

PRESIDENT WILSON MAKES ADDRESS TO SOUTHERN CONGRESS

Delegates will take cruise to Panama Canal where Bronze Tablet to Senator Jno. T. Morgan, father of the Canal idea is to be unveiled and Placed in the Zone.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 27.—With President Wilson scheduled to make the leading address of the session, the Southern Commercial Congress opened here today, bringing together delegates appointed by governors and mayors from different states and cities. There are also representatives from Canada. The theme of the convention which is the fifth to be held since the organization of the association is, "The Relation of the United States to the Panama Canal, to Latin America and to World Commerce." Another important speaker, on the list of distinguished men to address the convention is John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American Union. It is recalled by many that Latin America, to the average citizen of the United States, is a "terra incognita." Some know that coffee and rubber come out of Brazil and that Chile has nitrate fields, and above all—that Havana tobacco comes from Cuba—or ought to anyway. It is also remembered that monkeys and coconuts are among tropical products, but these facts are the boundaries of certain knowledge of many who wish to get in touch with the trade that they believe will come within reach when the Panama canal is opened.

Of especial significance will be the participation of the Latin American republics in the convention. These countries will be represented by delegates and their diplomatic representatives in Washington. The biennial Pan-American Commercial Conference, which has to have been held this year under auspices of the Pan-American Union, has been postponed and delegates to that organi-

Eastern Carolina Fair Opens In New Bern on Tomorrow

The Eastern Carolina Fair is to open in New Bern tomorrow with a large parade. This is not a county fair, but is organized to serve all the people of Eastern Carolina. Wednesday is to be educational day and to which a free ticket has been given to every school child in ten counties. Dr. J. Y. Joyner, superintendent of Public Instruction, will deliver the address. Thursday is planned as the biggest day of all and judging from preparations people from all sections of Eastern Carolina will attend. A large delegation from this city will be on the grounds. On Wednesday and Thursday nights in addition to the free attractions there will be gigantic fireworks display. All railroads are offering special rates and the Eastern Carolina fair this year promises to surpass all others in the historic town of New Bern.

No Court Today

Washington's department again today was excellent. The police had no cases to be tried before the recorder or the mayor.

Many Will Attend

Quite a number of citizens are contemplating taking in the Eastern Carolina Fair at New Bern this week which opens tomorrow lasting through the week.

INTERNATIONAL PHILATELIC DISPLAY

New York, Oct. 27.—The International Philatelic exhibition, opened in this city today with a wonderful collection of rare stamps, coins etc. on display. In addition to the leading collectors of the United States the following Europeans have sent exhibits: A. Leon Aduti, E. D. Bacon, M. P. Casella, S. Chapman, Dr. A. Chissac, the Earl of Crawford, Dr. E. Dione, Henry J. Davison, Maj. E. B. Evans, Gustave Gill, L. L. Hausburg, Thomas W. Hall, Paul Khol, Philip Kosack, Hugo Kroch, Dr. A. Kunkler, Fred G. Melville, Count Mallath, Capt. F. H. Napier, W. Peckitt, C. Phillips, Admiral von Rainman, Baron de Reutenfeld, Carl Wildata and R. B. Farley.

SCENERY IS BEING PUT IN THEATER

At least $1,200 is being Spent on the scenic effect of the new Opera House to open on November 13.

C. N. Garring of Greenville, S. C., arrived in the city this morning and is now engaged in placing and arranging the scenery for the new Opera House which is billed to open on the night of November 13th with the attraction "Shepherd of the Hills." The scenery means an outlay to the management of about $1,200 and is said to be very attractive. The main curtain will be of asbestos being a Grecian scene. The opera house will also contain an advertising curtain. The management has spared no pains nor expense in placing their order and everything points to be one of the most attractive and convenient play houses to be found in North Carolina. Mr. Garring states that he will have the scenery in place by next Saturday evening at the latest.

