PLAN CAMPAIGN TO WIN VOTES FOR WOMEN

SUFFRAGETTE CONVENTION BEING HELD AT WASHINGTON

Plans Being Laid For the Extension of Universal Suffrage.

Washington, Aug. 13.—Women voters, representing 4,000,000 of their sex in many states, gathered today as delegates to a three-day conference of the National Council of Woman Voters.

Plans were laid for the extension of universal suffrage in states not now extending the franchise to women, and ways and means for the prosecution of a vigorous campaign were discussed.

When the conference went into executive session delegates from eight suffrage states and the territory of Alaska were in attendance.

The women will hold both morning and afternoon sessions, the public being excluded not even women in sympathy with the "cause," but natives of non-suffrage states, being admitted.

The only exceptions will be tomorrow when the conference will appear before the House Rules Committee to ask for the creation of a woman suffrage committee in that body, and Friday night a mass meeting will be held in a downtown theater.

States represented at the opening conference included California, Colorado, Idaho, Illinois, Kansas, Oregon, Utah and Wyoming.

PIUS MAY DEFINE DOGMA OF ASSUMPTION

Rome, Aug. 13.—Unusual credence has been given to a report circulating in this city today to the effect that Pope Pius is taking steps for the proclamation, as a part of the fundamental dogma of the Catholic church, of the doctrine of the Assumption of the Virgin Mary. The feast of the Assumption of the blessed Virgin Mary is set down in the Catholic calendar as established feast days for August 15, and it is rumored that his Holiness may make his proclamation tomorrow. Should he succeed in carrying out his present desire, it will be the first time a dogma has been proclaimed by a pope since 1870, the last time previous to that being in 1854.

It is now known that since his recent illness Pope Pius, realizing that his active pontificate is practically at an end, has expressed the desire to see of the highest dignitaries of the Catholic church at Rome to round out his career by this last great act. During his entire pontificate Pope Pius X. has devoted practically his entire time, effort and energy to the building up of the religious side of the church only paying little, if any attention to the political side, which has been the sole concern of his predecessor, XIII.

NEWS OF SMART FASHIONS.

By Mamie Hall
New York, Aug. 14.—New materials are engaging the attention of women who are planning their fall costumes. Because tailor-made are to be built upon more elaborate lines, the fashionable fabrics are those showing fancy weaves, brocade effects, clever arrangements of stripes, checks, etc. Entire suits are seldom made of these ultra-dressy stuffs, however. They are at their best when combined with other materials. Usually the coat is of brocade, satin, velours, peau de peche, or de fleur, or some such exquisite fabric, while the skirt is of plain cloth, silk, stamie, voile, etc.

As a rule the latest offerings for fall are expensive. They are, however, unusually wide, so that only a small quantity of material will be required for a coat or jacket.

Vests effects are to be featured extensively on tailored costumes. Sashes, also are to be important features. Gold and silver threads worked into designs of heavy laces of varying widths enrich the garnitures of several dresses for afternoon wear. The autumn tailor-made of 1913 has its advantages in spite of its dressiness, because, it easily can be changed into an afternoon toilette by changing the simple shirt waists of the morning to a fancy blouse in the afternoon. The features of the new material which are heralding the styles for fall is the collar. After the many years, when the fit of the collar made or marred the garment, it is a bit startling to learn that the collar should not fit. One might also pity wearers for her hunched shoulders, if there were any pity left to waste on those who accept the freaks of fashion. This effect can be produced in fur very easily, and strange to relate it does not look as clumsy as the fur. One naturally expects the fur collar to be the thickest. The new fur collars are straight pieces of the fur which very often only cross the back toward the front and join a band of fur that is used to outline the edges. Let not the fact that this is midsummer deter one from adopting a fur collar, for this distinguishing touch is shown on the smart wraps. The dyed furs, especially in orange shades, are the latest novelty.

As an offset to the bunched Oriental collar there is the Medici collar of lace or pleated tulle. Charming effects are produced in these collars by a combination of net in two or more colorings, the black and white being the most fashionable. A lace trim, veiled with chiffon, adds much to a black satin mantle, which falls in two points in the back and a lace collar, edged with ermine, completes a stunning brocade wrap, which is so beautiful in itself that it needs no further trimming.

Speaking of styles for next season such ridicule and disapproval have been heard on all sides apropos of the roundness and fullness in front which characterizes the latest silhouette that it is hardly probable the style will be repeated. It was a more bold, crazy idea than to throw the figure out of proportion. Again the Paris designer has gone too far, which means that he has lost more prestige. One by one European women are turning from France and designing fashions of their own. If one doubts this, one has only to attend a fashionable function given in Vienna St. Petersburg, Varsavia, Rome or Madrid. There one will find that the modes seem a part of the women, and there is nothing far fetched or

DENY MCADOO MAY BE "SMOKED OUT."

Washington, Aug. 14.—To quiet rumors which have been circulated about the capital for the past few weeks, it is semi-officially stated that there is no truth in the stories that Secretary of the Treasury may be "smoked out" as a result of his recently made charges that national banks of New York City have been engaged in a conspiracy to depress the price of government bonds. Unless he can prove his allegations, it is stated that cabinet officials are often in receipt of information which they regard as reliable, which they sometimes give out before thoroughly going into a case. It is also pointed out that it is not usual to have mischievous schemes checked by the publication of such statements whereas the taking of time to fully substantiate them would give opportunity for their development to such an extent that remedial measures would be too late.

extreme about them. The Courtless figure launched at the Grand Prix is something that no woman outside of Paris will follow. LAW LOWERS PRICES OF FOOD.

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 14.—Food prices will be lowered and made more uniform, it is declared here, as a result of the drastic cold storage act which became a law in the state of Pennsylvania today. All Accommodations at East Carolina Teacher Training School Taken and Many Applications Still Coming.

Greenville, Aug. 13.—So great is the demand for accommodations at the Eastern Carolina Teachers' Training School that President Wright announces that he has to refuse applications for admission to the number of between five and ten every day. A long time ago this school was filled, and it has been some time since the first applicant was refused admission on account of a lack of accommodations. The summer term closed here only last week and during that time the dormitories were all filled to overflowing and many of the students had to find quarters in town. However, the faculty will not advise this course for those who come here to attend the regular fall and spring terms. Work on the new additions is progressing nicely, and it is hoped that the room will provide accommodations for fifty additional students, will be ready by the first of the new year.

RECORD CROWD PRESENT AT TABERNACLE

GREAT INTEREST CONTINUES IN REVIVAL SERVICES

EVERY SEAT TAKEN

Greater than any previous enthusiastic meeting, "Christian Union" is sermon topic for tonight.

he added seats at the Tabernacle last night the greatest audience thus far assembled. It was a great and enthusiastic meeting. For one hour and a half the large audience enjoyed one of the greatest religious services ever held in Washington.

These meetings are different. They are held in a large airy tabernacle. People can be informal. The men can remove their coats and very often do when necessary. Even the Evangelist does not hesitate to draw his coat and roll up his sleeves in the midst of his sermon. There is no pulling and hauling during the invitation. No so-called "persona work" is done during the meetings. All who come to the front come on their own volition.

"Christian Union" is the sermon topic for tonight. This is a timely and important subject. It will appeal to all thinking people. The music will be given special prominence tonight. Two pianos, orchestra and large chorus will lead the music. Prof. Howe is a musical genius. You will enjoy the meeting tonight. Be present early to get a good seat.

One thousand are expected in the Great Bible school rally next Sunday morning at 9.45. Tags are being issued to all who are planning to attend. The Tabernacle and the church building will be used for the Sunday school. Plan to attend this rally.
