A NEW FEATURE OF THE DAILY NEWS.

Beginning Monday, the DAILY NEWS will publish daily a series of interesting lectures and views on topics which are bound to please and interest all of our intelligent readers.

Next week, the study of the Panama canal will be taken up. We will publish a full account of the work that has been done in the construction of the canal and many interesting details connected with that part of the country. A different story about the canal will be taken up every day during the week. Each account will be illustrated with clear and distinct photographs.

The following week another subject will be taken up and discussed. In this way, our readers will be able to gain valuable information regarding subjects about which the general public knows very little.

It will miss a one of the series. Begin Monday and follow the course through to the end.

THE KAISER'S DAUGHTER WEDS.

Grand Social and Political Event of Many Years.

Princess Louise, daughter of the Emperor and Empress became the bride of Prince Ernst of Prussia. The ceremony was a grand social and political event that has occurred in Germany for many a year. When Princess Victoria Louise, daughter of the Emperor and Empress became the bride of Prince Ernst of Prussia, the late Queen Victoria, and Prince Ernest of Prussia, the German Court is celebrating today the silver anniversary of the wedding of Prince Ernest of Prussia.

The entire trousseau of the bride was made in Germany, and it is one of the most elaborate ever designed for such an occasion. The bride's uniform of the Prince's attendants, as well as officers of the court, made a handsome show. The Kaiser's wife gave the bride away, and the military honors. The Kaiser was dressed in semi-brilliant with magnificent jewelry.

Princess Louise, who entered the church on the arm of her father, was attended in handsome satin with long court train. The wedding party included all the sons of the Emperor and the wives of those who are married. England, Russia, Italy, France, Holland and Spain were represented. Ex-King Manuel of Portugal had his invitation withdrawn because the Kaiser is displeased with him for political reasons.

The wedding has proved an event of greatest importance as well as of interest. The Duke of Cumberland, son of the last King of Hanover, Prince of Great Britain, has never given his consent to Prussia's annexation of Hanover. For this reason he was excluded from the throne of Brunswick, and in 1866, when the Regent of Brunswick died, he was again excluded, as he still adhered to his antagonistic attitude.

The Kaiser repeatedly endeavored to effect a reconciliation between the two houses, but his efforts were unavailing against the Duke's hostility. After the tragic death of the Duke's eldest son, who was killed in an automobile accident last May, the Duke's opposition weakened, and subsequently his only surviving son, Prince Ernest, visited the Berlin court, with the result that he won the Kaiser's only daughter.

The presents which have been coming from all parts of the world for the past two months, are valued at over $1,000,000.

ARTILLERY TO HAWAII.

San Francisco, May 24—Two companies of the Coast Artillery Corps, sailed for Hawaii today, after only ten days' notice. They are the 115th and the 143d, which have been on duty at Fort Washington, Maryland, and on the Potomac river below Washington. It is declared that there is no significance in sending their companies to the East.

A FRIEND'S TRIBUTE.

In Pitt County, N. C., thirty-three years last November, to Markham and Isabella Manning were born Thomas Shephard Manning, their only child. His father soon died, leaving the widow and the little boy. The affectionate mother diligently tried to bring her dear son up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. His was a generous nature; he would do his best for his friends and share his last means with the needy. When about twenty-four years of age, he left the parental roof and went forth into the wide world to work, trying successfully railroad work, first with the A. C. L. system, but latterly with the Norfolk Southern.

In 1904, he was happily married to Miss Maggie Laughinghouse, also a native of Pitt County, to whom he was commendably devoted. This union was blessed with four bright, happy children, in whom the fond father had great pleasure. His last Sunday—yes, last day—on earth was spent with his cherished family in their peaceable home on West Main street, Washington, N. C. His reluctant departure early the next morning was suggestive of a presentiment which proved to be all too real and tragic; for in twelve hours the startling news of his awful death was flashed to his loved ones. While on duty—noble thought! a railway locomotive crushed out his life. Surely, "in the midst of life we are in death."

This mysterious stroke of divine providence fell most heavily upon the aged mother and the young, hopeful wife. May they be consoled by the Master's assurance, "What I do thou knowest not now; but thou shalt know hereafter."—John 13:7.

After many practical kindnesses shown the bereaved ones here, Mr. Manning's remains were borne to the old home three miles east of Wilchard, where they were interred at 2 p. m. on Tuesday, May 27, 1913, and where a large company of relatives, neighbors and friends gathered to pay their last respect, the funeral services being conducted by this writer. May He who is "the helper of the fatherless" and "a judge of the widows" graciously verify his word, "he believeth the fatherless and widow!"

"O Lord! how happy should we be, if we could leave our cases to thee, if we from self could rest."

And feel at heart that one above, In perfect wisdom, perfect love, Is working for the best!"

Sincerely,
ROBERT HOUSTON BROOM,
May 24, 1913.

Klaus to Fight McGorty.

Pittsburg, May 24—Frank Klaus and Eddie McGorty are to fight six rounds before the National A. C. here tonight. The mill will furnish a line on the ability of the men, who have had comparatively easy sailing in the last several bouts.

