Fair Tonight and Tomorrow

GREAT STATE FAIR AT RALEIGH NEXT WEEK

The Exhibition This Year Promises to Surpass all Former Ones Both as to Exhibits and Attendance.

Fair week at Raleigh, the occasion which annually draws the big goat crowds in North Carolina, will be October 14-19 this year, and the news from the office of the great state fair is that everything points to the most satisfactory fair in all respects in the fifty-two years' history of this beloved institution.

Entries are pouring in to compete for the increased premiums on farm products, fruit, and live stock and the unusually long list of special prizes in other departments. No less than $250 is offered on tobacco alone. The great premiums are still on the contests in corn, cotton, tomatoes, county and individual agricultural exhibits, and the fair has been designated to furnish exhibits to the national corn exposition.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction J. F. Joyner, and co-workers have made special efforts to make the educational exhibits representative of the state's tremendous strides in public school work.

A feature exhibit will be models of road machinery sent from the United States Department of Agriculture.

The new poultry building, 50 by 150 feet, has just been equipped with modern steel-wire coops, and competition has been thrown open to the world. Entries are coming thick and fast.

The capacity of the grandstand has been increased approximately 50 per cent by the building of seats from its front almost to the race track fence. An arcade has been constructed running under the tier of seats.

A running event is on the race program for the first time in several years.

In the list of free attractions are balloon races, man making double parachute drop from one balloon, and woman single parachute drop from another; New York hippodrome races on the track, with four-horse Roman chariots, teams of from two to six horses with riders standing bareback, guideless horses racing by themselves, relay races and ladies' and gentlemen's running race; James E. Hardy, king of high wire walkers, who out-blinded Blondin at Niagara Falls; the flying Gilmor troupe, two women and three men leaping, vaulting and double somersaulting from bar to bar at dizzy heights; novelty trick pantomime, two eccentric clowns and comedy woman in tumbling, hand balancing and frolic of all kinds, illusion of cutting off heads; man and woman in fancy riding with bicycle, unicycle and breakaway, man riding down a long, steep ladder, blindfolded, on a unicycle. The Third Regiment band will dispense music.

The grounds will be open Wednesday and Thursday nights, October 16 and 17. The midway will be a glorious blaze of brilliant lights, and big electric lamps will illuminate the field in front of the grandstand for the free acts. The admission at night will be 25 cents.

The midway will be clean, marvelous and up-to-date. One of the big shows will be Bill Miller's wild west aggregation, with like-life reproductions of exciting scenes of the golden west of old.

The state fair hall will take place Friday night, October 18, in Raleigh's new auditorium.

For any information persons may address Jos. E. Pogue, secretary, Raleigh, N. C.

First Practical Demonstration In Middle West

St. Louis, Oct. 9.—A sham battle between a Wright hydroaeroplane, piloted by Aviator Kabitzke, instructor of United States army officers, and the Isla de Luzon, a former Spanish gunboat captured by Uncle Sam in the Spanish-American war and now used as the gunboat of the Missouri Naval Reserves, is announced by Robert E. Nolker, President of Aero Club of St. Louis, as one of the features of the aviation next Wednesday and Thursday (October 9 and 10) over the Mississippi River, in connection with the St. Louis Fall Festivities of October 7 to 12, inclusive.

Bombs will be dropped from the hydroaeroplane at various altitudes, ranging upward from 1,000 feet, and the gunners on the Isla de Luzon will respond by aiming at the enemy in the air and firing blank shells. This will be the first practical demonstration in the middle west of the effectiveness of aircraft in warfare.

The arrangements for the sham battle were made jointly by Albert Bond Lambert, chairman of the committee on arrangements of the Aero Club, of St. Louis, and Commander W. F. Roberts, of the Isla de Luzon.

The battle will be fought at the noon hour, for the convenience of many thousands of St. Louisans who otherwise could not view it. The battle may be watched from Eads Bridge and from the levees on both sides of the river, as well as from the roofs of some of the St. Louis skyscrapers. There will be no seats, but standing room for a half million persons.

