within any polling place, or within 100 feet of any polling place.

Section 15. No person shall be allowed to have any communication with the voter while he is preparing his ballot, and it shall be unlawful for any person to ask or tell him to vote for any candidate by words, writings or signs: Provided, that the voter may request one elector to assist him in marking and preparing his ballot, but the person so requested to aid him shall give him no advice or offer any suggestion as to what candidate he shall vote for, and as soon as he has finished assisting the voter in preparing his ballot, he shall immediately leave the space prohibited, that is heretofore mentioned.

Section 16. Section 17. One poll holder of each political party shall keep a polling list, with the name of each voter voting in said primary at his respective political party. As the close of the primary the poll holders shall present publicly to count the votes and to declare the results of their respective primaries. They shall certify the results of such primary and transmit with the poll lists all other papers relating to such primary, by mail on the day after the primary to the clerk of the superior court, or to the city or town clerk, as the case may be, who shall on the second day after said return, open said canvass said returns and declare the results thereof. In the event that two names are marked or checked on the ballot for the same office, when the law provides that only one can be elected, no credit shall be given either candidate a vote for that office, except in cases when more than one person can be nominated for the same office.

Section 18. The county, township or municipal candidate who receives a plurality of the votes cast for the office for which he was a candidate, shall be the nominee of said party for such office: Provided, that whenever no county, township or municipal candidate shall receive a majority of the votes cast for any office, then the one who receives the highest vote for said office shall be the nominee, unless the one who receives the next highest vote shall demand, in writing, within five days after the returns are announced by the proper officer, that a second primary be held in case such demand shall be made within said time, there shall be a second primary held for such office within ten days from the delivery of said demand under the same rules and regulations as the first; but no candidate shall be entitled to participate therein except the two who received the highest vote in the first primary, and all and every expense connected with holding a second primary shall be equally divided between the two candidates participating in same.

Section 19. That the polls shall be open on the day of the primary from 7 o'clock a. m. to 6 o'clock p. m. and no longer.

Section 20. In case there shall be any office for which no one has filed his declaration for nomination during the proper time, the vacancy shall be supplied by the county executive committee or the precinct executive committee of any city or town, as the case may be, of the party in which the vacancy occurs, at least five days before the primary.

Section 21. Timing Trick of Messengers.

The stamp trick is a very common one with messengers because of the amount of amusement derived from it. It consists in sticking a new stamp on a step or some prominent place and watching the various attempts of passers-by to pick it up, which, of course, are unsuccessful.—London Mail.
