SERVICES AT FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

REV. J. A. DAILEY TO PREACH TOMORROW, LAST NIGHT'S SERVICES WELL ATTENDED.

At 3:45 a. m. Sunday school, led by E. H. Nixon, superintendent. At 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. preaching by Rev. J. A. Dailey, of Hamlet, N. C.

Mr. Dailey is one of the very best evangelist-pastors in the North Carolina Conference, his labors in many places having been signally blessed. He is to preach through next week at 4 p. m. and 8 p. m.

All are kindly invited to these services.

The services at the First Methodist church last evening were quite interesting, led, as they were, by Rev. H. B. Seagrath, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The text was John 14:16—"And I will pray the Father and he shall give you another comforter, that he may abide with you forever." The speaker's salient points were, first, the Holy Spirit's Personality; second, the Holy Spirit's Office as Comforter, or Strengtheners. The sermon was strong and helpful, and was much enjoyed.

Standard familiar hymns were sung in fine spirit, and the third service of the meeting closed with hopeful feeling.

NEW HAND-SHAKE IN WASHINGTON

The "piston" hand shake has invaded Washington. It is supposed to be the latest thing in the way of greeting a friend.

You work it the same way as you would a cross-cut saw; pull and push. The hands must not be moved up and down, but in a horizontal direction. The young people of Washington have already "gotten next" to the new shake and use it almost exclusively. It's nifty.

Newport News, Va., June 21.—Shipping under sealed orders, the British steamer Earl of Elgin left port yesterday with a cargo of coal on account of the government. Where the coal is to be taken cannot be learned, as even the captain of the vessel will not know until he opens his sealed orders at sea. The steamer is believed also will shortly take with a cargo of government coal and will go under sealed orders.

HARVARD WINS BOAT RACE

CROSSES FINISH LINE FIVE LENGTHS AHEAD OF THE YALE CREW.

New London, Conn., June 21.—Harvard won an easy victory over Yale yesterday in the varsity four-oared two-mile race, the crimson bladed crew crossing the finish line five lengths ahead of the Yale oarsmen.

The contest was rowed in a nasty rain and the rippled surface of the Thames caused slow time. The unofficial time of the winner was 11 minutes and 53 seconds.

Yale caught the water first, but the Harvard crew soon put the nose of their shell to the fore. The strong even stroke of the Harvard men steadily opened up a gap between the two shells so that at the mile mark Yale was two lengths behind. This lead was increased to three lengths at the mile and three-quarters.

Harvard fished over the finish line five lengths ahead. The Yale crew was in bad shape at the end of the contest, No. 2 almost collapsing. The struggle for honors between the first year crews was, however, a real race. Although the crimson won, the showing of the Ell youngsters was excellent.

Both crews finished the hard race without signs of excessive physical exhaustion and held perfect stroke form until the end. So far as could be judged from the average spectator's point of view there was very little difference between the so-called Wray stroke and the English stroke rowed by the Yale freshmen.

The Yale crew used the English method of seating and Tholepis carlocks in place of the swivel outrigger of the Harvard shell. There was nothing to indicate an advantage one way or the other in these differing forms of shell rigging and the crews appeared to win and lose on physical form and rowing technique as in past years.

OARSMEN AT POUGHKEEPSIE.

Poughkeepsie, June 21.—The intercollegiate regatta, one of the greatest events of the year in rowing circles which takes place on the Hudson today is sure to be the most successful event in the history of these contests. Cornell has drawn the choice of positions in the varsity race, as will be shown by the following schedule:

For the varsity race: Syracuse, No. 1; Cornell, No. 2; Columbia, No. 3; Pennsylvania, No. 4; Wisconsin, No. 5; Washington, No. 6. The freshmen crews will row: Columbia, No. 1; Pennsylvania, No. 2; Cornell, No. 3; Syracuse, No. 4; and Wisconsin, No. 5.

As a year ago, the courses are to be rowed under one span of the bridge, and this will bring them pretty close together. The program includes both eight-oared and four-oared events. The Washington varsity eight won the intercollegiate rowing championship of the Pacific coast last month, defeating both Standard and California easily.

PIERCE FIGHTING IN MEXICO.

Laredo, Texas, June 21.—After fighting their way through the State of Nuevo Leon, Gen. Joaquin Teller and 1,500 federal troops arrived at Nuevo Leon, Mexico, yesterday from Monterey to reinforce the garrison there in anticipation of a rebel attack.

En route from Monterey, which is 175 miles south of the border, Gen. Teller reports having engaged eight Constitutional bands in battle, and that at least 200 rebels were killed, and as many more wounded. The federal casualties, he declared, were less than ten killed.

It is stated that a large body of revolutionists are marching from Matamoros to join the rebel bands about Nuevo Laredo in an attack on that city.

C. H. Ripetteau and Henry Crumpler, the two Americans arrested by Constitutionalists near Colomibia yesterday, were taken today to Piedras Negras, the headquarters of Venustiano Carranza, the rebel chief, for trial. It is charged that the men are in the employ of the Huerta government.

Douglas, Ariz., June 21.—F. Rivera, revolutionary governor of Sinaloa, left Agua Prieta today after winning from the Constitutional conference there a promise that the Sonora insurgents would endeavor to arise an army of 40,000 men for a campaign in Sinaloa. Rivera is on his way to Orizaba, where the Carranzistas are facing a federal commander, Ojeda, for a decisive battle.