Fancy fights over and under the Eads, Merchants and Free bridges will be made morning, noon and afternoon of Wednesday and Thursday, according to the Aero Club officials.

Mayor Kreisemann has donated the use of the Harbor Boat Erastus Wells for the accommodation of local and visiting newspaper men and members of the Aero Club. Badges of admission to the boat are being issued by William A. Brady, secretary and treasurer of the Aero Club.

The other free attractions of the St. Louis Fall Festivities will include the thirty-fifth annual pageant of the Velled Prophet, Tuesday night, October 8, with its 21 magnificent floats and 16 bands of music. This pageant, with the ball that is its climax, represents an expenditure of $50,000. The theme of the pageant will be "Songs, Poems and Plays." A brass band will precede each musical float and play the music suggesting the float's subject.

Columbus Day, October 12, will be celebrated at Art Hill, in Forest Park, under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus, with addresses by Governor Hadley of Missouri, Mayor Kreisemann of St. Louis, and other notables. Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, Democratic nominee for President of the United States, will deliver a political speech Wednesday night at the Coliseum, where admission will be free to all. The first showing of 1913 automobiles in America will be at Forest Park Highlands, St. Louis, October 7 to 12, inclusive.

DR. THOS. NICHOLSON TO VISIT CITY OCTOBER 23

Rev. Dr. Thomas Nicholson, secretary of the Board of Education of the M. E. Church, is expected to arrive in Washington on October 23 for the purpose of making the final arrangements for the beginning of the work of the college buildings to be erected here at Washington Park by the Methodist Episcopal Church. Dr. Nicholson will be accompanied by Rev. Dr. Edgar A. Lawther, pastor of St. Stephens Methodist Church of 123 street, New York City, one of the most prominent divines in the M. E. church and too, a native of North Carolina. Bishop Henderson in giving his approval to the proposed establishment of the college here gives Dr. Nicholson a most glowing account of his recent visit to this city. He seems to be more than enthusiastic as to the outlook here.

Mr. J. A. Gilman, of Charlottesville, Va., is here today on business.

MRS. WOODROW WILSON

Wife of the Democratic Presidential Nominee, Honorary President of the Woman's National Democratic League.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the new leader of Democracy and probable next mistress of the White House, is perhaps the most interesting woman in the United States today. This is inevitable—not because she wishes it, for she does not—and is as firm as a rock in her conviction that being the wife of a public man does not necessitate nor call for a woman's becoming a publicity seeker. She successfully resisted all appeals of photographers and interviewers until Mr. Wilson's nomination as Democratic candidate for the presidency was an fait accompli. This modesty is easily traced to her southern ancestry and training and is characteristic also of her distinguished husband.

She was born Ellen Louise Axson, daughter of a Presbyterian divine of Savannah, Ga., whose family, so far as he knows, is the only one of the name in America.

Like Mr. Wilson she has one brother and one sister living, all in the same Mercury circle as the doctor and herself.

In this atmosphere of learning Mrs. Wilson could hardly be expected to be other than an avid reader, broad-minded and charitable, devoted to her home and the principles for which it stands.

She has marked ability as an artist, and it is said that a portrait painter of ability was spoiled when she married the young barrister who had then given up the practice of his profession to specialize on the subject that has made him a presidential nominee.

Mrs. Wilson's three daughters—Misses Margaret Woodrow Wilson, Jessie Woodrow Wilson and Eleanor Randolph Wilson—possess the mental characteristics of their father and their mother's artistic temperament, combined in such a way as to give zest to every moment of their lives and protection from the foibles of the world. They form, indeed, an ideal family circle, one that it would be well for every American household to emulate.

