

Fair Tonight and Tomorrow--Cooler

VIRGINIA WALLOPS TAR HEELS BY A SCORE OF 66 TO 0

Snow Left the Field Sloppy. Was a Crushing Defeat to the Carolinians. Those From the State Were Disappointed.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 23.—North Carolina met crushing defeat yesterday afternoon at Broad Street Park at the hands of Virginia, score 66 to 0. The result of the annual football contest between these old-time rivals proved a bitter disappointment to the host of Tar Heel sympathizers, who while prepared for defeat, did not expect it to be so crushing.

Only once did the tads from Chapel Hill have a chance to score. That was early in the game, when by a series of line plunges, aided by a forward pass or two and a five-yard penalty exacted on Virginia, they succeeded in landing the pig skin within a few yards of their opponents' goal. There they met a stone wall, the oval going to Virginia on downs. It was then kicked to the center of the field after the Orange and Blue's backs had bucked Carolina's line twice in vain.

Even Tillett, the redoubtable, failed to show his customary form, though it may be that the sloppy field from which three inches of snow were removed earlier in the day, may have dampened his nerves. However, some of his tackles bordered on the sensational and more than once he saved Carolina's goal.

As the game progressed Virginia's backs went through Carolina's line at will for good substantial gains, though the running was anything but easy. Both sides worked the forward pass time and again, sometimes successfully, but more often otherwise. Not once was a goal from the field attempted.

Virginia sprang a surprise at the first kickoff by tossing the oval slightly to one side so that one of her own men kicked it for a run of fifteen yards. Less than three minutes later, Mayer had rushed it over the line and Carter kicked an easy goal. In the second quarter, Todd broke through Carolina's line for a 76-yard run, while the major portion of the crowd of 8,000 cheered him to the echo. The half closed with the ball in Carolina's territory, score 34 to 0. Though Carolina was expected to take a brace in the second half, the expected failed to materialize. Both teams came back freshened by the rest and the addition of subs, but the result was the same as before. Home-wood, who had given way to Long, was again noted at Carolina's right end, tackling like a dead, though it availed naught. Moore, right half, was knocked out toward the close of the first half and did not return. He was not seriously hurt. His place was filled by Taylor. As the contest drew to a close, Virginia substituted Randolph for Gooch at quarter and also gave its regular backs a rest. Carolina likewise gave the remaining of its sub force a chance, realizing that nothing short of providence itself could change the tide.

Virginia used Maiden to boot the ball over the bar after Carter, the heavy weight, went to the bench. Though Maiden was scheduled to play long tackle for Virginia, he did not actually get in the game until the latter part of the third quarter. "Little Abbie," as Carolina's right guard is known, proved himself a tower of strength at most of the critical stages and so did his side partner, Jennings, right tackle.

The defeat is the worst which Virginia has ever administered to Carolina, a score of 48 to 6 way back in the '90's being the nearest thing approaching it.

Seaboard Medical Association Meets at New Bern Dec. 3, 4, 5

WEDDED IN SHOW WINDOW AT JEFFERSONS

The excitement in the city on Wednesday afternoon was the marriage of Miss Callie May Harris, of Lenoir county, to Mr. Harold B. Sawyer, of Hyde county, in the show window of the Jefferson Furniture Company. The ceremony was advertised for two thirty and notwithstanding it is a bride's prerogative to be late, she was on time and by the time the clock had registered 2:30 she was the happy bride of the one she had selected for her life partner. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Warren in the presence of a large number. Not only was standing room in the store at a premium, but the street fronting the place of business was packed and jammed with those eager to witness the unique sight. The bride was attractively gowned in white and the groom wore the conventional black. Immediately after the ceremony the happy bride and groom left for their future home in Rose Bay, N. C., via the Norfolk Southern.

Marriage Ceremony Takes Place as Billed in Jefferson Furniture Co. Window.

The Jefferson Furniture Company presented the couple with a handsome suit of furniture. Some time ago this furniture firm advertised that they would donate a $50 suit of furniture to the first couple that would consent to be married in their show window. The marriage of Mr. Sawyer and Miss Harris was the sequence. All wish them every happiness.

