POLICE AND WHISKEY RAID

BEN EDWARDS CAUGHT BRINGING LIQUOR INTO THE CITY TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

HAD 36 BOTTLES WITH HIM

Was in Habit of Shipping Liquor to Chocowinity and Bringing it into the City via Horse and Buggy.

Ben Edwards, who resides in Washington, was arrested late Tuesday afternoon on the charge of bringing intoxicating liquor into the city.

Edwards drove from here to Chocowinity the same afternoon and obtained a package there, which had been addressed to him at that town. He intended to carry the liquor back to Washington with him, thinking in this matter to avoid the police.

The latter, however, had been tipped off about Edwards and had him under eye for some time past. When he was seen driving out to Chocowinity Tuesday afternoon, Officers R. J. Roberts and W. R. Peckham stationed themselves on the County bridge and awaited his return.

At about half past six they saw Edwards returning to town in his horse and buggy. When he came abreast the two officers, the latter stepped out and asked him what he had in the buggy. He made some evasive answer and the officers proceeded to search the vehicle.

NAVAL MILITIA BENEFIT AT THE LYRIC THEATRE HELD LAST NIGHT

Vocal Numbers by Miss Rhodes and Cornet Solos by Prof. Smith and Mr. Wade Features of Program

Someone said recently that "Every time Harley Sparrow gives a benefit it's bound to rain." Looks as if the party was correct, for at last night's performance, which was given for the benefit of the Naval Militia, old Jupiter Pluvius was right on the job.

In spite of the rain, a fairly large audience was present, and to say that they enjoyed the performance, is putting it rather mild. After a series of excellent pictures, Miss Ada Rhodes appeared on the stage in the first number of the program.

She was attired in the same costume which she wore in "The Girl in Pink." She sang "Mine" and "The Desert Grow Cold." We won't try to compliment Miss Rhodes on her singing. Everyone in the city, who has heard her, is acquainted with the rich quality of her voice and her charming personality. She was at her best last night and delighted all with the songs she sang.

VAUDEVILLE AT LYRIC THEATRE TONIGHT.

Another sterling act of high quality and good amusement is that of "Clause & Radolff" in a singing, talking and eccentric dancing act that fills the boards at the Lyric Theatre beginning tonight for a three day engagement.

The above mentioned vaudeville act makes their first appearance here this evening at the above place of amusement, and from reports they guarantee to furnish an excellent act.

The motion picture program today is another feature that will have pleasing qualities and a selection of world wide interest. The admission prices will be 10 and 20 cents.

JOHNSON TO BE ARRESTED FOR MUFFLER "CUTOUT."

Mayor Harrison Issues Orders After Hearing Negro Pugilist's Auto in Action.

Chicago, June 5.—Jack Johnson, the negro prize fighter, is to be arrested every time he appears in his automobile in the downtown section, if orders in a letter from Mayor Harrison to Chief of Police McWeeny yesterday are followed. This is one of the first steps by the Mayor in war on the "cutout" muffler. The instructions also are to arrest all other violators of the "cutout" muffler ordinance.

Last Wednesday the Mayor noticed a car twice at two different street intersections of the downtown section running with a "cutout" and smoking. The number of the car was 58-442. From Springfield it was learned that this car is owned by John A. Johnson, No. 3334 Wabash avenue. The Mayor said it was driven by a "big negro." Johnson was arrested and fined $5.

In his letter to Chief of Police McWeeny the Mayor says: "On May 28 I noticed this runabout first at Wabash avenue and Jackson Boulevard and ten or fifteen minutes later at Washington and La Salle streets, not only violating the ordinance prohibiting smoking, but also using the 'cutout' muffler and as evident substitute for a horn. No interference was made with the operation of this automobile by the downtown crossing men.

"I would suggest that they be notified that whenever this automobile or one operated as it was operated, in open defiance of the law, is operated in the downtown district that an immediate arrest be made and that arrears be kept up until the above is eliminated."

JUDGE BRAGAW CHARGES JURY

FORCEFUL CHARGE DELIVERED AT OPENING OF COURT IN CHARLOTTE.

URGES LAW OBSEVANCE

Dealt With Search and Seizure Law at Length. Charge Delivered With a Vigor and Nerve That is Uncommon.

Charlotte, N. C.—Judge Stephen Bragaw opened the June term of Criminal Court, with a powerful charge to the grand jury as to the duties of these officials of the court, the demand for a stricter preservation of the law of the land and a strong presentation of the claims of society upon those who have in hand the immediate enforcement of law. Judge Bragaw has not visited Mecklenburg before, this being his initial trip, to this community on this mission. He made a profound impression upon those who listened diligently to his charge. His language was well chosen and the charge was delivered with a vigor and nerve that is uncommon. He was not specific in his deliverance; rather did his charge have the merit about it that it was not stereotyped. He dealt largely in general terms, stating to the grand jury that it was useless for him to cover ground that has been so frequently covered. The only direct law with which he dealt at some length and with some elaboration was the new search and seizure act and he apologized for even dealing with this measure at such detail, saying that it was only because the grand jurymen might not be acquainted with its purpose and its meaning.

"The ultimate purpose of all these court houses and court terms," said Judge Bragaw, "is to create a better atmosphere in society, to make the world better. We deal here with individuals, but solely because we want to make the individuals better in order to make the State, the Nation and the world better. We want to magnify the sense of justice to the end that society may have a consciousness of the value of peace and the strength that comes through a sense of justice one to another. Other Nations emphasized other virtues, but there is nothing more to them now than a memory. It is distinctive of this Nation that the laws which were stressed by the Great Teacher represent the height of our attainment and that we follow so nearly in the footsteps of Him who outlined the greatest of all laws, that of brotherly dealing one with another."

Judge Bragaw was brief in his presentation, but he made a strong appeal for right living, for consideration of the prevalent laws of the land and for these more essential things, the necessity for the sake of the preservation and security of life and property, that human laws be observed.

OLD JOKE NEARLY CAUSES HIS DEATH.

Milwaukee, June 5.—"If you were my husband I'd give you poison," and "If you were my wife I'd take it."

This old vaudeville quip found a victim in Julius Jeswein, thirty-four, for Jeswein laughed for sixteen consecutive hours after hearing it. Jeswein attended a show in a downtown theatre Saturday night and when the "if you were my husband" funnicle came along he almost had a fit. He let out a roar that shook the building. The calloused audience imagined it would cease, but it did not. Jeswein kept on laughing until the act was forced to discontinue.

Jeswein was remonstrated with, but kept right on laughing. Finally it was seen that he could not stop and he was removed to a hospital. There, although the physicians did everything in their power, Jeswein still laughed for hours and could not stop for a second.

Finally morphine injections were given and still he laughed. More narcotics were administered, but the echoing sound of his wailing and exhausted vocals still strained into mirth continued until he became so weakened that death may result.

Mrs. Martha Smithson and Miss Mary Sumner of Rocky Mount are visiting W. L. Sumner, Mrs. Smithson's brother, and Miss Mary Sumner's nephew.
