NEW COLLEGE PLANS REVISED MONDAY NIGHT

Dr. Edgar A. Lowther, president of the Washington Collegiate Institute, has revised the plans for the new college to be placed in Washington Park, now in the city with his family. They are staying at present with Mrs. J. R. Kessinger on Market street.

There will be a meeting for the final revision of plans for the first building Monday evening by the local advisory committee and the committee of the Methodist Episcopal church. The architect, Mr. Stout of Rocky Mount, is expected to meet with these two committees.

Work is expected to begin in the near future upon the buildings of this new Methodist College, which, if some carefully laid plans materialize, will eventually be one of the greatest colleges in the State. It is imperative that work begin soon, in order to be ready for the opening of the institution the first of October.

The Methodist Episcopal church, which boasts of a greater number of communicants than any other religious body in America with the single exception of the Roman Catholic church, has a number of institutions of learning scattered throughout the country. This body has built up some of its richest and most flourishing universities, such as Syracuse University, N. Y. Perhaps their best known institution in the South is Chattanooga University.

When it was determined to place a college in Eastern Carolina, various towns and cities of the section were considered. The Washington Chamber of Commerce, however, went after the college in its usual irresistible style, and made such a generous offer that the Methodist Board simply could not think for a moment of turning it down.

The result is that a future educational center, and Washington Park is a college community as well as a rapidly developing suburb.

Several preliminary visits were made here by such men as Dr. Thos. Nicholson and Dr. Howard, both eminent in the Methodist church, and who left a most pleasing impression upon Washington citizens.

The institution opens this coming October with three departments, collegiate, academic, and preparatory. It is planned to establish a farm and a school garden as soon as it is practicable for teaching the students agriculture.

Dr. Lowther, first president of the Washington Collegiate Institute, is a native Southerner, claiming Virginia as his birthplace. Despite the fact, however, that his grandfather Lowther fought valiantly for the Confederacy, he has spent most of his life in the North.

For the past five years he has been pastor of St. Stephen's M. E. church in New York City.

He is a graduate of Syracuse University, where he distinguished himself by his remarkably high scholarship, and is also a graduate of Union Theological Seminary, New York City.

In addition to this, he has taken a considerable post-graduate work in Columbia University.

President Lowther expresses himself as delighted with Washington, and in his short stay has already made many warm friends.

THOSE WHO CAN VOTE IN COMING ELECTIONS

Recorder W. B. Windley and the members of the local bar have been overwhelmed with questions all to the same purport, namely, "How long does a person have to live here before he can vote?" Therefore, it may not come amiss to state the law in this respect.

Two years in the State, six months in the county, and four months in the precinct, ward, or township, is required.

When one moves from one ward, precinct, or township in the county into another, he may vote in his old place of residence until four months after removal.

TARBORO BEATEN BY LOCAL HIGHS

With a yell and a roar the Tarboro High School baseball team blew into town yesterday with a pitcher who claimed to have struck out thirteen men in five innings at Scotland Neck a short time ago. Great expectations were blown to atoms, for Tarboro had to take this pitcher out of the box after he had sent men to first on wild balls and, Washington had scored five runs in the first and four in the second innings. Tarboro was outclassed from the very beginning of the game and showed up poorly in almost every particular, yet they have good material for a fast team after they have had more work.

One of the largest crowds seen at the grounds since the season began was in attendance, and the home boys will realize something out of the venture in a financial way. Threatening clouds were much in evidence and a brisk wind from the south blew up little gusts of real estate, but the sun came out occasionally to enliven the scene.

Inning One.
Precisely at 3:55 the Tarboro's went to bat and Davis, the first man up, fanned on three straight strikes. Hodges followed suit; Pender hit a liner to Fulford, who mitted it and held on. Side out. With Washington at bat, Rabbit sent a fly to left field and made first, but got out at second trying to stretch, that tag Sam Fowle got to first by being hit by the ball and made second easily. Sam scored the first run on a wild throw from second to third, when Moore hit a liner to second. Moore also stole second, and on third on a run between second and third basemen, Taylor hit a second, scored Howard got first, and Moore scored the second run on Taylor's hit. Hodges got first on ball, Fulford sent a liner to right field making first, and Taylor scored on third run. Smith struck out. J. Fowle sent a little liner down center and got to second base scoring Howard and Hodges. Weston put up a fly to third and was caught out.

Inning Two.
Barlow struck out. Webster hit a single over second, making first. J. Pender struck out. Webb stole second. Malett sent a fly to Howard who held. All out. Sam Fowle got to first on ball, stole second. Moore hit a fly to left field and got to second advancing Sam to third. Taylor hit a fly to left field and went out. Howard got a two-bagger and scored Fowle and Moore. Hodges hit to center field making second and bringing in Howard. Fulford hit a fly to pitcher and went out. Hodges stole third, Smith hit a pretty fly over third and Hodges scored. J. Fowle made a punt and was thrown out at first. Four runs.

Inning Three.
Harris struck out. Britt let the pitched ball hit him and went to first. Davis struck out. Sam threw Britt out at second, making a double play. All out. Tarboro changed pitchers, putting in J. Pender. Weston hit to pitcher and went out at first. Sam Fowle hit to right field making two bases, Moore hit to second going out at first, while Sam scored. Taylor hit to right field for a base and went out stealing second. One run made this inning.

