INCOME TAX EXPLAINED BY UNDERWOOD

The proposed income tax is expected to yield an annual revenue of $190,000,000. Chairman Underwood makes the following explanation of the provisions of the law.

In formulating this additional impost the attempt has been made to provide not only a source of revenue, but also a means of redressing in some measure the unequal tax burdens which result from the practice of basing the federal income entirely upon customs and internal revenue duties.

The effort has been made to arrive at an inclusive definition of income, which is described as: gains, profits and income derived from salaries, wages of compensation for personal service of any kind and in whatever form paid, professions, vocations, businesses, sales or dealings in property, whether real or personal, growing out of the use or interest in real or personal property, trade, commerce, interest, rent, dividends, premiums, securities or the transactions of any lawful business carried on for gain or profit.

BIG HIT SCORED LAST NIGHT BY LOCAL ACTORS

"Mammoth musical extravaganza" is the highly colored language used by Harry Foote in his advance notices of his production of Blumberland. Mr. Foote, who has been nearly everything from musical composer, lyric writer, press agent, director of big professional shows, and trainer of amateurs, gives evidence in his irresistible methods of advertising of his experience and natural talent as a press agent.

FIRST DEFENDERS GATHER.

Philadelphia, April 12.—Second in importance only to the Gettysburg encampment, so far as civil war veterans of this city are concerned, is the celebration which began today by members of Post No. 2 of the G. A. R., to mark the fifty-second anniversary of the visit of five companies of Pennsylvania soldiers to President Lincoln after he had issued a call for 100,000 men to defend the Union.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY HONORS.

Former Congressman Gilbert N. Haugen of Iowa is 54. He was born in Rock County, Wis., in 1859; since the age of 14 and prior to his election to Congress, he was engaged in various enterprises, principally real estate and banking; was treasurer of Worth County, Iowa, for six years; was elected to the Iowa legislature, serving in the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth General Assemblies; was elected to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth, Sixtieth, and Sixty-first Congresses, and re-elected to the Sixty-second Congress.

Mr. R. J. Jones, Jr. of Wilmington was greeting friends yesterday upon the streets of Washington.

Mr. W. B. Harding in high silk hat and Prince Albert coat as the Senator from Pennsylvania looked as eminently respectable and polished as though he had just come from a conference with John D. Archbold and Henry C. Frick. Mr. Harding played in a manner in keeping with his good "make-up."

E. H. Harding as the Senator's son had the leading "juvenile" lead, and played to Miss Bragaw's Helen with a dash and "sang froid" which left nothing to be desired.

James Fowle gave a majestic interpretation of the part of the wizard, which suggested Lewis Morrison. It was in the Japanese love-song, however, as Ki Ki, that he scored his greatest triumph.

Isaac Hughes as the Captain cut a splendid figure, and his references to the good ship Elfrida brought hearty laughs.

Miss Alice McCallers as a teacher and William Blount as a student, while they had comparatively little to say, acquitted themselves with credit.

EUROPEAN NEWS AND VIEWS.

London, April 12.—What shall England do with the suffragettes? This is one of the most important questions for the government to settle, and the men who are guiding the destinies of the country realize it.

They have come to the conclusion that imprisoning the offending advocates of votes for women is not proving effectual, so that other measures have to be taken.

Food and lodging would be offered to them, but no compulsion would be put upon them to accept it. They would not be in any sense imprisoned or deprived of their liberty save in one respect mentioned. Government would be no more responsible for their health or well being than for that of any other inhabitant of the island.

The Vatican authorities have become convinced that certain rules must be changed if the life of any Pope is not to be shortened. No ruler of whatever country has greater tasks to perform than the man who lives isolated within the walls of the Holy City no matter how many attendants, clerks, secretaries, etc., there are to assist him.

Such a program, it is declared, is too much for any human being and it is predicted that such restrictions will be made in future as will spare the occupant of the pontiff's chair from this strain to as great extent as possible.

DANIELS TO STOP ALL HAZING AT ANAPOLIS

Washington, April 12.—With the announcement yesterday of his approval of the sentence of the court which dismissed Midshipman James C. Cook from the Naval Academy sent a letter to every midshipman at Annapolis, warning him that hereafter no leniency will be shown hazers, who in addition to being dismissed will receive the additional penalty of imprisonment as provided by law.

"The sentence of confinement would be justified in Cook's case," said Secretary Daniels, "but as I have not had an opportunity to issue a warning before I have let the sentence stand at dismissal. Your hazer is essentially a bully and must necessarily have a streak of innate cruelty. The United States navy has no place for youths of this kind."

"I take this opportunity of saying that this senseless and dangerous practice will not be tolerated at an educational institution founded and supported by the government. Future manifestations of such character at the Naval Academy will meet with rigorous action."

The victim of Midshipman Cook's hazing was Midshipman Newbold Lodge, of Michigan, who was made to stand on his head and do other stunts by Cook.