The seventeenth annual session of the Seaboard Medical Association of Virginia and North Carolina will meet in the town of New Bern, N. C., on December 3, 4 and 5. The headquarters of the association will be the Gaston Hotel. Dr. J. H. Gibbs, of New Bern, is the president of the association, having been elected at the last meeting held at Newport News, Va. Dr. H. W. Carter, of this city, is the second vice-president. Dr. Carter is also chairman of the executive committee. Dr. John G. Blount is a member of the committee on publication and Dr. John C. Rodman a member of the committee on credentials. Dr. David T. Tayloe 's chairman of the board of censors.

Dr. A. K. Tayloe will respond to the address of welcome for North Carolina.

Among the Washington doctors to read papers before the association will be Dr. J. L. Nicholson, Dr. A. K. Tayloe, Dr. David T. Tayloe.

New Bern is making elaborate preparations for the entertainment of the physicians, both socially and otherwise.

ODD FELLOWS GRAND LODGE IN GREENVILLE

The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows met in the town of Greenville yesterday at ten o'clock, ordered there for special work. W. F. Evans, the grand master presided. The other grand officers present were: D. J. Berry, deputy grand master; C. G. Morris, grand warden; B. H. Woodall, grand secretary; W. S. Frizzle, grand guard; W. H. Bond, grand herald; Dr. D. L. James, grand chaplain.

The second district meeting also met in the same town at 2:30 o'clock. Those attending the district meeting from Washington were: C. G. Morris, W. J. Pippin, W. S. Frizzle, H. D. Potter, K. J. Respass, Jarvis Allgood, B. L. Woodall, A. B. Whitley, C. F. Harris, W. M. Chauncey, E. K. Willis and Daniel L. Perry.

A. M. E. ZION CONFERENCE NOW IN SESSION HERE

The Old North Carolina Annual Conference of the A. M. E. Zion church is now in session in this city. The sessions are being held in the Metropolitan church of which Rev. John H. Love, D. D., is pastor.

Bishop Alexander Walters, A. M., D. D., is the presiding bishop. This is the forty-ninth session. A most prosperous year has so far been reported not only by the presiding elders, but the preachers in charge of the respective stations and circuits. On last night Mayor Harding delivered an address of welcome to the conference. He brought words of consolation and cheer from the white people. The conference will be in session all this week and the feature of the session will be the sermon of Bishop Walters on next Sunday morning.

THANKSGIVING EXERCISES AT WASHINGTON CITY SCHOOLS

That was a great occasion on Wednesday at the Washington public schools, when the pupils had their annual Thanksgiving exercises in which each pupil of the school carried a package for the poor of the city. Promptly at noon all the students of the school gathered in the auditorium and deposited their gifts on the platform. This year the annual address was dispensed with yet a most interesting program was carried out by the younger pupils of the schools. The interesting exercises consisting of songs, recitations, etc., were witnessed not only by the student body, but quite a number of outsiders. This Thanksgiving exercises of the Washington public schools always carries with interest each year and this year was no exception.

Live News of County Correspondents To the Daily News

JAKEVILLE ATOMS.

Alas, Montgomery. This department is moving on. But, Bath, where are you? Say, Singleton, did the cold snap freeze all your postage stamps?

Some town Jakes down hunting last week. They shoot like —, but hardly ever hit anything.

A doc came down one time and went back. The news spread like wild fire—he had bagged a deer, a squirrel. Correct; but Ned Nimrod makes big money killing game to sell to sportsmen. Takes money to keep up a record.

Folks trying to buy or rent all the tobacco land "from Murphy to Mantoo." Give us a taste and we try to swallow the earth. Some declare Wilson will bring prosperity; others swear he will bring a panic. No matter what he brings there's going to be plenty of something to chew.

Pinetown, a sure cure for toothache is this: Procure a strong piece of thread five feet in length and a rock about the size of a watermelon. Now go up stairs and after tying one end of the thread to the tooth and the other end to the rock, poke your head out a window and drop the rock to the ground. When the rock hits the earth you and the tooth will be far apart. It is advisable before throwing out the rock to lash yourself to a bedstead or bureau with a stout piece of ox rope.

Another remedy is this: Have some person, preferably one of your opposite sex, who has red hair, a sunny complexion, and magnetic eyes to press the tips of his or her fingers against your face in the neighborhood of the aching tooth. This remedy is not unpleasant and is often very effective. However, the first mentioned remedy is surest and quickest.

