GOOD ENTRIES FOR HORSE RACES

MANY WELL-KNOWN THROTTERS TO RACE AT NEW BERN ON LABOR DAY.

REDUCED RATES ON ROADS

Norfolk Southern to Put Reduced Rates into Effect From Washington and Other Cities.

All indications point to a big celebration of Labor Day, which is Monday, September 1, in New Bern this year. Not only every manufacturer plant, but every mercantile house and business office has agreed to close up for the day at noon, there by giving all employees an opportunity to spend an afternoon taking in the horse and motorcycle races at Glenburnie Park, which begins at 1 o'clock.

As for the horses entered in the three races, the following may be mentioned: Billy Boy, owned by A. B. Cox of Cove City; Billy Hal, owned by T. A. Grantham, of New Bern; Baiting G., owned by Charles Codd, of Portsmouth; June Boy, owned by Charles Bush of Pennsylvania; Mary B. owned by Sheriff Reid of Elizabeth City; Princess, owned by Fred Bray of New Bern; Mary H., owned by Thomas Holton, of Bridgeton; Rockefeller, owned by John Dawson, of Jasper.

These horses are going through their paces daily, an expression of eager anticipation on the faces of the trainers. Even the noble animals themselves betray in every high-spirited paw of the ground that instinctive excitement which means to be felt by race horses on the eve of a contest.

During motorcycle speed kings from the entire section have declared their intention of going after—and they will have to go some—the prize money in the two motorcycle races, one for single cylinder machines and the other for all machines of more than one cylinder.

Reduced rates will be granted by the Norfolk Southern from Washington, Gettysburg, Oriental, Beaufort, and all intermediate points. Ask your ticket agent.

The grandstand has been remodelled and is now the largest in the state. Admission to the grandstand is free. Admission to the grounds is 50 cents, children under twelve years 25 cents.

TRANSPORT CANAL WORKERS

Panama, Aug. 29.—Within a month from now the government will be compelled to face the problem of handling about 10,000 laborers whose work is the various departments of the Panama Canal construction will have been completed. It is proposed to greatly simplify the difficulty of getting this number of men away from the zone by sending them to the farms of the United Fruit Company in Costa Rica and Bozca del Toro. The fruit company will take about 6,000 leaving as many more to be provided for.

EUROPEAN NEWS AND VIEWS

London, Aug. 29.—All the world loves a lover, therefore the deposed king Manuel of Portugal is very much in the public eye just now, because of his approaching marriage to Princess Augusta Victoria at the marriaged next week. Manuel is a jolly good fellow, fond of company and popular with the ladies. He would be a ladies' man if he were not a royal personage, because he has excellent manners and delights in showering upon women the thousand and one little attentions that appeal to their vanity. He is not especially fond of outdoor sports, but is a linguist of ability, a clever conversationalist and an expert on financial questions and international laws, studies which he has taken up during his exile in England. Comparatively little is known of the bride-to-be in England, but she is declared to be a delightful young woman. It is needless to add that the heartburnings in society are terrific owing to failure to receive invitations to the marriage.

While on the subject of weddings it might be mentioned that a great discussion is raging in Stockholm over the question of whether women shall be given by law the right to propose marriage. The arguments in favor of such an enactment are that the men look particularly silly when proposing, women would know how to do it better, and the number of bachelors would be greatly diminished if women were allowed to propose.

Sweden is the only Scandinavian country where women have not the parliamentary vote. In most respects however, the Swedish woman is on a perfect equality with men in professional, commercial, and educational affairs. The only points of distinction are in the matter of parliamentary vote and the right to propose marriage.

Mr. Egan, the American Ambassador to Denmark, has gone to Ireland where he will spend month studying out the working of the Danish co-operative system of agriculture in Ireland. He will see Sir Horace Plunkett, the father of the present Irish land system, and possibly Lord Ross who are interested in the scheme as well as the Irish Technical Board of Agriculture. Mr. Egan is making this study with the special view of assisting the Southern states of America, which are anxious to learn how to raise an alternative crop if cotton should fail.

So many false reports have been circulated in the United States regarding the importation of Italian olive oil into that country that the Royal Italian Ministry of Agriculture and Commerce has taken action to counteract the impression they are creating.

The reports have alleged that much adulterated Italian oil has been sent out and that practically no genuine olive oil is exported to America. The investigations of the Ministry have disclosed that these statements and rumors are absolutely groundless, and have evidently been inspired for trade purposes.

The law in Italy prohibits the sale, as olive oil, of anything except genuinely pure olive oil, and provides that whoever places on sale mixtures of oil other than olive shall place on file with the municipal authorities a declaration to that effect and at the same time label the containers in conspicuous characters so as to show the exact nature of the oil sold.

The law is enforced most rigorously throughout the whole of Italy.

