

Believe Boy Is Drowned In River

ASSISTANT OF BRIDGE KENNES MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARED YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Believed That he Lost His Footing and Accidentally Fell into the River.

A young colored boy, who assisted Mr. Hill in loading the draw at the nearby bridge, mysteriously disappeared yesterday afternoon and it is believed that he was drowned in the river.

Mr. Hill states that he was in his house on the bridge and heard the boy going out on the bridge. About half an hour afterwards, he saw a boat approaching and called Charles, as he was known, to help him open the draw. He received no answer to his call, and although he made a thorough search of the house could find no trace of the missing boy.

Later in the afternoon he communicated with the young boy's parents but found that they had seen nor heard nothing of him.

It is believed that he played along the rail of the bridge, accidentally lost his footing and fell over the side. He was about thirteen years of age.

WEBSTER'S BIRTHPLACE RESTORED

Franklin, N. H., Aug. 25.—People from all over this section of New Hampshire took part today in the celebration of the restoration of the home in which Daniel Webster was born January 18, 1782.

After Webster's father left the birthplace, the house was moved across the road and attached to the two-story farmhouse as an L. Some 160 years ago the cellar under the birthplace was filled in and its location forgotten.

On October 2, 1910, at a meeting in the office of Chief Justice Frank N. Parsons of the New Hampshire Supreme court in this city, the Webster birthplace Association was organized. All doubt as to the exact spot was removed in October, 1912, by uncovering the old cellar and finding that part of the preserved building, exactly fitted the foundation.

The original building was placed upon this old cellar and the exterior and interior restored to the condition in which they were 121 years ago.

Prof. C. M. Howe and wife have been associated with Mr. Organ in his work for some time. As musicians they have no equals in this line. Mr. F. L. Lappin is a young man looking forward to the ministry of the word, and in with this company for the experience it will give him. He is a very useful man in the music, playing the cello and looks after the big tabernacle.

Tonight the evangelist will deliver his sermon on "Shall We Know Our Friends in Heaven." No one will want to miss this. The tabernacle will be packed tonight and it will be necessary to go on time to get a seat.

Tickets are being put on sale today for the "How Entertainment" to be given next Monday night. Seats will be reserved in advance. Those who get tickets early, will have choice of seats.

EUROPE'S MILLION NOMADS

Geneva, Aug. 25.—American tourists are being flooded with appeals of a peculiar nature as they enter Switzerland this summer. The appeals come from a Swiss society headed by Rev. H. Escuyer, whose aim is to Christianize the million gypsies who neither home nor country who move across Europe every year from east to west.

Nowhere are they wanted, everywhere are they eyed askance, but still every year they wander, and the authorities of the countries they cross dread their coming and are relieved when they go.

There is always trouble at the frontiers. Here the wanderers are stopped, questioned, and often imprisoned as vagrants. But there is nothing to do but finally let them go, and they invariably return the next year.

JUDGE TELLS WHY HE SPAT IN FACE OF NEWSPAPER MAN

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 27.—Judge Joseph T. Lawless, of the Circuit court of Norfolk county, who acquitted C. R. Neilly, editor of the Norfolk News, today acknowledged that he spat in Neilly's face, and added: "I went there for the express purpose of spitting in his face."

He also called the editor a "cur." Judge Lawless, it is said, took offense at statement published in Neilly's paper relative to the trial of Chief of Police Backus, of Norfolk county, who was recently acquitted of permitting violations of the law at Ocean View.

Mr. Neilly said he had not decided what he intends doing in the matter. A number of his friends are urging him to swear out a warrant for Judge Lawless for assault.

TAMMANY ACTIVITY IN CASE SULZER IS INQUIRED INTO

New York, Aug. 27.—The reported activity of Tammany Hall in the impeachment proceedings against Governor Sulzer, was made a matter of inquiry today by District Attorney Whitman. Former Judge Lynn J. Arnold, of Albany, a friend of Mr. Sulzer, conferred with Mr. Whitman, who examined two "investigators" called in by Judge Arnold.