It's getting on to be the time of year when we have what polite folks and high-brows call "winter evenings." In plain Jakeville English, it's "a long time from supper time to bed time." And let me tell you a fellow who has been gathering corn, chopping wood, or climbing in and out of a wagon all day can get as much joy out of these winter evenings as any body else. It is just the time when a fellow loves to back up by the chimney corner and spend a few hours with Oliver Goldsmith and Thomas Hardy. "The Traveller," "Deserted Village," and "Far from the Madding Crowd" seem to chime in with a country Jake's feelings on these occasions. The north wind sings by the corner of the house, the lightwood knot fire roars up the chimney, your eye glides along the lines, and you feel as much at peace with the world as did Adam before the Fall.

NEWS FROM ROUTE 4.

Hello! Bragaw, Jakeville, Pinetown, Broad Creek and others. Here I come with more news but (pahaw) isn't that what we were looking for.

Such glorious weather this has been the most beautiful fall I have witnessed in all the 70 years of my life.

Mrs. D. H. Bennette, of Bunyan, spent Wednesday of last week with her daughter, Mrs. Eva Bennette, of Red Hill Road.

Mrs. Margaret Cutler and children spent one day last week with Mrs. Frances Cutler at Zion.

Mrs. Bertha Asby was a guest of her sister, Mrs. James Norwood, one evening last week.

Where is our Pineville and Singleton-Itemizers? Perhaps they have had a land slide and slided them off of the face of earth.

Miss Annie J. Congleton was a guest of her aunt, Mrs. M. F. Congleton, Thursday.

Miss Laura Whitley was a guest of Misses Dora, Stella and Annie Congleton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Jackson spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cotton.

Quite a number of young people visited Mrs. Mamie G. Mixon Saturday afternoon and Sunday.

Miss Laura Bright, who is attending school at Chocowinity, spent Saturday night and Sunday with her parents at Bunyan.

Mr. William H. Congleton, of your city, was a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Congleton Sunday.

Mrs. Pearl Sheppard spent Saturday night and Sunday with her father, Mr. James Asby.

BRAGAW BUSYGRAMS.

Everybody's corn in the barn; Everybody's hay in the rack; Everybody's peas in the bin; Everybody's fodder in the stack; Everybody's meat in the smoke-house;

Everybody's faters in the bank; Everybody's money in his pocket; And everybody's pocket needs a crank—or a lock and key.

There is a case of smallpox at Bragaw. We hope there will be no further trouble from the dreaded disease.

Several young people of this section attended a social at Mr. Gardner Gatlin's Saturday night. The writer was one among the number. It seemed that all passed the time pleasantly.

Two more houses are now going up at Bragaw. This town is growing tremendously now, but the electric street cars have not yet been put in. The 28th will soon be here. Thanksgiving Day you see; No school, no work to do, you know. But—quite a jubilee.

The girls and boys, both large and small, will have a jolly treat; There's nuts and fruit for one and all And lots of pie to eat.

There's candy-balls and cakes and toys; Just waiting for the crowd; And Mr. Turkey in the middle Of the table awful proud.

You needn't watch me Mr. Turkey, For I'll just do my best To get away with both hind legs. Your head and half your breast.

Now friends, all, young and old, let's eat; With humble hearts and true; Our thanks extend to Him who gave His life for me and you.

And while we feast and laugh and sing, Let's keep in mind this part; The Lord gives food and health and joy, To every thankful heart.

NEWS FROM BROAD CREEK.

Well we are still having cool nights and old Jack Frost comes too. Sorry to know the bad misfortune that Mr. Mack Black had last Saturday morning while at work at Ebronn Mill. Some way a bale of cotton was thrown on him and broke his leg. He suffered very much with it. We are very sorry for him.

Miss Lella Cutler spent a few days last week with her sister, Mrs. Bonner Waters, at Slatestone.

Mrs. I. F. Alligood and children, of Slatestone, was in our midst Sunday.

Mrs. W. T. Latim spent Sunday with Mrs. Annie Swain near Hawkins school house, who is very sick.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cutler and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Singleton and children spent Sunday p. m. at the home of Mr. C. D. Tetterton.

Miss Essie Latham and Miss Ira Green spent from Thursday until Sunday at Washington, visiting friends and one day shopping.