WILMINGTON DEFEATS LOCALS SCORE 19 TO 0

The Washington High School football team has returned from Wilmington where they tried conclusions on the Gridiron Saturday with the high school aggregation of that city. Wilmington seems to be an enigma for the boys here. Last year they did the trick and did it well and on Saturday the backers of the local team here were made to feel sore good and hard when the wires flashed the news 19 to 0 in favor of Wilmington. The local team made three touchdowns, one safety and two goals. The game was witnessed by a large number. The boys from here while defeated had a great time and speak in the highest terms of the hospitality extended to them.

23 ANNIVERSARY BARACA PHILATHEA MOVEMENT

The twenty-third anniversary of the founding of the World-wide Baraca-Philathea movement was held at the First Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock and was attended by a goodly number. This meeting was postponed from Sunday afternoon, October 19th to yesterday, due to inclement weather.

The exercises were opened with the hymn, "We're Here on Business for the King," after which the invocation was made by Rev. R. L. Gay.

The first address was made by W. L. Vaughan, superintendent of the County Schools. His subject was, "How the Baraca-Philathea Movement Originated and Why It is Ideal."

After this very interesting talk the Philathea hymn was sung and much enjoyed. Mr. E. L. Dawson followed the musical selection with a talk on "Why a National Headquarters Building?" A fitting climax to this very interesting address was a musical selection and a free will offering for the National Headquarters building. One of the profitable talks of the occasion was by W. O. Miller, who ably discussed Baraca-Philathea work.

R. L. Gay, pastor of the First Baptist church, and Mrs. C. C. Coppedge gave five minute addresses. Pastor Gay spoke on the subject, "From the Church's Standpoint," and Mrs. Coppedge handled her subject, "From the Class Standpoint," most creditably. These addresses were followed by the well known Baraca hymn. Mr. J. E. vanHook spoke very interestingly of the "Heart Throbs of the Baraca-Philathea Classes." This was followed by the hymn, "Dear to the Heart of the Shepherd," by the class quartet.

The closing number of the afternoon was the familiar hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." After celebrating the twenty-third natal day there was an Union meeting of all the classes held at which W. M. Kear was made chairman and J. E. vanHook secretary. It is the purpose to form a union Baraca-Philathea movement in the city and

NOVEMBER 10 MEMORABLE ONE HERE

PUBLIC BUILDING FORMALLY DEDICATED AND D. A. H. TABLET UNVEILED.

ASS'T. SECT'Y, TREAS. GUEST

BEING LOOKED FORWARD TO BY ALL CLASSES OF CITIZENS. ALL SHOULD TAKE PART.

November 10th is going to be a memorable day in Washington as the new public building and the tablet presented by the Daughters of the American Revolution are to be formally dedicated and unveiled. As was announced in the columns of this paper Saturday last, the Assistant Secretary of the Treasury is to be the guest of the city on that occasion and the committee on arrangements is planning for several more distinguished citizens. It is to be hoped that all our citizens will take part and an interest in these ceremonies and turn out on this auspicious occasion. Active preparations are now going on for a full and complete day and unless something unforeseen happens the dedication of Washington's handsome public building and the unveiling of the American Revolution will be an epoch in Washington not soon to be forgotten. The forthcoming program, which is to appear in the columns of the Daily News is awaited with interest by all citizens.

D. A. R. MUSICAL AT J. K. HOYT'S TUES. NIGHT

Remember that on tomorrow night, the Daughters of the American Revolution will give a delightful musical at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Hoyt, corner of Bridge and Second streets. Some of the city's brightest and best musical talent has promised to assist in the well arranged program. The occasion is looked for with genuine pleasure and no doubt a large number will grasp the occasion with their presence. The admission price will be twenty-five cents. It behooves all loyal citizens to attend. "For the cause is a most worthy one."

EAST CAROLINA F. T. S. NOTES

Robt. H. Wright of East Carolina Teachers Training School, is now attending the 33rd Annual Commercial Congress at Mobile, Ala. Before returning he will attend the Southern Educational Association which meets this year in Nashville, Tenn.

