the National Association. In the first class are included hundreds of devices and drugs which can be bought for any sum ranging from ten cents to five dollars at a drug store. The second class of "cures" includes the "institutes," "professors," or companies of "doctors" who for a consideration guarantee to cure consumption by some method of which they are the sole proprietors. There are nearly one hundred and fifty of these institutes in the United States, cheating the people out of millions of dollars annually.

In the third class of "cures" are placed a number of home-made remedies, which either through ignorance or superstition have been advanced as treatments for tuberculosis. Some of these are onions, lemons, rattlesnake poison, coal dust, lime dust, pigs' blood, dog oil, milk "strippings," and even alcohol. A strip of these remedies will cure consumption, declares The National Association. No drug, gas or other material has yet been discovered, which, when eaten, inhaled or injected into the system, will kill the germs of tuberculosis without doing serious injury to the body. The only real cure for tuberculosis recognized by the National Association consists of the combination of fresh air, good food, and rest taken under the direction of a competent physician.

PROUD FATHER.

Mr. Hardy Moore, of Chapcowinity, N. C., one of the county's most industrious and enterprising citizens is today the happy father of a promising boy notwithstanding his age, 55. So joyous was the father that when the arrival of his son was announced he said nothing, but wended his way to the wood pile and for the first time in many years, proceeded to wield the axe for at least an hour. The result was that no more wood will have to be cut on the plantation for the next several weeks. Mr. Moore is now the recipient of many congratulations.

SCHOONER IN PORT.

The schooner Cecil, Captain J. H. Howerin in command, arrived in port yesterday from Lowlands, N. C., loaded with cotton. The schooner will load with a cargo of general merchandise.

JIM CORBETT DYING AFTER OPERATION

PHILADELPHIA DOCTORS TRIED TO SAVE HIM, BUT APPENDIX WAS RUPTURED.

Philadelphia, Oct. 3.—James J. Corbett, former champion pugilist of the world, is dying here today at the Jefferson Hospital, following an operation performed as a last resort. There is absolutely no hope, the surgeons say, and his death is only a question of hours.

Corbett was billed here this week to appear at the Peoples Theatre, and his company came with him on Sunday. He was not feeling well last night, and after the performance he complained of severe pains in the right side. His condition grew worse toward morning, and this afternoon the noted actor-pugilist finally consented to have a physician. It was found that he had been suffering from acute appendicitis and his condition was seen to be critical.

Blood poison had set in because the appendix had broken and it was feared that he would die before he could be hurried to the operating table and placed under an anesthetic. News of his condition was withheld in the hope that the diagnosis might be wrong and that after he had been operated on it would be found that he still had a fighting chance.

Corbett stood the other well, but the rupture had done its work. When the surgeons made the incision, it was found that not only had the appendix ruptured but that part of the wall of the intestines had been torn so severely that there was no chance for the surgeons to repair the lacerated peritoneum.

They have sewed up a portion of it as best they can in the hope that the dying hours of the fighter will be as comfortable as possible.

HOWE SHOWS DELIGHT ALL WHO ATTEND

The Howe Great London Shows have gone, but today nothing but the highest praise is heard both as to the performance both day and night and the deportment of everyone connected with the shows.

The Daily News especially desires to express thanks to the clever and efficient press representative for the many courtesies shown not only the editor, but the entire staff and force. Mr. Mitchell first came to Washington with the Cole Brys circus, about three years ago, and was pleasantly remembered and his many friends were glad to see him here again. He is a native of Ottawa, Canada, and has been in the show business for 11 years. This paper doubts if a press representative of any traveling show knows more people, as he has traveled from the Atlantic to the Pacific. As stated in yesterday's edition, Mr. Mitchell knows the show business from first to last. He neglects not even the smallest detail. It was a pleasure to have him as a visitor yesterday and his many friends wish him a speedy return. The Howe Shows have in him a most worthy and efficient representative. The performance last night was pronounced the very best seen here in years. The large audience thoroughly enjoyed it from start to finish. The Daily News takes pleasure in commending it to other towns in North Carolina. It is clean and wholesome throughout.

HUNGARIAN REP. CLUBS SHIFT TO GOV. WILSON

HAVE BEEN SUPPORTERS OF THE BIG STICK APOSTLE—ALL ARE NOW FOR SCHOOLMASTER.