Mr. McCarty and Mr. Pelky.

Calgary, Alta., May 24—Mr. Luther McCarty and Mr. Arthur Pelky, the New England heavyweights, will have "how'do" to each other in a fistie way before the Calgary boxing club tonight. The bout is for ten rounds, and is of unusual interest because of the cleverness Pelky has been displaying in recent mills.

Cornell and Harvard in Rowing Contest.

Ithaca, N. Y., May 24—The varsity crews of Cornell and Harvard meet here today in their annual contest on Lake Cayuga. The Cornellians are slight favorites.

Britton to Meet Graves.

New York, May 24—Jack Britton and "Kid" Graves have been matched to fight before the National A. C. for six rounds tonight.

Seaside Picnic.

Fish become ill and die from sea sickness when carried long distances upon the ocean, says Inspector Mechanic Manning. For 428 fishes many rare and interesting specimens captured in tropical countries, almost all brought alive to northern points for public inspection. In a recent shipment of 600 fish from Key West to New York more than 100 died on the way and the remainder arrived in a condition that required heroic treatment to save their lives. According to this it may be presumed that the spray seduced by humans when the ship begins to pitch and roll is as nothing compared with the acute sufferings of tank-inclosed fish. As a precaution the fish are fed practically nothing for at least one day before being taken on board. The unvarnished iron tanks in which the fish are carried contain from ten to fifty gallons of sea water kept at a constant temperature of about 80 degrees by steam from the ship's boilers during the trip.

Very Scientific Punishment.

Here is a curving description of corporal punishment as given in American schools and prisons. It is taken from one of the leading newspapers of Italy and will astonish some people here as much as it probably astonished the Italian readers. "The most execrable persons are led with eyes bandaged and hands shackled to a bath in which there is a little water. They are stripped and made to lie down in the bathtub. In the water is a wire leading from one pole of an electric battery. Another wire leading from the other pole is placed in contact with a sponge which is applied to the bare body of the prisoner. Each time it touches him he receives an electric shock that feels exactly as if he were being whipped. "The punished youth, being unable to see whence the blows come, suffers all the more and is soon under subjection."—New York World.

A Legal Comedy.

The conservatism of the law as it is practiced in Philadelphia received an illustration recently in the loud summons by the clerk of the court to William Penn, Richard Penn and John Penn to appear in court in order that a certain title to land of which they were the original grantors could be cleared of an encumbrance.

No one suggested to his honor, the president judge of common pleas No. 4, that William Penn had been dead 200 years, and his sons Richard and John nearly as long. There was no need of such a suggestion. Every one within hearing of the clerk's voice knew that it was a vain show and an empty form that was proceeding before their eyes. Through the idle-eying of the names of men two centuries dead the demands of the law were satisfied and a title was cleared. Case and Comment.

When an Animal Chokes.

Few emergencies which arise on the farm are more easily dealt with than choking. In cases of this kind we have never known the white of an egg when poured down the sufferer's throat to fail to give relief. To administer the egg quickly and surely it should be broken into a wide mouthed bottle. When such a bottle is not quickly available, however, any ordinary bottle can be used by using a funnel to get into it, and where a funnel is not at hand one can be made by rolling a piece of paper into the desired shape. When everything is ready the animal's head should be raised as high as possible, the bottle thrust far up into the throat and the contents emptied. The egg will immediately pass down and make the throat passage and the offending obstacle so smooth that it will pass on into the stomach.—Farm and Fireside.

She Didn't Like It.

Even unto honors, if they must carry them alone, children in America would not be born. A little girl who lives in my neighborhood came home from school in tears one day not long ago. Her father is a celebrated writer. The schoolteacher, happening to select one of his stories to read aloud to the class, mentioned the fact that the author of the story was the father of my small friend.

"But why are you crying about it, sweetheart?" her father asked. "Do you think it's such a bad story?" "Oh, go," the little girl answered; "it is a good enough story. But none of the other children's fathers write stories! Why do you, daddy? It's so peculiar!"—From "The American Child."

Turning Away Wrath.

The garden gate was open, and a small boy nuzzled to look at the daffodils within easy reach. He was just about to grab one when a bedridden widow opened and an angry householder appeared. "These need tending badly, sir," said the smart boy. "These big flowers are too heavy for their stems." There is no question that if that boy keeps out of prison he will get on.—Manchester Guardian.

On Exhibitor.

"Have you seen Mamie's engagement ring?"

"Of course. Did you have an idea that she was making an effort to hide it?"—Detroit Free Press.

Very Decollete.

"Poor chap! Everything he earns goes on his wife's back." "Well, if you'd seen her at the opera you wouldn't think he earned much."—Exchange.

Only Safe Way.

Crizes—Can you keep a secret from your wife?—Erizes—Not unless I keep secret the fact that I have one.—Boston Transcript.

Did She?

"Do you know, Ethel," said Grace, "I overheard George say to Fred that, although he loved me and wants to propose, whenever he is near me he is too nervous to speak." "Then, my dear," replied Ethel, "I suppose you will be calling him up on the telephone soon."—Exchange.
