FLOYD DID THE CATCHING

Evans started in pitching for Aurora but gave way to Lanier after having been given a four run lead.

Our gallant warriors of the diamond returned home from the field of the hostile Aurora last night after having lost the second battle by the score of 7-1. They were sore in body and mind over the indignities heaped upon their heads by the unmerciful enemy.

Yesterday's contest was practically a repetition of the previous one. Evans started in pitching for Aurora but departed from the box after his team mates had given him a four run lead. He will probably be worked in either today's or tomorrow's game.

Princess Christian provokes queen. London, Aug. 21.—Relations between Queen Mary and Princess Christian, the aunt of King George V., who, with her husband lives at Cumberland Lodge, Windsor Park have come almost to an open break.

For a couple of months the princess has been adding to her husband's rather slender income by selling bottles of perfume made by her self at Cumberland Lodge, and she has been actively aided by Princess Patricia of Connaught.

Princess Christian recently began putting labels on the bottles stating that the perfume was made at Cumberland Lodge. When this reached the ears of the Queen she ordered Princess Christian to cease selling the perfume in bottles with such labels.

The Rocky pass of Prachov, near Jacin, in northern Bohemia, is a very table natural curiosity. It has been well described as a gigantic "freak in stone." To enter the labyrinth with an guide is a perilous proceeding for an unwarly adventurer would probably speedily be lost in the tortuous windings of the maze, where the paths are so narrow and crooked and the cliffs on the side so high that the explorer soon loses all idea of locality.

TWO THOUSAND FEET AND NO BOTTOM YET

Another Unsuccessful Effort Made to Fathom the "Bottomless Hole" Near State Library.

Kinston, Aug. 20.—Yesterday a pound of lead at the end of two thousand feet of stout cord was dropped into the waters of a pool near Hookerton, in Green county, which has for many years been a subject for curiosity on the part of the people of the whole county because of the unknown depth. The line was unreeled to the last inch and hung perfectly taut. The "Bottomless Hole," as it is known, has existed for generations, but no one has ever been able to find its bottom. Not more than a hundred yards from the bank of Moccasin river, it was once thought that a subterranean stream supplied the pool from the river, but this theory was disproved when somebody called attention to the fact that the water in it does not rise at the times when the river was much higher than its normal stage with heavy freshets.

The hole is about 15 feet in diameter and not a living thing exists in or near it. The water, which is of light blue color, is clear for a great distance down. Experiments are said to have been made with fish in the Bottomless Hole, but this invariably died in a short time and rose to the surface. A number of traditions of Indian times exist concerning the pool, one of which is that it bears a spell put upon it by a medicine man when a chief who had been his patron was drowned there. The attempt yesterday to ascertain the hole's depth was not the first by any means but more pains were taken and the sounding line was longer than at any previous effort.

HIGHER PRICES IN THE LOCAL MARKET

FARMER RECEIVED MORE FOR TOBACCO HERE THAN IN MARKET IN ANOTHER CITY.

Another item of news was learned this morning which will interest the farmers of Beaufort County and all others interested in the success of the Washington tobacco market.

One of the prominent farmers of this county, who is a large tobacco grower, split one of his barres, sending half to a nearby city and the other half to the Washington market. He stated that the quality of the tobacco sent to the two markets was the same. The Washington market, however, paid 1-2 cents more per pound for the weed than the other market. This ought to settle any remaining doubts as to whether the local market is paying the right price or not.

The managers of the two warehouses, stated that about eighty thousand pounds of tobacco were sold yesterday. Another nice sale was held this morning. The average price for yesterday's tobacco was 12 cents. The market will be open every day except Saturday. Sales begin at 10 o'clock.
