SATURDAY, NOV. 2, 1912.

Simmons wants your vote.

Don't be woozy—win with Simmons.

Whatever you do do, do vote, Democrats.

If you do not vote you will miss it, Mister.

Wilson is a winner. Do you not like to be with the winner? Then vote.

Let it be said that you helped elect Wilson. You will never regret it.

Wake up, ye sons of men. There is an election coming and it is going to be a triumphant day for all of Democracy's hosts. Join the happy band and none can deprive you of your portion of the glory.

Hang the banner on the outer wall—"Simmons and Victory." It's coming and it's coming to us. Swell the glad tidings by your vote.

The slogan has been sounded throughout the land—"Win with Wilson," and the people will answer "We did."

Wilson says turn the government back into the hands of the people. It is for the people to respond, and take possession of their own.

Wilson seeks to serve, not to dictate. Put your trust in him.

Wilson is free-handed, unhampered and unbound. If he is elected, as surely he will be, he will belong to the people.

If you are with us vote with us. Win with Simmons.

Stand up and be counted. Your ballot is a certificate of faith and confidence that Wilson will appreciate.

It's in the air. We are going to win. Share in the great Simmons' victory.

Write it in letters of living light across the sky election night—"Wilson has won."

Wilson will win. Contribute your vote to the result.

You will regret it if you are not in on a good thing. Satisfy your conscience that you have a right to rejoice in the fact that you voted for the victor, and the greater will be your enthusiasm as you participate in the celebration of Wilson's election.

WHAT ABOUT IT, BEASLEY?

In reading the report of Governor Kitchin's speech at Concord, we were impressed with one point in particular, that being his laudation of his own appropriation-getting record while he was a member of congress.

With chesty pride the governor is said to have recalled the fact that while a congressman he managed to get more appropriations for buildings, etc., for the fifth district than any other district in the state had received.

He gloried in the fact. He revealed over the reflection. This, aside from the thought of how he managed to take away from the south the only fast mail train it ever had, was the crowning achievement of his career in the nation's congress.

Now it comes to pass that one of the chief defenders of Governor William is Editor Beasley of the "Carolina Democrat," has been bending every effort to discredit leading Democrats of the state in the effort to boost the Kitchin cause. Instead of fighting the party battles, and defending party leaders against the attacks of the common enemy, it has contracted a severe attack of Kitchinism, and its pages are devoted to laudation of the manifold virtues of Governor William.

It so happens, too, that the burden of Mr. Beasley's attacks have been against the system of securing appropriations for the "folks back home." The very thought of a congressman securing an appropriation for a local postoffice chills the heart of Brother Beasley and he proceeds to write long and loud in denunciation of the system!

He criticized Simmons because Simmons had secured appropriations for the improvement of inland waterways. Such a course, in the mind of Brother Beasley, could lead only to the shoals of national bankruptcy, and the "Carolina Democrat" could never experience an easy conscience did it fail to deplore the abominable custom.

What, then, must be the innermost feelings of our Monroe friend when he reads in the public prints that instead of joining him in denouncing pork barrel service in congress, he finds his champion boldly crowding over the fact?

What must the "Carolina Democrat" think when it finds its choice actually congratulating himself upon the accomplishment of those very things the "Carolina Democrat" has regretted, criticized and deplored.

Actually bragging over the fact that he secured more appropriations than any other congressman!

Will Brother Beasley, true to his ideas of economy, now publicly disown his favorite? Certainly if he means what he has written, and he does of a surety, he can no longer champion the man who actually boasts of acts which Beasley has said are wrong.

What are you going to do about this matter, Brother Beasley?—Charlotte News.

WRITER CALLS ON VOTERS TO SUPPORT WILSON

Pinetown, N. C., Oct. 31, 1912. Editor of Washington Daily News, Washington, N. C. Mr. Editor:

We have in our section a Republican who seems to take an active part in the minor work of his party, such as posting bills, etc. He has a large elm tree in front of his house, upon which he has nailed "Republicanism" until it has almost killed the tree. The tree has two large limbs, one of which is already dead, and the other one is dying. Let us call the dead limb "Billy" Taft, and the dying one "Teddy" Roosevelt. Standing at the root of this tree we see Woodrow Wilson holding the axe of "Right and Justice" ready to cut down the tree of Republicanism, which has for forty years "brought forth corrupt fruit," and planting beside it the Tree of Democracy, which will spring up on November 5th. This tree will bring forth such fruit as the progressive people of the United States have long since desired to taste. Such fruit will be used for the "healing of the nation." So let us all from now until November 5th lend our influence to that great proclaimer of "Right and Justice" and go out on that day and cast our vote