A system of banking has been established in the Business office at the Training School. This system is operated on the same principles of a regular bank, by which the students of the school may deposit and withdraw their money at will. Such a system is invaluable as it furnishes to the girls practical training for the business side of their later lives.

In the mathematics department of the school the topic, "banking," is being taken up and explained in such a manner as to clarify its principles in the minds of the students. Training School Saturday courses will be inaugurated in the interest of teachers wishing to take up extra work.

It is the purpose of the East Carolina Teachers Training School to be a service to those who are engaged in teaching and to aid them in becoming more efficient teachers. Knowing that the many teachers would be anxious to take a course of study during their school term if the opportunity were given, the Training School has offered free of charge, the following Saturday courses for the year: Pedagogy, English, Mathematics, which includes arithmetic, algebra and geometry, primary methods, history (for the grades), Latin and drawing.

The work will be given by competent instructors and will prove of great value to those teachers who take advantage of this opportunity.

The secretary, with the pastors of the respective churches were named to draft suitable constitution and by-laws to be submitted at a later day.

BAPTISM ADMINISTERED AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The services at the First Baptist church were well attended Sunday. At the evening hour after an eloquent discourse by the pastor, Rev. R. L. Gay, the rite of baptism was administered. One of the many features of the service was the singing of the male quartet.

There will be services again this evening at 7.30 o'clock to which the general public has a cordial invitation to attend. For the past week there has been going on in this church a series of meetings and considerable interest has already been manifested.

1,600,000 XMAS SEALS COMING

One million six hundred thousand Red Cross Xmas Seals are on their way to North Carolina. Mr. Lee B. Myers of Charlotte, who is promoting the sale of the seals in the state this year, has just received notice that this number has been allotted to the state and shipped. If these are all disposed of at one cent each, it will mean $16,000 to be used in the state to fight against the Great White Plague, or tuberculosis, which causes the death of 6,000 people in the state each year.

Mr. Myers started on a trip this week to visit all the more important cities to get them organized for an aggressive educational campaign and for the sale of these Christmas stamps. The stamps sell for one cent each and are used to stick on letters to show the user's interest of the one to whom the package or letter is sent. Banks and business houses use them on all the mail they send out during December. Stores use them on Xmas deliveries shops on pay envelopes, and every body on all kinds of mail. 400,000 seals were sold last year in the state and it is hoped that we can increase the sales to more than one million this year.

The Postmaster General has issued an order permitting these seals to be sold in the postoffice. Every community is invited to get the seals and sell them, sending the money to the state committee to be used in state-wide work. Seals are sent free to be paid for after sold; unsold seals to be returned to headquarters.

TO DISCUSS PROGRAM FOR DEDICATION

The Washington Chamber of Commerce has extended an invitation to the mayor and Board of Aldermen to meet with them tomorrow night at their rooms in the Baughman Building to discuss ways and means as to the program for the dedication of Washington's Public Building and also the unveiling of the D. A. R. Tablet. Not only are the members of the chamber urged to be present with the mayor and Aldermen but any citizen interested. The meeting is called for eight o'clock sharp.

Citizen Asks City Fathers Questions

Editor Daily News:—You will please allow me through the columns of your paper to ask a few questions of our City Fathers. First: I would like to ask if they do not think that the wages of those that work for the city. I mean those that do the laborious work, Pat Godley, Bob Cozens and the old colored man, they who work through the rain and snow from Monday morning until Saturday night 12 o'clock and only pay them $40.00 per month, which is not enough to pay their grocery bill and too, clothe their children—to say nothing about house rent and fire wood, is inadequate. These men do the labor for the city at the paltry sum of $40 a month while the other employees of the city run from $50 to $100 per month, and walk around the city seven days to the week dressed well and do no manual labor or laborious work.

Mr. Editor, I as a taxpayer, am opposed to such gross discrimination. I think that the workman is worthy of his hire and too of better pay in these times of the high cost of living. I know of my own experience that these men cannot live on the paltry sum they receive. Now be fair gentlemen, treat all alike and if you are going to use partiality, I say let it be in favor of those who do the work and also bear the burden and heat of the day.