New York, Oct. 3.—Three of the largest Hungarian Republican Clubs in New York City, that have been supporting Roosevelt, decided at a meeting held at Cosmopolitan Hall, 2354 First avenue, to change their clubs into organizations to support Governor Wilson.

Paul Belita, President of three associations, was chairman of the meeting. Dr. A. Kosma, representative of the Roosevelt party, was the first speaker. He said that they had decided to support Governor Wilson.

D. Rostassy, member of the Roosevelt Hungarian Political Club, declared that after four weeks' careful consideration they had decided that Governor Wilson was the proper man for them to support.

Adelbert Ferenyi, prominent among Hungarians and for the past ten years a Republican, explained why he had turned Democrat.

"We Hungarians followed the Republican party blindly all these many years, and did not know that we were against our own interest by so doing. Eighty-five per cent. of the Hungarians in America are working in cities and towns where the municipal and state government is controlled by the Democratic party. It is high time that we should wake up and take notice that the only party which can do us good is the Democratic party. Every Hungarian-American should, therefore, not only vote for the Democratic nominee for President, but also for all those who were nominated on the Democratic ticket."

Dr. Kosma in reply to this expressed his belief that the Hungarians will be faithful, as they ever were, to the Republican party. D. Rostassy, Charles Kusner and Coleman Fields were for the Democratic party and pleaded that the Clubs should change their charters to that effect. D. Rostassy then requested that all those who are not members of the club should leave the hall, so that voting should take place.

The meeting resolved by the vote of a majority that the three Republican clubs should be made into one large National Democratic club and support Wilson and the Democratic ticket. A committee of five has been appointed with full power of attorney to take the matter up with the National Democratic headquarters, and report results to a meeting to be held Thursday, October 3rd.

THREE COUPLES MARRIED BY REV. R. H. BROOM

Rev. R. H. Broom, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiated at three marriages this week.

On the morning of October 1 Mr. Thomas R. Edmundson and Miss Myrtle E. Sawyer, both of Belhaven, N. C., were united in marriage at the Methodist parsonage at 10:30 o'clock in the presence of a few friends.

On the same evening, October 1, at 8:30 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. Arthur Williams, near this city, Mr. Ossie B. West, of Elizabeth City, and Miss Pattie E. Edmundson, of Bath, N. C., were joined together by Pastor Broom. Mrs. Edmundson is a sister of Mrs. Williams and also a sister of Mr. Thomas R. Edmundson, who was united in marriage to Miss Sawyer.

On yesterday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock at the residence of Capt. A. W. Styron, at the corner of Main and Bonner streets, Rev. R. H. Broom united in holy wedlock Mr. Edwin R. Tripp, of Blount's Creek, and Miss Lela V. Styron, of Aurora, N. C. The bride is a niece of Capt. A. W. Styron and a daughter of the late Mr. David Styron.

The Daily News extends congratulations and best wishes.

DAUGHTER ILL.

Anna Phillips, the sweet and interesting six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fanner T. Phillips, is quite ill with fever at her home on West Third street. Her many playmates and friends wish for her a speedy recovery.

BATTLING WITH CANCER

Prof. A. von Wasserman, the great German physician, is making remarkable progress in his study of cancer. His experiments have met with pronounced success and it is confidently hoped by the medical profession that they will result in the discovery of a cure for this dread disease.

Dr. A. K. Tayloe to Address Military Surgeons at Baltimore

Dr. A. K. Tayloe has been invited and accepted an invitation to deliver an address in the City of Baltimore on Friday night of this week before the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States.

The doctor's subject will be: "Compound Fractures." This is the largest surgical society in the world today and the fact that one of Beaufort county's gifted and efficient surgeons in the person of Dr. Tayloe has been invited to deliver an address before a body of such distinguished surgeons is indeed a most signal honor. That he will prove equal to the occasion goes without saying. Dr. Tayloe for his age is without a peer in the Old North State as an orator. Since his graduation in medicine and surgery he has forged rapidly to the front in his profession and today occupies an enviable place among his professional brethren.