Their identity was not disclosed. It was stated that the names were mentioned and that Mr. Whitman would consult further with Judge Arnold.

make good use of these trained men and women later on. They are the material from which noble citizenship is made. They will elevate the standard of living in the community where they reside and take efficiency into every walk of life. Our friends are invited to inspect the building of the Institute at any time and if any one who reads this article has not yet been interested to the point of making some contribution to the building enterprise, Mr. John Braggaw, the treasurer, would be very glad to receive such help.

A number of out of town families have signified their intention of moving to Washington to avail themselves of its excellent school system and educational advantages for their children. A notable example of this growing interest in Washington as a desirable place to live was brought to the attention of Mr. Lowther on his recent trip to Hatteras where he met Capt. Manning, a retired army officer who instructed his friend, the Rev. J. H. Warren to engage a house for him as he had decided to live in Washington in order to bring his family in touch with the opportunities offered by the public schools and the Collegiate Institute.

J. BROWN PITCHES GREAT BALL AND HOLDS EDWARD DOWN TO FEW HITS.

WHITLEY IS INJURED

ARM BROKEN BY SWING OF GRAVELY'S BAT IN LATTER PART OF GAME.

Washington defeated Edward yesterday afternoon at Fleming Park by the score of 4-3. It was a fast snappy game from start to finish and kept the fans in a constant thrill of excitement.

J. Brown pitched for the locals and twirled one of the finest games he has put up this season. Only three hits were bagged off him and about eleven of the opposing batsmen whiffed at the pan.

The locals lined up as follows: J. Brown, p.; S. Fowle, c.; F. Moore, 1b.; Jesse Bowers, 2b.; Cufford, ss.; Claude Gardner, 3b.; E. Weston, lf.; Gravelly, cf.; G. Weston, rf.

No scoring was done on either side until the sixth inning, when the Washington batters fell on Whitley for two runs. They scored two more in the eighth. Edward scored their three in the eighth on a couple of hits and a few errors on the part of the Washington infield.

Catcher Whitley met with an accident in the latter part of the game. Gravelly was at the bat and Whitley crowded up a little too close to him. In taking a backward swing, the bat caught Whitley on the wrist, breaking it. Ed. Brown, who was one of the spectators of the game, was called to the scene and took care of the injured player.

One of the features of the game was the playing of Jess Sowers at second. The boy accepted all kinds of chances without an error and played a bang up game. He's a natural ball player and is bound to be heard from in fast company if he keeps up at the rate he is going.

MEETING OF CIVIC CLUB

There will be an important meeting of the Civic Club tomorrow afternoon at five o'clock. Some important matters are to be brought up for discussion and it is hoped that all the members will be present.

SAYS HOG RAISING MADE GOD ANGRY.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 27.—Kansas and adjoining states have reaped a harvest of wrath of the Lord along with their so-called distinction of being the greatest hog raising section in the world. The drought which has afflicted the land there has been the Lord's direct answer and warning that He will not send rain to grow hogs to poison the people.

Wilbur Glenn Voliva, successor of John Alexander Dowle, so explained the climatic affliction which has caused great damage in the Middle South west.

sha with a blizzard apud upon Dayton with a great flood because of the lack of repentance of the people," he said. "I knew it was coming, sometime. It was predicted in Deuteronomy, where Moses wrote that failure to hearken unto the voice of the Lord would be a signal for a curse on the dwellers in field and city, on storehouses and the land.

"I have had many letters from Kansas people asking me to pray that the drought be lifted. But some of the letters say they have repented and have stopped raising hogs, which are a pollution to the godly. Hence I would not pray for them, and God appears to have turned a deaf ear also."

BRIGHTON BEACH TRACK GOES

Golf interests have been trying to secure the property for a golf link and real estate dealers are anxious to have it cut up into lots and improved.
