NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

One of the greatest slanders of France was returning from New York on a German liner. One evening, glancing at the program of the concert that was to be played at dinner, she saw a triumphal march celebrating the German victory of 1871.

She immediately conceived that the selection of such a piece was an insult to her and announced to a friend that she would express her disapproval at the proper time.

The captain noticed the great artist's agitation and glanced at the program to see what caused it; then, with a faint smile, he spoke to one of the waiters in a low tone. At the moment when the German triumphal march was due to begin the French singer, who could not control her agitation, prepared to leave the table.

The first chord was played, the artist arose and stood, pale, agitated and amazed, while the officers and other passengers also got up and smiled sympathetically at her.

And the band played "The Marseillaise!"

Prompt Lesson.

Some years ago there was in a certain town a judge whose ideas of the majesty of the law at the time of his accession to office were unbounded, and his sense of his own importance as the representative of justice was also great. At one time two persons quarreled in the judge's presence. One man struck the other, and the judge immediately ordered his arrest on a charge of assault and battery.

On the day of the trial the defendant pleaded not guilty. Instantly the judge, who was a short, stout man, was on his feet, crimson faced and puffing with indignation.

"What do you mean?" he demanded of the prisoner without any preamble. "What do you mean by saying that when I saw you and had you arrested I fine you $100 for breach of peace and another $100 for contempt of court, sir, I reckon," said the judge, his nostrils dilating with rage and injured dignity. "I reckon that'll teach folks to be careful how they call this court a liar!"

Not a Thunder Expert.

The masterful manner in which some people evade an issue was mentioned at a recent dinner when this one was recalled by a nasal official.

"In New Orleans one night," the officer said, "there was a man on the stage who offered to answer by mental arithmetic any question that might be asked by the audience. Just so long as the questioner remained in the expected channel the sailing was easy, but finally one man got beyond the bearings.

"If you please, sir," said the man rising from his seat. "How far off can you hear thunder?"

"I can't tell you, sir," was the prompt response of the wonder on the stage.

"You can't tell me?" responded the fan. "Why, I thought—"

"Not about thunder," replied the stage party, doing a quick piece of dodging. "You see, I am a lightning calculator."—Washington Post.

TREES ADD MUCH TO CITY'S BEAUTY

Ceaseless, Unfiring, Effective Agents of Purification.

PROMOTE GREAT WEALTH.

Should Be Planted in Uniform Rows and Cared For by Efficient Men—Aid to Hygiene, Beauty, Education and Economy.

Growing interest in tree-planting, as shown by the general observance of Arbor day throughout America, gives promise of systematic planting of trees along cities' streets. It was not so many years ago that many American cities were noted for their attractive shade trees, but in most instances these trees have been killed by the lack of care or by street paving.

Many of our cities now have a park commission. All trees are under his care, their planting, maintenance and removal included. This is important, as trees can be planted on every residential block, and hence tree-planting on a systematic basis is the most pervasive of all improvements. The same kind of a tree should be planted throughout a block and for several blocks in succession. Systematic tree planting is considered by every far-sighted, modern municipality on account of considerations of hygiene, beauty, education and economy.

Good trees for street planting are the Oriental pine, pin oak, ginkgo and Norway maple. The plane will thrive where few other trees grow, and it may be pruned into wide or narrow streets. The other trees require more moisture and larger open spaces about them, but have darker green foliage and cause less litter on the pavement.

Photos by American Press Association. TWO STREET TREES WHICH WERE PROPERLY PLANTED, as they do not shed their bark, like the plane. In the suburban section tulips, sugar maples, scarlet and red oaks, sweet gums, ashes and Crispian and silver lindens make excellent street

Balced. "There are some things," said the man with the high brow, "that money won't buy."
"I spoke there are," replied the one with the overhanging chin, "but there's no use tryin' to use 'em to get an extension of your credit."—Chicago News and Herald.

Artificial Ears. Artificial ears are so skillfully made that they may with difficulty be distinguished from natural ones. It is said, when the person who has lost an ear applies to the manufacturer for a substitute there is made a mold of the remaining ear. If there be left any part of the other a mold of that part also must be taken to assist in the fitting of the artificial. Manufacturers assert that no two ears are alike and that it takes a skillful workman to prepare an ear from the mold or molds. When finished, says Harper's Weekly, the new ear is pasted on the stump or simply set in the position of the lost ear. It is really only the first artificial ear that is expensive, the chief cost pertaining to the making of the mold. Vulcanized rubber, which can be bent and twisted, has been found to constitute the best material for the making of artificial ears.

The Two Fine Things of Life. Because it is an elementary thing to do it requires courage to buy or build a house. Buy? Build? The universal head becomes a pendulum of warning. There are just two fine things open to most of us between the cradle and the grave. One is to marry and the other is to acquire a home, and the modern answer to both proposals is "Don't." so greatly do men fear life, so exorbitantly do they purport to enjoy it. Phillip Gilbert Hamerton, in "The Intellectual Life," pointed out that the invention of railways had resulted in a return to one of the most marked phases of barbarism, a nomadic life. Since he wrote we have invented the motorcar and the flat, and sixty of residence, which is a distinctive mark of civilization, has become its decline or despair.—London T. P.'s Weekly.

Both Gained. Man and Wife Fatten on Grape-Nuts. The notion that meat is necessary for real strength and the foundation of solid health, has no longer as prevalent as formerly.

Excessive meat eating are usually sluggish a part of the time because they are not able to fully digest their food and the undigested portion is changed into what is practically a kind of poison that acts upon the blood and nerves, thus getting all through the system.

"I was a heavy meat eater," writes an Ills. man, "and up to two years ago, was in very poor health. I suffered with indigestion so that I only weighed 95 pounds.

"Then I heard about Grape-Nuts food and decided to try it. My wife laughed at me at first, but when I gained to 125 pounds and felt so fine, she thought she would eat Grape-Nuts, too. Now she is fat and well and has gained 40 pounds. We never have indigestion any more and seldom feel the desire for meat.

A neighbor of ours, 48 years old, was troubled with indigestion for years, and was a heavy meat eater. Now since he has been eating Grape-Nuts regularly, he says he is well and never has indigestion.

"I could name a lot of persons who have rid themselves of indigestion by changing from a heavy meat diet to Grape-Nuts." "There's a Financier." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book "The Road to Wellville," in page.

Buy your Grape-Nuts from the store nearest you. They are in all stores. Buy from the store nearest you.