It is not so many years since Germany's crying need was for colonies which would keep her surplus population under the flag. The enormous industrial development of the country in recent years has changed this, however, and now there is a very considerable immigration into the country.

Statistics recently published by the government show that no fewer than 1,400,000 foreigners are living in Germany. While in France and in other countries the foreign element is mainly composed of wealthy people looking for their own pleasure, the immigrants to Germany are mostly interested in commerce, industry and agriculture, in which branches they find a better field than in their own countries.

INTER-STATE BASE BALL GAMES

ALL-STAR CAROLINIANS TO PLAY ALL-STAR VIRGINIANS.

SEVEN GAME SERIES

Date Has Not Been Decided, Line up of Players to Be Given Out in a Few Days.

Richmond, Aug. 29.—Final and definite arrangements have been completed by which Dr. W. R. Pressly, manager of the Roanoke team, in the Virginia State league, will lead an all-star cast from this circuit in a series of games against another all-star aggregation gathered from the Carolina Association and piloted by Tommy Stouch, manager of the Asheville club.

The series will be played during the week of September 15, the week following the close of the regular season in the Boatwright organization. Secretary Bradley has given the park.

Neither Manager Stouch nor Manager Pressly is ready to announce their line-up. Pressly must wait upon the judgement of the fans in Virginia. Stouch may be following a similar method in Carolina. At any rate, the line-ups will not be known for several days. Both managers are anxious to bring together the very pick of their leagues.

Regardless of everything else, regardless that the test will largely determine the championship of Virginia and North Carolina, regardless of the rivalry existing between the two states, the fact remains that local fans will be given an opportunity to witness good baseball between teams evenly matched.

The series will consist of seven games, one each on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, with a double-header on Saturday. Frank Norcum and Shamokin Kelly will probably be the umpires.

'UPS' AND 'DOWNS' PLAY THIRD GAME

UP-TOWN TEAM WINS BY CLOSE SCORE OF 13-11.

LARGE CROWD PRESENT

Down-town Team Unable to Overcome Big Lead of Opponents in Early Part of Game.

Before a shouting, madly cheering and excited crowd of fans, the Up-town baseball team defeated the Down-town team yesterday afternoon by the score of 13-11.

The game was a thriller for excitement from start to finish. The Up-towns scored a big lead in the early innings of the game and were never headed off. Their opponents made a game fight of it, however, and in the last inning managed to creep up to within one run of the leaders. Kear and Kessinger acted as battery for the Downs in the early part of the game, while Messrs. Fowle and Fowle did the honors for the Ups. Kear was displaced by Claude Gardner in the third. Gardner displayed excellent form. He had speed to spare and his jump ball worked to perfection. Errors behind him were the cause for the opposing team's scoring. He was as tight as a drum in the pinches. It is rumored that Manager Cleary of the Washington Regulars, who was one of the spectators at the game, was greatly impressed by Gardner's form.

Yesterday's game gives the series to the Up-towners, they having won the best two out of three games.

FASHIONS ARE UNIQUE

By Maude Hall.
New York, Aug. 28.—From boudoir robes to topcoats the new modes reek with originality. It is difficult to tell American styles from French styles, because there is as much novelty in the former as in the latter.

One knows that there are general lines which all the fashion authorities accept as a foundation, so to speak. Then the fancy runs riot and seekers of novelty benefit by the results.

The simplest of frocks are draped, the tendency being toward skirts that hang straight at the front, with a suggestion of broad plaits, with folds at the sides caught up toward the back and held in place with buckles of the dress materials. Fancy buttons and buckles are in great demand for waist, coat and shoe trimmings, but for the purpose of holding skirt draperies in place, the plain effects are best liked, and they are never smarter than when made of the dress material.

Coats for dressy wear are big and baggy. The fewer lines that are shown, the art-of-the draper must be classic, else the garment will have a home-made effect. The most desirable models are developed in the brocade materials—velours brocade, velours ratine, and brocade silk and satin and brocade—everything else.

The woman who does not like brocade has a number of striped effects to which she may resort. Wide and narrow wale velvets are as handsome as serges of the same pattern and are used to make elegant gowns for autumn. Velvet is going to be in great demand. Duvelyn is the fabric that will need careful treatment to avoid becoming over-popular, because although it is pretty among the very new things of the season—and every woman who lays claim to fashionable pretensions feels that she must have it in some frock or coat to substantiate her declarations.

On the fall suits there will be used sleeves of the long, fitted type and the kimono sleeve with the dropped armhole.

The 'eton effect especially at the front, is particularly striking. From the front a sweeping line over the hips and a long tail at the back finish the coat.

A Russian model of velvet will bid for applause. The pelium of the skirt has considerable fullness, and rich fur trims the collar line and the cuffs. Braid and buttons give a dashing effect to the line of fastening.

