MISS TANKARD ENTERTAINS AT HER HOME

BETWEEN ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY AND TWO HUNDRED GUESTS PRESENT.

SOCIAL EVENT OF SEASON

IN HONOR OF MISS WELTCH, MRS. PORTER, MRS. HARRINGTON AND MISS McMILLAN, WAS MUCH ENJOYED.

Miss Mary Tankard, one of Washington's attractive young ladies, was at home last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Walling, Market street, in honor of Miss Thelma Welch of Jacksonville, Fla.; Mrs. J. E. Porter of Weldon, N. C.; Miss Mary McMullan of Hertford, N. C., and Mrs. Jesse Harrington of this city. Miss Tankard received the married ladies from nine to ten and the younger set from nine-thirty to eleven-thirty. The residence was tastefully and attractively decorated for the auspicious occasion, which proved to be the social event of the season. The color scheme, pink and green, dominated everywhere, being carried out in the serving of the ices, punch, etc. Between one hundred and fifty and two hundred guests were present and no social function given in Washington in some time carried with it more merriment and pleasure. Miss Tankard's at home was always anticipated with fondest anticipations and the one at last evening proved to be no exception.

The guests calling between nine and ten were greeted at the door by Misses Hazel Hodges and Lola Lee Tankard, who received their cards. Just within the main entrance to the home the guests were received by Misses Pearl Campbell and Maud Windley. Mrs. Elizabeth Windley did the honors at the entrance to the living room and Mesdames E. W. Ayers and James Hodges in the dining room. Those serving in the dining room were Misses Elsie Foreman, Bonner Griffith, Norma Jones and Rybilla Arlin. The punch bowl nestled placidly on a side porch and this was gracefully presided over by Misses Ella Lee Campbell and Latham Jones.

Those calling between nine-thirty and eleven-thirty to meet Miss Tankard's honor guests, were greeted at the dining room door by Miss Eliza Branch. Miss Mae Ayers received at the living room entrance. Serving in the dining room were Misses Marie Louise Archbell and Julia Mayo.

Fishermen Get Free Wetting

To get out of bed at 4 o'clock in the morning, row a boat several miles down the placid Pamlico, fish with the mercury registering 100 in the shade and then last but not least, without warning, be treated to a dip in the water, is not what it is cracked up to be. All of the above happened to two of Washington's enthusiastic anglers this week. The wetting occurred near Fowle's dock as the fishermen were leaving a gas boat that kindly towed them to this city. One of the anglers boasts of his avoirdupois, so in getting in the small boat it was decided that he should try the trick first. He landed safely but his companion did not. In getting off of the gasboat his foot slipped and without warning he was seen to plunge towards his companion striking him amidship. The consequence was both men, fishing tackle, all kinds of fish, lunch and condiments and refreshments were confined to a watery grave. Persons standing on the shore watching the scene thought at first that a good size whale was visiting these waters, judging from the quantities of water that was ascending heavenward. For a time it was who and who. After grabbing life preservers and hard work both were finally landed on terra firma. For good reasons the Daily News refrains from calling names. No more fishing for these poor unfortunates certainly until the moon changes and if they go again no matter how intense the heat they have resolved between them to paddle back to town instead of accepting the offer of a tow.

PINETOWN IS CHALLENGED BY AURORA

TEAM OF THAT TOWN ANXIOUS TO TRY CONCLUSIONS WITH RIVALS ON THE DIAMOND.

WOULD BE GREAT GAME

PINETOWN WISHES AND WILLING TO CROSS BATS WITH ANY TEAM BETWEEN WILSON AND ELIZABETH CITY.

Aurora has decided not to let the challenge of Pinetown go by unnoticed, so the Aurora team comes forward with the declaration they are willing to face the mighty sluggers of Pinetown and see if they cannot be subdued. Aurora has always been game so far as sports are concerned and for the past several years her baseball team has made a most enviable record. Pinetown also plays ball so if these two teams do happen to face each other interest will be intense and exciting. Below follows the challenge issued by Capt. E. T. Hooker of the Aurora team to Pinetown:

We notice in Sunday's issue of the News and Observer that Pinetown challenges any baseball team between Wilson and Elizabeth City.

We wish to say that we will play Pinetown in Washington on any date that they may mention, each team pay their own expenses, winner take all gate receipts or winner 75 per cent and loser 25 per cent.

Would like to hear from Pinetown concerning games and dates.

FIGHT FANS FAVOR RITCHIE.

San Francisco, July 3.—Enthusiasm runs high over the fight between Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion and Joe Rivers, of Los Angeles, to take place tomorrow afternoon. The bout is for twenty rounds for the lightweight championship of the world, weight 134 pounds. The purse is said to be the largest ever offered for a fight in California, though the amount has been quoted feebly to state what is right. Ritchie at so many different figures it is difficult to say in the betting, inasmuch as he is not only the title holder, but is boxing in his home town. On the other hand the little Mexican has many supporters. He is not the pretty boxer the champion is, but he is clever in his way and fully as fast. Next to his speed River's best asset is his punch. Ritchie is capable of taking very hard punishment, and is credited with more nerve than Rivers.

LAST SERVICE M. E. CHURCH ENDS TONIGHT

SERIES OF MEETINGS HAVE BEEN IN PROGRESS FOR THE PAST TWO WEEKS.

ANOTHER STIRRING SERMON

REV. MR. DAILEY HAS BEEN PREACHING SERMONS OF POWER. MADE MANY FRIENDS.

At 4 p. m. yesterday a meeting of unusual interest and power was held in the First Methodist church. Mr. Dailey, after showing conclusively scripture authority for Christian experience, related very touchingly incidents pertaining to his own conversion and religious life. This was followed by a general testimony service in which nearly all present took part. It was good to be there. No previous service had been more helpful. "Iron sharpeneth iron; so a man sharpeneth the countenance of his friend."—Prov. 27:17.

Like Mr. Wesley, God's worshippers felt their hearts strangely warmed.

At the evening hour, notwithstanding the heat, there was encouraging attendance to hear possibly the most pathetic appeal of the entire meeting. Lessons were drawn from the parable of the prodigal son. He was treated as having formed a victorious resolution, and that out of first disgust with a sinful life; second, sorrow for wrong doing; third, a sense of home-sickness. It was a sermon of great solemnity and power—just such a one as the prodigals of Washington and other communities to hear and heed.

The meeting will close this evening with the 8 o'clock service, when Mr. Dailey will preach his last sermon, the twenty-second of the series. Will not the church and community accord this faithful man of God a large and commendable hearing, as he conducts his diligent labors here. No afternoon service today.

The Deputy Collector of Customs office for this port has been abolished by the Treasury Department at Washington, D. C. The order went into effect on July 1 and now Deputy Collector George E. Buckman, who has so acceptably filled the position for fifteen years or more, retires. Notwithstanding the fact that Washington has for a number of years done more marine business than New Bern the office here goes out of commission and New Bern is still retained with a deputy collector. Under a recent ruling of the government there will be only one collector for the entire State of North Carolina. This office is located in Wilmington with deputy offices at New Bern, Elizabeth City, Beaufort and Manteo. Mr. Buckman has made an idea official and his retirement and the abolishment of the office here are deprecated not only by the numerous boatmen that have dealt with him for years but the citizens generally. The News readers should not forget that the Harris Hardware Co. and the McKee-Richardson Hardware Co. are to face each other at Fleming Park tomorrow morning promptly at 9:30 o'clock. For days this game between the teams of the respective hardware companies, has been the talk of the city.