I admit we are nothing more than poor laboring men, yet we pay our part of the taxes and so justice is what we ask. With this we are content—with nothing less.

FEATURE MOTION PICTURES AT THE LYRIC TONIGHT

As announced by the manager of the Lyric Saturday that his future bookings of vaudeville would always be the last half of the week and the first half of the week exclusively motion pictures.

The program at the Lyric today consists of an excellent program of high class motion pictures and some thing out of the ordinary in every day dramatic.

Today's program is featured by an excellent two reel western story, "Duty and the Man," dealing with a deep dramatic western plot among beautiful scenery and considered to be one of the best of its kind.

The admission prices tonight will be 5 and 10 cents and the last half of the week will be featured by vaudeville bookings.

E. V. A. OR A CONVENTION

Boston, Oct. 27.—The fourth annual convention of the Electric Vehicle Association of America opened here today at the Hotel La Salle with delegates attending from associations throughout the South, New England, the middle West and the Pacific coast. In connection with the meeting an interest exhibit of the models of electric vehicles and the newest of automobile accessories, is being held. The effect of the electric vehicle on insurance will be one of the important themes for discussion during the convention.

To Assemble November 18, 19, 20 and 21st

Host City is making great preparations for intertainment of The delegates. Great Southern journey promised.

Business men of the Atlantic Coast are looking forward with interest to the Sixth Annual Convention of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association, which is to be held in Jacksonville, Fla., November 18th, 19th, 20th and 21st next. The Association, which has for its object the improvement of transportation facilities by means of a connected inland waterway from Boston to Key West, is now in a position to press its claims for recognition by Congress. The government engineers have reported favorably on the major portion of the project and one of the links of this inland chain is now under construction.

The city of Jacksonville is making great preparations for the entertainment of the delegates to the convention, and aside from the importance of the business sessions, a very enjoyable visit is promised those who journey to the Southland Governor Park Trammell will officially welcome the guests on behalf of the State of Florida, and he will be responded to by Governor Chas. R. Miller of Delaware. Mayor Van C. Swearingen of Jacksonville, will extend the welcome on behalf of the city. Many prominent men have been invited to read papers and the program promises to be an unusually strong one.

Further adding to the importance of the convention, the Mississippi Atlantic Inland Waterways Association meets at Palatka, Fla., on November 17th and 18th, and upon adjournment of its meeting the members and delegates will go to Jacksonville and fraternize with the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association. The Mississippi to Atlantic Inland Waterways Association is agitating the connecting of the Atlantic Ocean with the Mississippi river by a system of waterways across the state of Florida, practically a continuation of the Atlantic project.

TWO SONS JOIN THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Two persons were received in the First Presbyterian church yesterday on a profession of faith. Both services at 11 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. were largely attended by a congregation which was attentive and interested in the fine sermons delivered by the pastor, Rev. H. B. Searlight. The music at both the morning and evening services was much enjoyed. Since the organ has been thoroughly overhauled it has been a decided improvement.

Mrs. C. L. Oden Better

The reports from the bedside of Mrs. Charles L. Oden today are more encouraging. While still critically ill her chances for recovery now seem more favorable to the delight of her friends.

Geo. Phillips Mayo III

The entire family of the Daily News sympathized with its chief Editor James L. Mayo, upon learning of the illness of his bright and interesting little son, George Phillips Mayo. For the past several days he has been seriously ill. The entire Daily News force joins Editor Mayo's friends in wishing for the little fellow a speedy recovery to his accustomed health.

ROOSEVELT'S SECOND LECTURE

dore Roosevelt will deliver the second of the series of lectures included in his South America program, here tonight. His subject will be "Character and Civilization." The Colonel is being royally entertained everywhere he goes and has been compelled to decline a number of invitations owing to a prearranged program which he is unable to interrupt.