Cozzens Meat Market Will Open Thursday

One of the handsomest markets in Eastern Carolina is to be opened here tomorrow by Mr. Edward Cozzens, opposite the Court House. Every late device for the successful handling of all kinds of meats has been installed and it would pay any of the citizens both ladies and gentlemen to pay him a call and glance over his place. The place is more than attractive in every way. One of the many attractions to be seen is his new sectional block and his nickel plated rack. These appliances are the very latest. They not only save time, but they are arranged in such a manner that customers can see everything needful for the table in the meat line. A large refrigerator, 8x10, the front of which contains large french mirrors, sits in the corner and to the rear is to be seen a cutting room and also a room for the manufacture of sausage. The floor of the entire building is concrete. Mr. Cozzens will be assisted in the market by Mr. George Portis, an old-timer at the business. This new market stall is a credit to Washington. No expense has been spared to make it compare favorably with any in this section of the State and Mr. Cozzens is to be congratulated. He has succeeded beyond the expectations of the most sanguine.

IMPERIAL TRADE CONFERENCE

London, Oct. 9.—The Imperial Trade Commission, which has now practically assumed the functions of a grand council of the British Empire for the adjustment and improvement of trade conditions, resumed its sittings today. The present inquiry is to be conducted with especial reference to the commercial relations of the mother country and other portions of the empire with Canada, which is represented at the conference by Hon. George E. Foster, minister of trade and commerce in the Borden cabinet. The inquiry is to embrace a general investigation into trade conditions, a survey of the natural resources of the Dominion, their facilities for production, manufacturing and sources of supply, and a discussion of ways and means for improving the present system of promoting immigration.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HAS INTERESTING MEETING

The Washington Chamber of Commerce held a most interesting and beneficial meeting at their rooms in the Baughman building last evening. The feature of the occasion was an address delivered by Rev. J. H. Warren on "Domestic Science." All the members present were highly entertained and instructed. It will be the pleasure of the Daily News to give this admirable address in full in tomorrow's paper. It will be worth the careful perusal of every citizen not only in the city, but throughout the country.

Colonel H. Churchill Bragaw, of Chocowinity, is a business visitor to the city today.

FIRST GAME WORLD SERIES IS WON BY BOSTON RED SOX

Opening Contest for Championship in Baseball Witnessed by 40,000 Fans. Score 4 to 3. Wood and Tesreau the Opposing Twirling Duet.

New York, Oct. 9.—The Bostonians won the first game of the world series yesterday. Forty thousand persons saw a pitchers' battle in which Joe Wood, of Boston, turned back the Giants from the plate time and again by his clever box work.

The Giants were the first to take the lead on sharp hitting by Doyle and Murray, whose hits helped in scoring two runs for the Giants in the third inning.

Tesreau, the Giants' pitcher, held the Bostonians hitless until the sixth inning, when Speakers' triple and an infield out scored the Red Sox's first run. A succession of sharp hits by Boston netted 3 runs in the seventh inning.

The Giants rallied gamely in the ninth inning, but were only able to score one run on three hits.

Second game today in Boston. The following is the official box score of the first game:

J. E. TAYLOR MADE VICE PRESIDENT OF LEAGUE

Mr. Joseph F. Taylor, of this city, one of the most progressive Democrats, not only in Beaufort County, but in North Carolina, has been recommended to be one of the vice-presidents of the National League of Business Men for Wilson and Marshall. This is an honor worthily bestowed and no better selection could have been made, as Mr. Taylor in season and out of season, has given his time and talent to the cause of Democracy for many years. The National League of Business Men are thoroughly aroused as to the importance of this campaign and the result of their untiring efforts is looked for to accomplish untold good when the ballots are counted on November next. A mammoth mass-meeting is now being planned to be held in the famous Madison Square Garden, New York City, and it is the purpose of those in charge to have the different vice-presidents of the respective States to take a prominent part. Mr. Taylor proposes at once to form a State organization from the active business men or some identified with some branch of trade or industry. The work of the league is being pushed vigorously.

Mr. Taylor as vice-president of this organization, is a most happy one. The Daily News knows of no man within the ranks of the party whose services or work entitle him more to this high and coveted honor.

There will be prayer meeting services in all the different churches of the city this evening at the usual hour to which the general public is cordially invited to be present.

Mr. Samuel Pegratt and family have moved from the H. B. Mayo residence on East Second street to the Mitchell residence on Harvey street, between Second and Third streets.

