EXCITING POLITICS AHEAD.

A Democrat is President and Stimson is Senator, and the political waters have been rather quiet since these two facts were indisputably established. But let no one fear stagnation. The Overman Senatorial storm is brewing, and we will soon be in a seething whirlpool of local issues.

It is to these local issues that especial reference should be made. Yesterday the Board of Aldermen fixed May 5 as the date for the waterworks, sewage system, and electric plant bond election, and we may expect the various town political factions to train their guns upon each other at once. And then, before long, there is a prospect of a good-roads campaign which will break all records for excitement.

Care should be taken lest the long-suffering voters throw an proposed bond issues into the dump-heap of utterance, from sheer disgust at spitefulness to the right of them and to the left of them, thundering forth their appeals for bonds for this and that.

Non-sensiblistic oratory, no stirring up of artificial class hatred, is not to be tolerated in the coming campaigns. The citizen of this county is, for the most part, well-balanced, thoughtful, intelligent man, and it is not surprising that the hot-air politicians usually greeted in their parades with more laughter than applause.

Let the men who will come forward with a calm, dispassionate statement of facts who are going to win in the coming campaigns.

MAY INCREASE INCOME TAX.

Washington, April 1.—Opponents of a drastic tariff reduction are today protesting an increase in the proposed income tax from one to two per cent. The low tariff men, who are now in a majority on the House Ways and Means Committee, succeeded in their determination to frame a modestly radical bill, without respect to protection theories. If they stand together and carry out their agreement, about $200,000,000 will have to be raised annually to replace any deficit caused by reductions in the tariff.

The low tariff men have agreed that the country might as well now as later get tariff-for-revenue-only legislation, and that the business men must accept an entirely new standard. They are determined to lay before the House a bill based upon the theory that foreign competition is a necessary potentiality to the destruction of high prices and that the only way for the American business man to rid himself of the foreign-cheap-labor bugaboo is to rid his factories of antiquated machinery and to displace extravagant overhead charges with economic management.

YAMADA GOING ABROAD.

New York, April 1.—Koji Yamada, the Japanese cue expert, who has been traveling in the West and Southwest, returned here today. He intends to spend the summer in Berlin and return in the fall to challenge for the world's championship.

SUFFRAGISTS DECORATE SCOUTS

Washington, April 1.—Members of the National Woman's Suffrage Association today decorated with medals the Boy Scouts of Washington as an appreciation of their work in protecting the marching women from the crowds that threatened the suffrage parade on March 3. The suffragists are making active preparations for their second great parade next Monday when the special session of Congress meets.

RATE COMMITTEE MEETING.

St. Louis, Mo., April 1.—For the first time in eighteen months the Western Classification Committee is meeting in this city today. Forty-five railroad and steamship lines are represented and the docket involving proposed changes in freight classification is unusually large. Shippers from all parts of the country are on hand and the meeting will consume several days, with night sessions likewise.

Hot Spring Weather a Scorching Summer.

The first day of January was warm and the month was also. The second day was colder. The third was windy. The fourth, fifth and sixth were warm and the seventh of January was a regular summer day. So if there is anything in the old adage, and there seems to be, you may look out and prepare for hot spring days and a scorching summer.

Better get busy and build in Washington Park for here warm season is not dreaded. Act at once. A. C. HATHAWAY.

DANCING IN ARMOY LAST EVENING.

There was dancing in the Armoiy last evening from 9 till 11 o'clock, about 18 couples being on the floor. Excellent music was furnished by the colored string band.
