PERSIAN OPIUM.
Turning the Peppy Juice into Dried Cakes For Export.

Persian opium juice is sold in large copper vessels by the grower to the merchant, in whose hands it undergoes several processes in order to preserve it from fermentation and decay. On sunny, fine, hot days the Persian caravansaries, where opium dealers have their magazines, present an interesting picture. The juice is brought out to be prepared into cakes for export.

On large wooden boards, two and a half feet long and one and a half feet broad, the sticky mass is spread out with spade-like tools to permit the water it contains to evaporate. Experienced workers move from board to board, turning over the layers every now and then, that the heat and sun may dry up the exposed surfaces and render the opium fit for making into cakes. In favorable weather this process takes only an hour or so, and the opium is ready for the next manipulation.

It is now scraped off and is rolled into stiff, dough-like lumps and handed to a man who divides it into smaller portions, weighing one pound each, which he passes on to molders, by whom they are pressed into the wooden forms and then laid on a large board for the final drying process. When this is completed the cakes are rolled up in red paper imported specially from China. One hundred and forty-four are put in tin lined wooden cases and covered with strong hides and sacking. Two cases form a mule load.—Christian Herald.

National Bath.

He was a gentleman who was in Washington as a minister representing Honduras. Diplomats, according to the popular conception, never say the wrong thing. They are believed to be the delicacy of language and the fineness of vocabulary. This particular diplomat entered an uptown barber shop in Washington and got a shave after he had explained what he wanted in words which were more full of accent than of fluency.

"Now, sir," said the barber briskly, "can't we give you a Turkish bath?"

"No-o-o!" replied the man from Honduras, with some hesitation. "You see, I'm no-no Turk."—Popular Magazine.

Judge For Yourself

Which is Better—Try an Experiment or Profit by a Washington Citizen's Experience.

Something new is an experiment. Must be proved to be as represented.

The statement of a manufacturer is not convincing proof of merit. But the endorsement of friends is. Now supposing you had a bad back A Lame, Weak, or Aching one, Would you experiment on it? You will read of many so-called cures.

Endorsed by strangers from far-away places.

It's different when the endorsement comes from home.

Easy to prove local testimony.

Home-endorsement is the proof that backs every box of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Read this case.

Mrs. L. E. Everitt, 132 Brown St., Washington, N. C., says: "About a year ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills for a lame and aching back. My kidneys were weak, the kidney secretions bothered me and other symptoms of kidney complaint were in evidence. Doan's Kidney Pills improved my condition greatly."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn, Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—take no other.
