DISCRIMINATION IN FREIGHT RATES.

We would like to call the attention of our readers to the following item which was received by us yesterday. It reads as follows:
Dear Sir:
The officers of the Just Freight Rate Association of North Carolina find that there are in practically every community in the State business men who know of specific rates of freight rates and discrimination and it has been suggested that the newspaper might secure some most interesting data in this way and thereby give the cause to the best advantage.

It is suggested that you will report them in your columns to the best of authentic data regarding the same cases of discrimination which are published. It is the opinion of our business people that the publication of these facts will do much to create a lively interest in the cause to secure this adjustment.

Yours very truly,
LEAKE CARRAWAY,
Executive Secretary,
Just Freight Rate Association,
1000 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

EDUCATION FITS FOR LIFE

Education in the world today.

The education of the future will render greater aid in the economic betterment of the people. It will put more resources into the pockets of the average man, which will enable him to put more in his work and get more out of life. When Dr. Daubford was president of Ohio Wesleyan, he held a quarterly conference near Delaware in the interest of the University. The son of a farmer met him at the train and confided to him his deep desire for a college education. He talked to the father over the possibility of his sending his son to college. He didn't see how it could be done on an account of an $18,000 mortgage on his place. Finally the college president persuaded the farmer to allow his son to go. But this boy had six brothers and sisters who followed the older son to the college one at a time. These children finally scattered to their life work in the professions and in business. Fifteen years later the father of these children whom he couldn't afford to send to college had the satisfaction of knowing that the average salary of his seven children was $1,800 a year. Together they could have paid off the mortgage seven times a year. But when the education that is ideal prevails, this farmer will not have a mortgage on his farm and will be able without hardship to send his son to college if he wants to go. With the dawn of greater agricultural knowledge the most productive and comfortable calling will be that of the farmer. I would like to match the experience of Dr. Daubford with that of Dr. Hopkins, an expert soil chemist. On a demonstration farm in southern Illinois an analysis of the soil showed that it lacked phosphate and that a dollar and half's worth per acre would increase the yield from 12 or 13 to 20 or 30 bushels. He called in the farmers of the surrounding counties and showed them the advantages of rock phosphate as a remedy for depleted soil. A gray-haired man came up to Dr. Hopkins and said, "Mr. Hopkins, I want to thank you for what I have seen today, but, God help me if I only knew that thing forty years ago." He said, "I have got six boys in my family and I have labored night and day to keep body and soul together, to keep my family together, and what have I got for my farm, 12 to 16 bushels of corn to the acre, all that I could make. I would like to have sent my boys to college. I would like to have given those children an education, but I could not raise enough crops on that piece of land. I have tilled all my life time and have earned enough to support my family. If a man had only come to me when I was a comparatively young man and told me if a woman I wealthy it is today, that $100 worth of rock phosphate would have given me 50 bushels of corn per acre, I could have sent my children to High School and the University. Now I am at the end and nobody told me that." The education of the future will help every man in just such a position and also the boy will learn at school as a part of his training those things that his father didn't know, so that he may give to his children what could not be given him by a former generation.

With the limits of a brief article it would not be possible for us to speak of the debt that education owes to the physical, moral and religious life of man. We must not, however, neglect the relationship that exists between education and economic improvement. We do not mean to say that economic improvement is the chief purpose of education but that it is an important factor in modern training for life. Any education that does not teach the dig-city of soil is not worthy of the name. If a boy goes away to school and there thinks he becomes more of a man by learning to work less, he is deluded. The college graduate who feels himself above work is a detriment in the modern social order. We need trained men in every field of human endeavor. The improvement of the individual will raise the standard of living and efficiency in every branch of activity. Education will make work a blessing and not a curse, enable man to see in every task possibilities that he could not otherwise discover. School should teach every boy and girl that work is providential blessing. It will help him see the significance in Van Dyke's beautiful prayer:

"Let me but do my work from day to day.

In field or forest, at the desk or loom,
In roaring market place, or tranquil room;
Let me but find it in my heart to say,
When vagrant wishes beckon me to stray,
"This is my blessing not my doom;
Of all who live I am the one by whom
This work can best be done in this the right way."

Then shall I see it not to great or small
To suit my spirit, and to prove my powers;
Then shall I cheerfully greet the laboring hours,
And cheerful turn when the long shadows fall
At eventide, to play and love and rest.
Because I know for me my work is best."

LABOR NEWS AND NOTES.
Laundries in St. Paul, Minn., are making deliveries by parcels post.
The materials used by Paris bakers are tested in a laboratory maintained by the bakers.
Managers of the State railroad at Baden, Germany, have established a course in English for their employes.
Cleveland bricklayers will soon vote on the question of having their international union affiliate with the American Federation of Labor.

The Musicians' Union of San Francisco has amended its laws as to funeral detail. The members will hereafter be chosen in alphabetical order and will be paid $3 for the service. A failure to attend or furnish a substitute will entail a penalty not to exceed $5.
Plans for the establishment in Springfield, Mass., of an arbitration committee composed of an equal representation from the central labor union, the ministers' association and the board of trade, have been defeated for the time being at least, by the refusal of the board of trade directors to concur in the proposition.
Dishonest commission merchants of New York City are running to cover in consequence of the World's exposure of their fraudulent returns to farmers and the arrest of three commission men after the grand jury had returned six indictments—two against each—charged with making false returns on shipments of eggs.
Members of the American Federation of Musicians' traveling with vaudeville companies, must demand the following scale of prices: for twelve performances or less per week, $50 a man; extra performances, $3 each; leader, for like number for performances a week, $75, and $4 for each extra performance.
In its preparations for the coming Labor Day celebration, the San Francisco committee on arrangements will insist that contracts for uniforms and other paraphernalia shall be given only to firms that will guarantee to have the work done by union labor and to place the union label on the finished product.

Meredith College

One of the few colleges for women in the South that confers an A. Speedy Coasting.
The finest coasting hill in the world is at St. Moritz, in Switzerland. The hill is a mile long and to coast down it takes, on an average, sixty-seven seconds. The Cresta course, as it is called, is level and runs between steep banks. The turns are dangerous, and only skilled coasters venture on it. They use the American flat toboggan lying on the stomach and steering with the feet, but with lifts and jerks of the body. A few seconds from the start on this course the coaster is going at a speed of twenty miles an hour. This speed soon increases to forty miles. Faster and faster he flies swooping down the precipitous Cresta leap at the speed of an express train and then on to the long, straight Shut-tlecock run. To fifty, to sixty, to seventy to eighty miles an hour the passenger sits in the like the flight of the swiftest bird through a blinding blizzard of snow. Yet the speed still increases and at the end of the Shuttlecock eighty-seven miles an hour is registered. These Cresta coasters are not problematical. They are the accurate timings of an electric clock.

Guaranteed Eczema Remedy.
The constant itching, burning, redness, rash and disagreeable effects of eczema, tetter, salt rheum, itchy piles and irritating skin eruptions can be readily cured and the skin made clear and smooth with Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment. Mr. L. C. Evenden, of Bath, Ill., says: "I had eczema twenty-five years and had tried everything. All failed. When I found Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment I found a cure." This ointment is the formula of a physician and has been in use for years—not an experiment. That is why we can guarantee it. All druggists, or by mail. Price 50c.
