CATTLE AT LARGE

We would like to call the attention of the Board of Aldermen to the number of cattle which are allowed to roam at large in the section of the city known as Nicholsonville.

The animals are allowed to run through the streets and are a source of annoyance to people who happen to pass that way. This is especially so in the case of women and children, who go out to the cemetery. There is a law against allowing cattle at large on the streets and it is hoped that the people will make an effort to have their live stock penned up or put in some pasture where they can do no harm.

HOMELESS DOGS IN THE CITY.

Washington certainly has its share of "undesirable" dogs. There are a large number of homeless dogs, which drift about the city and which ought to be put out of the way. These are a source of danger to the residents and it would be a good thing for all if an effort was made to rid the city of the animals.

LABOR NEWS AND NOTES.

There is rapidly adopting modern methods and implements in farming. The farmer here will not be "under the gun" as in some of the other sections of the State.

The Chamber of Commerce of New York will have a large number of delegates at the annual convention of the National Association of Manufacturers, which will be held in Washington, D. C., on June 15 and 16.

The International Women's Suffrage Congress in session at Budapest this week will recommend the adoption of many different laws in different countries for the betterment of working conditions among women. American delegates are unusually prominent at the convention.

When a surface worker in Washington strikes the employment of a large number of prospective bridegrooms in the national capital to obtain a certificate of good health before a marriage license can be obtained.

The Human Heredity Protective Association, whose members include the lame, the halt and the blind, has been formed in Boston. John Lewis, an amputee, is president; John Carroll, a legless man, is treasurer. Fifty of the city's unfortunate who make their living by selling papers, pens and almanacs are the charter members of the association.

Orange, N. J., Alderman in an attempt to solve the problem of the high cost of living, have passed an ordinance allowing the farmers of the community to take their farm produce in the streets and sell them at a public mart. As a result several stores have lowered prices in order to share the business enjoyed by the farmers.

The Chamber of Deputies of Uruguay has approved a measure providing for an eight-hour day for workmen.

At the Episcopal General Convention to be held in New York next October, labor problems will have a prominent place on the program, with divorce and other subjects of world-wide interest. Almost as much time will be allotted to these subjects as to the proposal to change the name of the church to the American Catholic Church.

According to Representative Victor Murrók of Kansas, there are no less than 4,000,000 adult male residents of the United States who have failed to take out citizen papers. These residents are one-seventh of the total number of adult males in the country, and are employed in various trades in various parts of the country. A comparatively small number of them are engaged in business, the large majority being workmen.

THE AMBITIOUS YOUNG MAN'S CHANCE ON FARM RIGHT NOW.

In an article entitled "The Penniless Farmer's Chance," in the current issue of Farm and Fireside, ap-

It happened in Norfolk and it will happen right here in Washington.

Years ago when the old aristocrats of East side, Grand and many other streets in Norfolk (some several blocks away from the business section) were told that they had better buy a lot in Ghent, that as the town grew there homes would be less desirable, they laughed at the idea, but it happened, and it will happen right here in Washington. At first these main thoroughfares grew undesirable. Then the side streets. The first to buy and build in Ghent secured the choice. The front lots. Newcomers, (mostly from North Carolina) also bought and built upon these front lots. Those who waited later, paid more for the back lots than the pioneers paid for the front lots, but then, those back lots were at that late day better than the best lots of any other section around Norfolk and they being only a block or so from their friends, they paid these high prices and were glad to get the lots at that. Hadn't you better be one of the pioneers in Washington Park?

It's true, Washington (and Norfolk) has Norfolk's harbor, neither has Baltimore, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and hundreds of other places, but they grew. All towns were little towns at one time. Washington has a chance and a good one, she too will grow and many times larger than she is. Therefore, be wise; you know in our day the most desirable suburb Washington will ever have is Washington Park. You had better study pears the following:

"In spite of the cry that the high price of land is driving young farmers to some other occupation, there never was a time when an ambitious young country man had a better chance than right now. It is true cost of living and clothing are high, but there are some other things high on the other side of the sheet. Farm products are selling at a very high rate, and farm labor is very scarce, and farm opportunities are multiplying every year.

"With his bare hands any young man can lay the foundation of a modest fortune in a short time, and do it under the most healthful and invigorating conditions. In other words, there never was such a demand for good tenants as there is at present—tenants, not farm hands. Of course there is a steady cry for farm hands, but a young man should seek a place as a tenant instead of as a laborer, for in the former there are chances that the country is just waking up to all over the land.

"Hundreds of middle-aged men in every county in the older part of the farming community are wanting to retire from active work either by moving off the farm or taking a young man into partnership with them. These men feel that they have earned a rest, yet there is no one to whom they can safely entrust their

Fast Being Realized by Washington People.

A little backache at first. Daily increasing till the back is lame and weak. Urinary disorders quickly follow. Dropsy and finally Bright's Disease.

This is the downward course of kidney ills. Don't take this course. Follow the advice of a Washington citizen. Mrs. G. E. Edwards, 223 E. Main street, Washington, N. C., says: "I suffered terribly from backache, accompanied by sharp, shooting pains through my kidneys. The kidney secretions caused me considerable annoyance. I used several kidney remedies but received no relief until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. They drove away the pains and lameness in my loins and strengthened my kidneys. That tired, aching feeling disappeared and I was able to rest better at night."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