The Sonora State government is reported to have issued an order that the rebels shall collect and keep for war purposes all rents accruing from property within the State. This order also affects property owned by foreigners.

Nation-Wide Newspaper Publicity

From Maine to California, to Florida, every morning from the Canadian northwest, every evening, every day, the news of the world is told in the newspapers which dot the land from ocean to ocean.

It is almost impossible to conceive the tremendous power of informing the public which is thus combined in these daily purveyors of the world's news. In no way dissociated from this great national force for spreading news is an equally strong force for disseminating advertising information.

Those manufacturers who want to create a widespread demand, and who want a larger distribution for their products recognize the influence of the newspaper and tell their story constantly to a dozen, a hundred, or a thousand cities and towns simultaneously.

Makers of nationally sold goods are realizing more and more every day that the daily newspaper offers a more economical and more efficient means of creating actual demand than any other advertising medium.

NEW MACHINE AT BAKER'S STUDIO

W. H. Baker has just installed an air brush machine in his photograph studio. This machine is a distinct novelty in photography, very few of them being in use at the present time.

The machine is run by compressed air. A certain number of pounds are pumped into a tank, which is connected by a rubber tube to a small machine. The latter is held in the hand of the operator. When a lever is pressed, a fine spray of colored powdered is blown out, causing the background of the picture to loom up distinctly. Any desired color may be used. In this manner, most beautiful effects may be secured.

PANKHURST GIRL BARRED FROM MOTHER, ILL.

London, June 21.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, originator of militant suffrage methods and president of the Women's Social and Political Union, who was released from Holloway jail Monday because of illness brought on by a hunger strike, is reported to be in an extremely grave condition.

In addition to acute dyspepsia and heart exhaustion, Mrs. Pankhurst has suffered a nervous collapse. She is so weak she must remain in bed.

It is understood that Christabel Pankhurst, the exiled daughter of Mrs. Pankhurst, telegraphed to Premier Asquith from Paris, asking permission to come to London to see her mother, but the government refused to waive its determination to arrest the girl as soon as she sets foot on British soil.

HANS WAGNER AFTER RECORD.

Pittsburg Shortstop Would Make Total Hits for Seventeen Years 3,000. Pittsburg, June 21.—Hans Wagner is nearing another goal. Before the close of the season the Pirates' great shortstop will in all probability add one more wonderful record to the long string of wonderful performances that has been placed to his credit since he first began his major league career.

This time Wagner is on a new tack and the target at which he is aiming is his 3,000 base hits. You get that? That's more than the entire Pittsburg team makes in two whole seasons, and yet Wagner promises to bang up the record for himself in his seventeenth year as a National League player.

He needs fewer hits than he made last year to boost his total for all time to the mark. To be exact, he has batted safely 2,827 times during his sixteen sensational seasons with Louisville and Pittsburg, so that only 173 more bingles are required during the 1913 season to send him over the line.

Also we may expect incidentally some healthy additions to the 1,541 runs which Wagner already has scored and to the 636 bases which he has stolen.

Not to be overlooked, either, is the possibility that Wagner will contribute another chapter to the remarkable story of unbroken .300 hitting that he has already written into the baseball records.

Even now he has shattered all precedent in that respect, for the Pirate captain stands as the only man in the history of the major leagues who ever batted .300 or better for fifteen straight years, the performance had a parallel in the record of old "Cap" Anson. The latter batted .300 for fifteen consecutive seasons, from 1876 to 1890, inclusive, so that Wagner merely equaled a long-standing record when he clouted in the select circle in 1911, but last year the big German left Anson and all others behind by sticking .300 for the sixteenth consecutive time.

ABOUT THE SAME.

"Where will you reside?" asked the reporter of the young bride couple. "At the Old Manse," replied the erstwhile Miss Millions. "And this is the way the item appeared: "Mr. Hardup and his bride, who was the former Miss Millions, have returned from their honeymoon. They will live at the old manse."—Ruckey's Printerdom.

JAPANESE ENVOYS VISIT WILSON

TALK OVER CALIFORNIA SITUATION AT WHITE HOUSE AND LATER WITH SECY. BRYAN.

Washington, June 21.—A call upon President Wilson, a luncheon conference with Secretary Bryan and a visit to the headquarters of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States made this a busy day for the four commercial envoys from Japan, here on a mission of peace.

The visit to the White House, though brief, was long enough for Doctor Soyeda, who heads the delegation unofficially, to give the President his view of the California alien land act situation. At the luncheon with Secretary Bryan, the visitors are said to have talked freely regarding the California difficulty and to have given their best and comprehensive resume of their view of conditions in the West and also the general feeling in Japan over the passage of the land act.

Details of the conference at the Chamber of Commerce of the United States were not made public but it is understood that the Japanese envoys laid before the officials the plan to enlist the great commercial bodies of America in an effort to bring about a friendly settlement of the California trouble. Two members of the party, Messrs. Chima and Abeko, left yesterday for New York and from there will return to their homes on the Pacific coast. Doctor Soyeda and Mr. Kamlya will remain in Washington for several days before going to New York. They have not announced the date of their return to Tokio.