LOWER EXPENSES AT ATLANTIC CITY.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 29.—New budgets for the fiscal year beginning September 1, have been completed by the City Commission. They provide for a substantial decrease in resort expenditures, with a view of keeping the tax rate for the ensuing year within last year's figures. Economy will be necessary to attain this result because of an expected increase in the county tax, which will have to be advanced to provide $20,000 for the Mosquito Extermination Commission, and $90,000 for the enlargement of the Court house and other county buildings at May's Landing.

GIANT LINER IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

FLAMES CAUSE PANIC AMONG STEERAGE PASSENGERS

SHIP FLOODED WITH WATER

Four Streams on Board Burning. Actual Damage Done is Not Great. Vessel Will Sail Saturday.

New York, Aug. 28.—The giant Hamburg-American liner, Imperator, the largest ship afloat, was partially destroyed by fire at her dock in Hoboken early this morning. The fire started in the stateroom quarters. It was discovered by the officers on watch and a still alarm was sounded. After about an hour's work, the blaze was subdued with the help of a number of tugs, which poured water on the large vessel.

The fire caused a panic among the steerage passengers, several of whom were injured in their mad rush to escape from their quarters.

The actual damage done the vessel is not great. A large part of her supplies were destroyed by the flames and water.

AMERICANS ARE IN QUANDARY

DO NOT KNOW WHAT TO DO ABOUT LEAVING MEXICO.

Most of Them Plan to Obey Wilson's Injunction Regarding Leaving the Country.

Mexico City, Aug. 28.—Americans, resident in the capital are at a loss to know how to interpret the preliminary warning issued by President Wilson to leave the Republic.

Somehow reassured by the declaration that armed intervention is not intended, they are now wondering whether there is a hidden meaning back of the latest warning.

The American consulate was crowded throughout the day by Americans of all classes, seeking detailed information. The consul general, Arnold Shanklin, was unable to give any advice other than that based upon instructions from the State Department to send to all consuls in his district a message, to the effect that they should advise all Americans in their territory to leave Mexico at once, going to the nearest seaport where ships would be in readiness to take them off.

The motion pictures was another feature on the evening program, and ones that well pleased. Today's program offers a change from that of yesterday.

Tomorrow the regular Saturday matinee takes place from 3.00 to 5 o'clock, offering as special attraction to the little ones all of the photographs that were shown during the baby show, displaying over 300 children.

BODY OF MISSING BOY WASHED ASHORE

WAS FOUND THIS MORNING AT THE FOOT OF VAN NORDEN STREET.

FELL OFF COUNTY BRIDGE

Exact Manner of Death is Not Known But it is Believed That he Accidentally Fell Off Bridge While Walking Outside of Railing

The body of Charlie Cherry, the colored boy who acted as assistant to H. H. Hill, bridge tender at the county bridge, was found in the Pamlico this morning. It was washed ashore at the foot of Van Norden street.

Cherry, mysteriously disappeared from the bridge yesterday afternoon. He was last seen by Mr. Hill as he walked through the house on the bridge. After he was missed, it was thought that he might have left the town for some reason or other, although it was general belief that he had fallen off the bridge into the river.

The exact manner and time of his death is not known. The only explanation that seems probable is that he was walking outside of the railing slipped and fell overboard.

Prof. Smith, who conducted the Institute, is supervisor of the colored schools of Johnston county. He is a man of high personal character and is exerting a power for good not only over the people of his native county, but throughout the state. Miss Pritchard is the industrial teacher for the colored schools of Bertie county.

At the close of the Institute, the teachers tendered a vote of thanks to Prof. Smith and Miss Pritchard for the work done during the two weeks, and expressed the hope that they be returned two years hence, if not providentially hindered.

Athletics.
E. F. J. Lindberg of the Chicago A. A., has been training at Travers Island and he appears to be in very good shape. "Lindy" did not train for the national championships this summer because of a bad foot.

Harry Oltman, the National A. C. captain, is training again after a spell of resting. Oltman will probably start in the running broad jump and in the hop, step, and jump, at the coming senior metropolitan championships.

Ireland won seven out of eleven events from Scotland in their recent international track field games at Belfast. R. F. S. Shaw, of Dublin University, of the Irish team won the high jump, clearing 6 feet 1 inch.

James H. Riley, veteran oarsman of Saratoga Lake, has challenged James A. Ten Eyck, rowing coach of Syracuse University, for a three-mile sculling match and the latter has accepted. The men are to row for a purse of $500 not later than September 9. Riley is 65 years old and Ten Eyck 63.

Dick Clifford of the McCaddin Lyceum of New York, is generally favored to retain his metropolitan one-mile walk title next month. Kaiser, Renz, Plant, and the rest of the heel and toe cracks would stand a good chance of beating Dick over a three-mile route, but he's too speedy for them at the mile.