Inning Four.
Hodges hit a fly to short, went out. Pender hit to pitcher and was thrown out, Barlow hit a fly back of Smith on third, Smith making the sensational play of the game by a running backward catch putting out the side in quick order. Howard hit fly to right field and was caught out. Hodges struck out. Fulford sent a liner to center field and was caught out. Another quick inning.

Inning Five.
Webb struck out before he got hold of the bat. J. Pender sent a long fly into left field, making a three-bagger. Malett sent up a little foul near the back stop but Sam Fowle turned a back summer-sault and nabbed it. Harris hits to pitcher, who fumbles, and J. Pender scored the first run for the visitors. Harris got out stealing second. One run.

Smith got to first on a hit to third, stealing third on a wild throw to second. J. Fowle hit a fly to second, and was caught out. Weston got to first and Smith scored. S. Fowle went out on a fly foul. Weston stole to third base. Moore went to first by being hit by pitcher, Moore stole second.

LOYAL DAUGHTERS MEET WITH MISS WATSON

The Loyal Daughters of the First Christian church keep displaying more and more Christian activity, with seeming determination to make their little circle an indispensable asset to their own church in particular and to the community in general.

Yesterday afternoon, they met with Miss Nancy Watson on Florence street from 4 to 6 o'clock. The attendance was, fortunately, exceptionally good for there were several important matters to come up for discussion, and business of far-reaching significance was transacted.

In order to give a social aspect to the occasion, which was primarily a business meeting, delicious refreshments were served by the charming hostess.

Superintendent Ellis, and Rev. R. V. Hope met with them, representing the Sunday school and church respectively.

MISS GRIFFIN ENTERTAINS.
Miss Sybilla Griffin entertained a number of friends last evening at her home on Market street. Dainty refreshments were served. When the happy guests bade their charming hostess good bye, they one and all reported a most pleasant evening.

and, and Taylor got first by being hit. Howard hit to pitcher who fumbled and Moore and Weston scored. Hodges went out at first.

Inning Six.
Britt was put out at first by a hit to pitcher, Davis struck out. Hodges got to the first sack by walking, but was thrown out by the catcher in stealing second.

With Washington up, Fulford walked, won the second stop when Smith hit to short, but Smith couldn't run fast enough for the first baseman was waiting for him with the belt when he arrived. J. Fowle fouled out to third. Weston hit to third and secured first place, scoring Fulford. Weston advanced to second and stole third, Sam Fowle hit over third and made the whole circuit without a stop, but neglected to register at some of the regular stations and take on gasoline, so the umpire called him out, but Weston came in, making another black mark on the score board.

Inning Seven.
Pender came up with blood in his eye, but ended by a strike out, likewise Barlow who followed. Webb hit to right field on one sack, stole second and took third, then Sam let J. Pender walk. Pender also stole to second. Malett hit to Smith, who let the balloon go by letting in Webb and J. Pender. Webb's tally counted, but the umpire had it that J. Pender forgot to stab the third sack sufficiently hard enough, so his run was not counted. Malett went out stealing third.

"After this ending Moore got out on a hit to first. Taylor went out on a throw from third to first. Howard out on a hit to pitcher.

Inning Eight.
Harris was thrown out at first. Britt followed suit. Davis hit to left field and won first, took second by Fowle miffing at plate, then Hodges struck out.

The Washington Hodges hits to second was thrown out. Fulford put up a little fly to short and went out. Smith started to first on three strikes but the catcher threw him out.

Inning Nine.
Pender struck out. Barton got first on a hit to right field. Webb secured first on a hit to left field advancing Barton to second, J. Pender struck out. Malett sent a fly almost straight up and J. Fowle mitted it stopping the game at 5:30 with the score 15 to 2 in favor of the Washington High School team.

PRESIDING ELDER PREACHES AT METHODIST CHURCH.
The services at the First Methodist church tomorrow give promise of being especially interesting. Both morning and evening the pulpit will be occupied by Dr. J. T. Gibbs, presiding elder of the Washington district.

Good music may be expected.

Sunday school will be held in the afternoon at 4 o'clock, led by the superintendent, Mr. E. R. Mixon.

Strangers and visitors are most cordially invited to all the services.

As to "Looking Gift Horses in the Mouth."

The old saying, "Don't look a gift horse in the mouth," used to apply to the advertiser of a manufacturer did for the benefit of the retailer who handled his product.

The mere fact that the manufacturer was spending his money on advertising was supposed to satisfy the retailer, who was told not to question the quality of the "gift horse"—the advertising being the "gift horse."

Times have changed. Retail houses understand the value of advertising that creates direct demand of local newspaper advertising.

If the manufacturer wants to spend money in advertising for your benefit, Mr. Retailer, why not insist that it shall be spent where it will do both you and him the most good?

The best way to bring customers to your store to inquire for a nationally distributed article is through the columns of the Daily News and other good newspapers. Tell the manufacturer that, Mr. Retailer.

FLIES

Are prodigious eaters. They devour half their weight of food at a time. Here follows a most dangerous fact about FLIES. Their digestive processes are extremely simple.
