RED SOX AGAIN DEFEATS GIANTS IN FIFTH GAME OF SERIES

Fenway Park, Boston, Oct. 14.—The Boston American League champions defeated the New York Nationals by a score of 2 to 1 today in the fifth game of the world's series before a crowd of about 35,000 people.

The Red Sox only need to win one more game to capture the title of world's champions, while the Giants must win three straight games to gain the championship laurels.

The youthful Bedient pitched a wonderful game, holding New York to three hits. Mathewson also pitched a superb game. New York's only run was scored on a two-bagger by Merkle, two outs and an error by Gardner.

The next game of the series will be played in New York on Monday. Then Wood, the Red Sox crack box-pitcher against New York.

MISS WRIGHT INDISPOSED.

The many friends of Miss Mary Wright, the competent and efficient teacher of the Kindergarten department of the Washington Public Schools, has been indisposed at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Moss on East Main street for the past several days. While she is somewhat better today she is still unable to assume her duties. Dr. John C. Rodman is her attending physician.

BUCKEYE STATE LABOR MEETING.

Canton, O., Oct. 14.—With a large and representative attendance the annual convention of the Ohio State Federation of Labor met here today and began its business. The sessions will continue for four or five days. The annual reports of the officers and committees show the past year to have been one of extraordinary activity and prosperity for the labor organizations of Ohio. The legislative committee succeeded in securing many favorable planks in the constitutional amendments and plans will be discussed to secure the passage of other laws of benefit to organized labor at the next session of the legislature.

MINNESOTA BAPTISTS MEET.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 14.—Minnesota Baptists assembled at the First Baptist church in this city today for their annual convention. The meetings will last three days and will have as speakers Henry Wood, president of the Northern Baptist convention; Dr. J. H. Franklin, of Boston; Roy W. E. Chalmers, of Philadelphia, and other denominational leaders of national reputation.

STILL VERV HILL.

The Daily News regrets to announce the continued illness of Mr. Buffon Miles, one of Washington's highly esteemed and popular citizens, at his residence, on West Third street.

SORDID TALE OF T. R.'S FUND

Treasurer Sheldon and J. P. Morgan Tell of Millions Subscribed in 1904.

BIG FAVORS IN RETURN

Frick, Gould and Morgan Gave $100,000 Each—Corporations Gave 75% Per Cent. of Entire Amount Received.

John D. Archbold's statement that the Standard Oil company contributed $100,000 to Mr. Roosevelt's campaign fund in 1904 was confirmed by George R. Sheldon, who succeeded Cornelius N. Bliss as treasurer of the Republican national committee.

Not only did the Standard Oil company give $100,000 to elect Mr. Roosevelt president, but J. Pierpont Morgan & Co. gave $100,000, H. C. Frick gave $100,000 and George Gould gave another $100,000. Mr. Sheldon testified that 75% per cent of Mr. Roosevelt's total campaign fund was contributed by corporations.

Naturally these people gave their money freely to the Roosevelt campaign fund.

Testifying that he had contributed $150,000 to the Roosevelt campaign fund in 1904 because he was "especially interested," Mr. J. P. Morgan added, "The only interest we had was in the welfare of the public."

Mr. Morgan emphasized his devotion to Mr. Roosevelt's political fortunes by the further statement that J. P. Morgan & Co.'s usual contribution to Republican campaign funds was only $100,000; that he never heard of any donation by his firm to the Democrats; that when Mr. Taft was a candidate in 1908 the sum subscribed was $20,000 and that this year neither he nor his banking house had subscribed a dollar.

How It Was All Done.

To grasp these pregnant facts we have only to recall a little modern history. In 1904 Mr. Roosevelt had his bureau of corporations in working order. Mr. Cortelyou, lately in control of it, as secretary of commerce and labor, had been made chairman of the national Republican committee. He and Cornelius N. Bliss, treasurer, were collecting money. As George R. Sheldon, Mr. Bliss' successor, says, 75% per cent of the funds received came from the massed corporations.

If we do not find in these disclosures a sufficient explanation of J. P. Morgan & Co.'s "special interest" in Mr. Roosevelt's election, it is possible that later events may reveal it.

Mr. Roosevelt never prosecuted J. P. Morgan & Co.'s steel trust. He emphatically stopped the proceedings instituted by others against J. P. Morgan & Co.'s harvest trust. When the panic of 1907 was at its height he turned the resources of the treasury over to J. P. Morgan & Co., who used them and made money and reputation by the process. He met Gary and Frick, representing J. P. Morgan & Co.'s steel trust, before breakfast one morning and licensed them, in violation of law, to absorb the Tennessee Coal company, thus giving J. P. Morgan & Co. a partner in J. P. Morgan & Co., who used the state department and the diplomatic service. He made Herbert Satterlee, J. P. Morgan's son-in-law, assistant secretary of the navy. In a letter to Attorney General Bonaparte he testified feelingly to the virtues of the "Morgan interests which have been so friendly to us." Never before was the "public welfare" so cheaply protected.