Showing the worth and merit of Dr. Tayloe he is now considering an offer just recently tendered him in one of the largest hospitals in the United States. There will be noted surgeons present not only from every part of the United States, but Europe. It is quite an honor for our young and distinguished former townsman. Representatives from all nations are expected to take part in the program. It is more than gratifying to the many friends of Dr. Tayloe to learn of his rapid rise in his profession as a surgeon.

WIFE SLAYER TO HANG.

Montreal, Oct. 3.—Apparently reconciled to his fate, though with little left of the iron nerve that he displayed throughout his trial, John Cummings, the wife slayer, is awaiting the dawn of tomorrow, when he will mount the scaffold in the Montreal jail to pay the full penalty of the law. The crime for which he is to be executed was committed on November 21 last. Early in the evening of that day Cummings approached his wife, with whom he had not been living for some time, as she was walking in the street with a young man, and fired two shots, killing her almost instantly. The evidence showed that Cummings had been drinking on the day of the murder, and that he had previously made threats against his wife.

TO VISIT RELATIVES.

Mrs. Lucy Archbell and daughter, Miss Sophia, left this morning for Pantego, N. C., where they expect to visit relatives and friends.

MR. WALLING BETTER.

Reports from the bedside of Mr. W. B. Walling are that his condition is somewhat more favorable today. Mr. Walling is one of Washington's highly esteemed citizens and the news of his indisposition carries with it genuine regret. All wish him a speedy and rapid recovery.

Mr. C. M. Cobb, of Tarboro, N. C., is here today on business.

COUNTRY CORRESPONDENTS GUESTS OF DAILY NEWS

It was a pleasure for the Daily News to entertain its numerous country correspondents on yesterday. This paper was their host and afforded them an opportunity to witness the circus. They all seemed to enjoy the day immensely and the management was more than gratified in being able to assist in their pleasure, if but for a day. The Daily News country correspondents are a valuable adjunct to the paper's success and it always affords the management pleasure to extend them courtesy at any time. It is to be hoped another opportunity will be given to show our appreciation within the near future.

PRESIDENT TAFT TO TAKE PART.

Salem, Mass., Oct. 3.—President Taft has promised to come to Salem tomorrow to attend the dedication of a memorial tablet in honor of the officers and men of the First Regiment, Heavy Artillery, M. V. M., who died in defense of the Union. The total losses of this regiment in battle were exceeded by only fourteen of the 3,000 or more regiments in the war. The memorial tablet is of bronze and was designed by Bela Pratt, the Boston sculptor.

Mr. H. B. Hardy, of the Raleigh News and Observer, was a Washington visitor last evening.

Newsy News as Told To the News Readers Of Newswy Points

JAKEVILLE ATOMS.

This candid-date dislikes to waste yards of good newspaper space and tons of axle grease telling the people that good government and prosperity is hinged to his coat tails, and his only; but this is what the other fellows are doing, and since he is in the game, he's got to play according to the rules or else he ain't in it. So here goes another speech.

Felle. Citizens: In a recent speech, Woodrow Wilson said: "If you will let everybody know that nobody can depend on your vote, but that you will vote as you think best, and you may vote one way one time and another another time, then the politics of this country will soon wear a different aspect."

This is a big thought, spoken by a big man, and it makes me feel big to speak it after him; and I very much regret to know, my dear friends, that it is a thought entirely too big to fit into your own 22 calibre thought receptacles. And I am not going to try to drive it home, for there is no home in this crowd to drive it to. Should I try to drive this truth into any of you fellows, it would be a truth without a country; would be a wandering Jew, a vagabond, an outcast, till it got back to Woodrow Wilson again.

No, sir, ladies and gentlemen and fellow citizens, may my tongue cleave to the second story of my mouth, aye may I cackle like a lion and roar like a hen if ever I am so foolish as to waste good mellow political breath on a perverse and obstreperous people who have not ears to hear nor eyes to behold.

It is the custom of many polled orators who have no big thoughts of their own to quote from some of the old masters; so here goes a passage from Shakespeare, which runs as follows: "Lay on, Macduff; and much kuseable is him that holds more than enough."

Now, in conclusion, my d-e-a-r friends, I want to thank you for your attention and bewail the time I have lost in talking to you. I know I had as well been trying to pour a bushel of potatoes into a tomato can as talking to you on this subject, but you see I am a candid-date, and have got to echo the sentiments of the men higher up.