Miss Burgess has accepted a position with the firm of Pippin and Woolard as stenographer and has entered upon her duties. She has the best wishes of her many friends.

LARGE AUDIENCE SHOULD HEAR SENATOR OVERMAN

United States Senator Lee S. Overman is to address the citizens of Washington at the Court House tomorrow night at 8 o'clock and a rich treat is in store for all who are fortunate enough to hear him. Senator Overman is to discuss the political issues of the day and no man in North Carolina is better versed along this line. He is a most attractive speaker. Not only are the men of all parties invited but the ladies as well. Washington should give the distinguished junior senator a large audience.

NEW YORK'S BIG ELECTRIC SHOW.

New York, Oct. 9.—The myriad wonder of electricity were never better illustrated than in the countless exhibits at the Electrical Show, which opened today in Grand Central Palace. Foremost among the exhibits is that of the Federal government. This includes a miniature reproduction of the Gatun section of the Panama canal, showing how the great locks will be operate dry electricity when completed. Another government exhibit is the pulmotor, an electrical device adopted by the Bureau of Mines for resuscitating miners overcome by suffocation.

TO ERECT COTTAGE.

Rev. J. H. Warren returned yesterday from Morehead City, where he has been for the past two weeks. Mr. Warren now has in his possession the blue print for his proposed cottage to be erected at Washington Park. It will be located near the College buildings.

Mr. Mathew Moore, of Chocowinity, was here today.

PROSPECTS FOR DEMOCRATIC TRIUMPH NEVER BRIGHTER

(By T. P. Gore.)

I write to reassure you that the prospects of Democratic triumph were never brighter. The morale of the Democratic army was never better. A united Democracy and a divided opposition renders success doubly certain. The present situation leaves little to be wished for. The recent elections in Vermont and Maine prove that the Democrats are voting under the unit rule this year. They prove more than that. They show a substantial increase in the Democratic vote. If we poll the full party strength defeat is impossible. Nothing could possibly defeat us but over-confidence. Security is man's chiefest enemy—in politics. We must, therefore, take nothing for granted. We must perfect and maintain a thorough organization. The campaign must be vigorous, must be unrelenting till the battle's over, till the victory is won.

No single agency can contribute more to Democratic triumph than the Democratic press. No agency can do more to see that every Democrat votes and votes the Democratic ticket. We are relying upon your constant and invaluable assistance. Democracy expects every Democrat to do his duty this year.

While victory is inevitable if all Democrats do their duty, still the door of Democracy stands wide open this year. Above that door is emblazoned the word "Welcome" and that welcome is tendered to all independent voters. The spirit of our campaign is reflected in the following resolution which was unanimously adopted by the Democratic National Committee at Chicago on July 11, last:

"We congratulate the country and the Democracy upon the exceptional prospects of Democratic success in November next. We rejoice that all Democrats everywhere are united and enthusiastic in support of the platform and the nominee of the party.

"We earnestly invite all voters, without reference to previous political faith or affiliation, who are in sympathy with such platform and nominee, to unite permanently or co-operate temporarily with the Democratic party in this supreme struggle for establishment of justice and equal rights as against favoritism and privilege.

"Resolved, That we gratefully acknowledge our profound appreciation of the courageous, disinterested and patriotic course of many Republicans and independents, including a number of most distinguished leaders and editors, in declaring their intention to support the Democratic ticket in the pending Presidential contest."

I should be indebted to you if you would send me a list of liberal-minded Republicans friendly to Gov. Wilson, and if you would publish this request: That such Republicans forward a card either to myself or to Hon. Rudolph Spreckles, Chicago, Ill.

FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY.

The fortieth anniversary of the Colored M. E. Church, known in this city as the Christian Temple, is to be celebrated here on October 8th to the 20th. An elaborate and interesting program has been prepared and all the citizens of Washington are urged to attend.

CONDITION ABOUT THE SAME.

The condition of Mr. W. B. Walling is reported to be about the same today. His many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

SENATOR LEE S. OVERMAN

Will speak in the Court House Thursday night at 8 O'clock. Everybody invited, especially ladies.