Extent of Morgan's Interests.

The "Morgan interests" are not confined to J. P. Morgan & Co. by any means. The Morgan interests comprehend life insurance companies, banks and trust companies, railroads and manufacturing enterprises. If the parent house increased its regular Republican contribution in 1904 because of its "special interest" we may easily imagine that the policy was widely imitated by affiliated corporations and individuals. Perhaps in this almost unexampled favor by the Morgan interests we shall find an explanation of the Roosevelt administration hostility to the Standard Oil interests, which have not always agreed with J. P. Morgan & Co. concerning "the welfare of the public."

It may be that the senate committee will be able to throw more light on this point, but it can hardly add anything to the scandal of the Morgan-Roosevelt alliance. It was Mr. Roosevelt who opened the way to J. P. Morgan & Co. the possibilities of government by big business. It was Mr. Roosevelt who persuaded J. P. Morgan & Co. to plunge deeply into politics. It was Mr. Roosevelt who, consulting "the public welfare," registered the decrees of J. P. Morgan & Co. in the White House.

Not until Mr. Roosevelt had lost control of the Republican machinery and the law providing for publicity of campaign contributions had gone into effect did J. P. Morgan & Co. disappear from the list of regular contributors to the colossal corruption funds of the Republican party. Are J. P. Morgan & Co. now operating politically under cover of their recent partner, George W. Perkins—New York World.

Harriman's $50,000 For T. R.'s Fund

Time and again Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, the third term party's candidate for president of the United States, has stated that the famous $240,000 raised by the late E. H. Harriman in the fall of 1904 was for use in the New York state campaign. He also declared most positively a few weeks ago that he had ordered Chairman Cortelyou of the Republican national committee, not to accept any money from the Standard Oil company in that campaign and to return it if any had been accepted.

On Monday, Sept. 30, C. C. Tugelloff, secretary to the Late E. H. Harriman, produced the above receipt of the Republican national committee, signed by Treasurer Cornelius N. Bliss, for Mr. Harriman's individual contribution of $50,000 to this fund, proving conclusively that it was used in behalf of Mr. Roosevelt's candidacy. The day following John D. Archbold, president of the Standard Oil company, produced the documentary proof that his company did give $10,000 to Roosevelt's campaign fund and that it never was returned.

The citizens of Washington heard with pleasure as well as profit the fine speech of Hon. W. M. Bond, of Edenton, N. C., today at the Court House, advocating the candidacy and return of United States Senator F. M. Simmons to the United States Senate. The distinguished speaker was heard by a large and attentive audience and no doubt made many converts to the cause of the senior senator.

Mr. Bond has many friends in Beaufort county and whenever he is announced that he is to address the citizens here it is always hailed with genuine pleasure. Those present today were afforded a feast of good things from beginning to end.

CHILDREN'S DAY N. E. CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY

On next Sunday evening at the First Methodist Church the children of the Sunday school will celebrate Children's Day with an appropriate program. Quite an interesting and unique program is now under way. There will be rehearsals for the auspicious event each afternoon this week at the church at four o'clock and all those who are to take part are requested to be present. The exercises will take place instead of the regular Sunday night services, usually conducted. All who attend will doubtless be highly entertained. The Daily News will publish the full program later in the week.

LOCAL GREEK SAILS FOR NATIVE LAND

Mr. Spiros Yahapuly left this morning for Patres Greece. He goes to answer the call of his country in their fight against the countries now trespassing upon their soil. Some weeks ago the Greek Consul at Wilmington called upon all Greeks within the bounds of North Carolina to return to their country and fight for what they believed to be right. Mr. Yahapuly, who has been one of the cooks at the Greek restaurant here was patriotic enough to respond. This morning he left for New York and from there will sail for his native land.

RALEIGH FAIR.

Quite a number of Washington citizens are participating with pleasure as well as delight the Raleigh Fair this week. The exhibition promises to be one of the very best given.

AUTO PARTY HERE.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Woolard, Edward Woolard, Charlie Woolard, Miss Elsie Woolard and Ralph Phillips, arrived here yesterday morning about 9 o'clock from Scotland Neck. They left Scotland Neck in the morning by auto. The party left last night for their home, after being the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Phillips, on West Second street.

Dr. B. T. Nicholas returned from Scotland Neck yesterday, where he went to visit his daughter.

