THE ELECTION.

Yesterday's election passed off quietly, while some were necessarily defeat in the best of humor and to-day all is harmonious and no feeling of ill-will should exist. It is now the duty of every citizen to strive to assist the administration in every work for the best interest of the city. The bond issue must soon be voted on and the citizens of Washington cannot afford to permit the city to remain at a stand still. This bond issue means much for the progress of Washington, therefore all should work as of one accord to make its passage sure.

CONGRESS FOR STUDY OF OUR SOCIAL CONDITIONS

The Southern Sociological Congress which meets in Atlanta April 25-29 should have the hearty endorsement of every true Southerner. This congress is a gathering mostly of genuine Southern men, not men who have moved away from our section and like to tell us from the vantage ground of some Northern city like New York or Boston what poor benighted creatures we are.

Men like President E. C. Mitchell of the University of South Carolina, Bishop Thayer of New Orleans, Governor Mann of Virginia, President W. L. Poteat of Wake Forest and Bishop Strange of North Carolina, have gathered together to talk over Southern conditions, not because we especially need "uplifting" missionary treatment, but because they realize that in the negro problem the South has a burden of responsibility such as no other section has to bear.

LABOR NEWS AND NOTES.

The big mine strike in Spain has been settled. Washington rumors say that President Wilson will get much of his advice on labor reforms from Interstate Commerce Commissioner Franklin Lane, who is an expert on the subject.

The culinary crafts of San Francisco have inaugurated a vigorous campaign to secure the 1915 convention of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees' International Alliance and Bartenders' International League of America for San Francisco.

Governor Lister, of Washington, has signed the trading stamp bill and the electrical workers' protection code bill. The trading stamp bill requires any company operating in the state to pay an annual license of $6,000 for each county in which it does business.

The Labor Temple at Vancouver, British Columbia, recently erected, and which, with the land on which it stands, represents an outlay of more than a quarter of a million dollars, is owned by the organized labor of Vancouver, the trades and labor council carrying the controlling interest.

Mayor Marx, of Detroit, plans to issue a proclamation telling the people that the street railway company has no rights on the streets, where franchises have expired, and that they shall pay only 3-cent fares. He is asking that the $250,000 motor bus appropriation be changed to read for motor busses or storage battery cars.

At the next Trades Union congress in Great Britain a movement will be inaugurated for the establishment of a trades union bank on co-operative lines, and the projectors have no doubt that the enterprise will take definite shape.

Windsor and Walkerville have already become the automobile center for Canada. This is accounted for by the fact that it is extremely convenient for Detroit manufacturing firms to establish branches so close to the head office.

PHIPPS CLINIC OPENS.

Baltimore, Md., April 16.—Physicians whose names are among the greatest in America and Europe, including Sir William Osler, Bart., F. R. S., of Oxford, Dr. Harvey Cushing of Harvard and others equally prominent are here to participate in the exercises marking the opening of the Henry Phipps Polychiatric Clinic at the Joseph Hopkins' Hospital here this afternoon. The clinic is the gift of the Pittsburgh steel magnate, who is also here, and cost $650,000. The exercises will continue for three days, during which lectures and demonstrations will be given by the distinguished guests of the University.

The opening of the clinic makes Baltimore the possessor of the first institution of this kind in the Western Hemisphere, and the third in the world.

Bring the Farm to Town

Among the ways of providing better transportation facilities for the busy farmer is the construction of roads capable of a radial system of roads running out into the country from one or fifteen miles. Farmers then could drive in with their products at any season of the year and save the profits of possibly two middlemen and at least one, the railroad. In practice it generally works out that this saving is shared by both the consumer and producer. It would seem that any city could well afford to contribute generously as a business proposition to such a project, which would both bring trade to her merchants and cheaper food for her people—Winnipeg Telegram.

Value of Good Roads. One of our most able writers on rural economies has said that he would be glad to pay for the price of a farm for every mile away from turn or shipping point. He has not put it away too strongly for the market and facilities for marketing are large elements in the value of a farm. It is variously estimated that a farm in a locality where the roads are generally improved is worth from $10 to $25 per acre more than the same farm would be worth if the roads were unimproved.

For Burns, Bruises and Sores. The quickest and surest cure for burns, bruises, boils, sores, inflammation and all skin diseases is Bucklen's Arnica Salve. In four days it cured L. H. Hadin, of Irwell, Tex., of a sore on his ankle which injured him so he could hardly walk. Should be in every house. Only $1c. Recommended by Hardy's Drug Store.

Importance of Good Roads. Delaware county, Pa., is furnishing an illustration of the most obvious highway is going to play in growth freight traffic in the near future. Thousands of dollars' worth of goods that until recent years were taken by the railroads are now delivered direct from the stores or from the farms to the cities. Motor wagons are penetrating the farming districts and taking freight from the farmers' door to the city market and bringing back purchases by the same method. In short, good roads will be the leading factor in determining the mooted question of freight rates.