Sorry to hear last week that our Pinetown correspondent had the toothache. Have them taken out; that is a cure for you.

Mrs. Henry Wallace and children is spending some few days with her father at Hawkins School House.

Miss Gladys Tetterton spent Saturday night with Miss Martha Estella Latham.

Mr. John Swain, of Hawkins School House, was in our midst Sunday p. m.

Mrs. C. C. Cutler spent Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Joe Alligood.

Mr. T. W. Boyd's new residence is nearly completed. It is quite a beauty.

Mrs. W. T. Latham and daughter, Miss Lizzie, spent a while Wednesday night at Mr. George Sullivan's. Geo, Pinetown, we are going to be very careful when we are out there not to ask any questions, because we are afraid of being run-off like you did the other poor man. I know he felt like another speckle puppy.

Miss Ira Green is fixing to spend Xmas with friends at New Bern. We wish her a good time.

Quite a number of young people visited Mrs. Mamie G. Mixon Saturday afternoon and Sunday.

Miss Laura Bright, who is attending school at Chocowinity, spent Saturday night and Sunday with her parents at Bunyan.

Mr. William H. Congleton, of your city, was a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Congleton Sunday.

Mrs. Pearl Sheppard spent Saturday night and Sunday with her father, Mr. James Asby.

Quite a number of young people visited Mrs. Mamie G. Mixon Saturday afternoon and Sunday.

Miss Laura Bright, who is attending school at Chocowinity, spent Saturday night and Sunday with her parents at Bunyan.

Mr. William H. Congleton, of your city, was a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Congleton Sunday.

Mrs. Pearl Sheppard spent Saturday night and Sunday with her father, Mr. James Asby.

WASHINGTON AND LEE DEFEATS A. AND M.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 23.—On a muddy, slippery field, with the temperature a few points above freezing, Washington and Lee defeated A. and M. College by a score of 16 to 6 at Lafayette Park yesterday afternoon.

The result was a surprise to the followers of the team from Lexington and Raleigh and the students of A. and M. are jubilant. They expected the score to be larger than it was and the showing made by the Aggies was satisfactory to the North Carolinians and to Coach Green.

The game was played before about 2,000 people and was close and exciting all the way through. Not that either team put up a scientific game or used especially good judgment, but because the score was close and the result was not decided until the end of the last quarter.

A. and M. won the toss and gave Washington and Lee the ball, taking the west goal to defend, with the wind in their favor. After ten minutes of three playing and with the ball in A. and M.'s possession, Helatt broke through the line and blocked Jeffrey's attempted kick on the 35-yard line. He picked up the pig skin and with a clear field carried the oval over for the first touchdown. Miller nicked goal and the score was 7 to 0. A costly fumble by Miller on Washington and Lee's 25 yard line gave A. and M. a touchdown. Sykes recovered the ball and Jeffrey was sent around right end for thirty-five yards. Hurt missed goal and the first quarter ended, Washington and Lee, 7, A. and M., 6.

One of the feature plays of the game was made in the second quarter, when, with the ball on A. and M.'s thirty-five-yard line, Captain Miller called for a try for goal from field and drop the ball over the bars and between the posts for another three points.

In the last quarter, after Miller had carried the ball fifteen yards through right end, Beuring made the required one yard and the Lexington boys had another touchdown. No goal.

Final score, 16 to 6.

The Addisdo Book Club Met on Thanksgiving Afternoon

The Thanksgiving meeting of the Addisdo Club was held with Mrs. J. B. Sparrow, on Wednesday afternoon. Every meeting of this well-known club is an occasion of "Thanksgiving" to its fortunate members, and on this day, they were especially glad to welcome back to her own, one of the charter members who had been out of the club for some years. The ladies were called to order at 4 o'clock promptly by the popular president, Mrs. D. T. Tayloe. Ireland's ancient literature and her two capitals Tara of Olden Days and Dublin, the capital of modern times, made the subjects of extremely interesting papers by Mrs. W. D. Orimes and Miss Jane Myers. The refreshments served by the hostess were a beautiful foretaste of good things to come on the feast day.

LONG DISTANCE PHONES OUT OF COMMISSION

In consequence of the snow storm yesterday and Wednesday night all the long distance telephone lines are out of commission running to this city. Manager Bell is engaged today in repairing them, although he is having considerable difficulty in securing labor.