OCTOBER TERM OF BEAUFORT COUNTY SUPERIOR COURT

The October term of Beaufort County Superior Court convened this morning with His Honor, Judge Lane, of Reidsville, N. C., presiding, and Solicitor Zbynhus, of Elizabeth City, representing the State. The first week will be for the trial of criminal cases and the second week for that of civil causes.

Judge Lane delivered a very instructive charge to the grand jury this morning, one that could be easily understood by any attendant.

There are 27 cases on the criminal docket for trial. There is one case for murder.

The following compose the grand jury for this term:
Foreman, J. H. Hodges; F. A. Edwards, Jesse A. Habours, J. T. Hardinso, Augustus Cutler, J. H. Lilly, B. F. Godley, A. S. Boyd, J. D. O'Neal, Chas. C. Harris, G. W. Jarvis, E. H. Jefferson, J. T. Hill, L. H. Allen, H. H. Oden, W. T. Austin, N. A. Pursner, B. F. Jones.

WORK TRAIN N. S. R. R. JUMPS THE TRACK

The work train on the Norfolk Southern Railway jumped the track early this morning between Washington and Chocowinity and the consequences was that the passenger train leaving Washington bound for Raleigh was delayed several hours. Both the engine and tender of the work train was derailed. The passenger train was just behind the work train. The passengers walked back to the city and waited for things to be righted. Fortunately no one was hurt.

Mr. W. M. Kear, owing to the absence of the pastor, will conduct the prayer meeting services at the First Methodist church on Wednesday evening next. Mr. Kear is the efficient teacher of the Baraca Class and all who hear him will be more than pleased.

The Nicholsonville prayer meeting will be held on next Friday evening at the residence of Mr. Fenner Allgood on Bonper street.

The Stewards will meet in regular monthly session in the Baraca room this evening at 8 o'clock. Full attendance desired.

NOTABLE CENTENNIAL OBSERVANCE. Nazareth, Ky., Oct. 14.—

Nazareth Academy, conducted by Order of the Sisters of Charity, today entered upon a week's celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of the institution. The first home of the Sisters was a log house. They took charge of the humble seminary nearby and spun wool and wove on the loom cloth for the seminarians and themselves. In 1822 they transferred their quarters to the present location, and here, besides the convent, is their mother house. Under the title, "The Nazareth Literary and Benevolent Institution," the community received a charter from the Kentucky legislature in 1829.

HON. W. M. BOND CHARMS HIS AUDIENCE TODAY

The citizens of Washington heard with pleasure as well as profit the fine speech of Hon. W. M. Bond, of Edenton, N. C., today at the Court House, advocating the candidacy and return of United States Senator F. M. Simmons to the United States Senate. The distinguished speaker was heard by a large and attentive audience and no doubt made many converts to the cause of the senior senator.

Mr. Bond has many friends in Beaufort county and whenever he is announced that he is to address the citizens here it is always hailed with genuine pleasure. Those present today were afforded a feast of good things from beginning to end.

HON. J. H. SMALL TO SPEAK IN CONN. STATE

Hon. John H. Small expects to leave Wednesday afternoon for the State of Connecticut to make several speeches, having been invited by the National Democratic Executive Committee. Congressman Small is billed to make his first address in the City of New London, Conn., on Friday, October 18.

Mr. Small is well known in the New England States and by reason of his work in congress and his previous visits to that section by request to make water way speeches no doubt but what he will have large and attentive audiences. The national committee could not have made a more wise choice.

Congressman Small is delighted at the invitation because he feels that he can not only give good argument for the election of Woodrow Wilson, but at the same time show the citizens of that enterprising community the force of an inland waterway of which he is the father and chief promoter.

Impelled by the building of the Oregon Electric, the Southern Pacific, under the name of the Portland Eugene and Eastern, is building a section of road 24 miles long to connect with Cervatis, and will electrify all of its west side lines, so as to give a second electric line to Portland. Grading of this latter road is about complete, and service will begin about the first of the year.

ELECTRICIANS IN ANNUAL CONVENTION.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 14.—Members of the Rejuvenated Order of the Sons of Jove, a secret society of men engaged in the electrical industry in all parts of the United States and Canada, are rounding up in this city for their annual convention. A leading feature of the gathering will be the initiation of 300 candidates, the ceremonies to be preceded by a night parade, in which members of the organization, costumed as imps, will play an important part.

FREE DEMONSTRATION.

Morris Exquisite Candy is one of the most attractive and exquisite piece of goods now on the market. This high-class piece of goods is now being sold by the well-known firm of Worthy and Etheridge.

This candy has a national reputation and it will pay any citizen to try a sample.

Mr. Lee Davenport spent Sunday with relatives at Pactolus, N. C.

Mrs. A. M. Dumay and Mrs. J. H. Hodges have returned from Richmond, where they attended the fair. They enjoyed their trip immensely.
