The only authenic portrait of Cleoparra that is known to archaeologists is a bust which appears on a series of coins. It is on the reverse and bears the inacription in Greeki. "Queen Cleoparra, the Divine, the Younger," while on the obverse is a portrait of "Antony, Dictator For the Third Time, Triunvir."
The workmanship of the coin is, far from good, and this accounts in some measure of the queen. Yet the like pearance of the queen. Yet the like pearance of the centure go, is a true one, for the other coins of the ness, as far as the features to is a trie one. For the other coins of the same series, though of a different type, give her the same series, though of a different type, give her the same features an aquinne nose, a strong chio, a long neck and narrow shoulders.

The fact is that her beauty was not so remarkable as one would think from the spell she cast over Caesar and Antony. Plutarch, for instance, tells us "that her beauty in itself was by no means incomparable nor calculated to amaze those who saw, her," but wide that the magnetic charm of the "hanner, the gracefulness of her movements, the persuasiveness of her conversation and her figure were most attractive.

HERE is extra power, extra strength, and extra size in the R-C-H at $900. Unit for unit it is the best popular priced car built. Extra large and specially heat treated chrome nickel transmission gears connect a wonderfully powerful and eco-nomical long stroke motor with the rear axle.

And like every other R-C-H unit, the rear axle is of the very latest and most practical design. It gives maximum power with the minimum waste because it has the minimum friction. There is no ramblin no humming; no balking in its co-operation with the other power units.

So it is with the R-C-H from the motor through the transmission to the rear axle. It is the most thoroughly built car in the world.

The R-C-H English body is extra large, commodious and comfortable.

The long wheel base adds more comfort in easy riding qualities; so do the big tires and the big springs.
To buy a car of the R-C-H size, comfort, strength, power, quality and quietness elsewhere, you must,
pay $1200.
