GET LIVING AMUSING OTHERS

Roughly Estimated, Ten Per Cent of the Population Care to the Pleasures of the Rest. It has been roughly estimated that 10 per cent of us, the people of the United States, keep busy and earn our living by amusing the other 90 per cent, according to the World's Work. This 10 per cent includes those who do the actual work of amusing; singers in grand opera, light opera, concert; actors in the "legitimate" theaters, vaudeville, in burlesque, in small shows; performers in the various departments of the innumerable circuses, carnivals, street fairs, baseball players, football players; basket ball players, motor races, aviators, boxers, innumerable exponents of innumerable forms of professional sports.

It includes also the people who promote these amusements; who incorporate companies and manufacture devices to be used in amusing—film companies with armies of employees in the moving picture field, for example; the people in their large office forces; the people who manage and direct theaters, amusement parks, race courses, athletic fields, etc.; stage hands, mechanics, electricians and employes in countless other ramifications of the general business of amusement. It includes those who originate schemes of entertainment, those who finance them, those who manage them, those who execute them, those press agents, advance men, etc., who advertise them and draw the attention of the rest of us—the patrons who comprise the other 90 per cent.

OTHER "ISTS" A POOR SECOND

Pessimist and Optimist Alike Had to Yield the Palm to the Quiet, Undisturbed Fatalist. Three students of philosophy sat on top of a high hill. One was a pessimist, one an optimist and the third had not declared himself.

While the first was warmly discussing their opposing theories of life, a sudden gust of wind simultaneously lifted off three hats and sent them howling down the hill. The pessimist and the optimist gave chase, but their companion remained calmly sitting on top of the hill and watched the others running after the hats. Presently each procured his own hat and the optimist picked up also that of the third man. Then they panted back up the hill. "Where!" gasped the optimist, as he handed over the hat to him who still sat on top of the hill. "I guess you're an optimist, too. You didn't seem to worry any."

Good Air in the House.

Clean air in the house is as much a necessity to health as clean water, and, inasmuch as a considerable portion of the air in the house rises from the cellar, the cellar must be as clean and pure as it is desired that the house atmosphere shall be. In the absence of any ventilating system windows and doors must do the work of bringing in and letting out the air. The impure air must escape to seek rooms for pure air. Open the windows at the top as well as at the bottom, the warmer air at the top of the room will thus pass out. Keep one window on the top floor open a little most of the time to provide a general all-escape for the whole house. When airing bedrooms in the morning leave the cupboard door open. A sleeping room, used as a sitting room during the day must be given a good airing before bedtime. The bath room and the kitchen need special ventilation, and the living room must be well aired the last thing at night, otherwise the used-up air will make its way through the house.

Impossible to Tell Ait. "Will you solemnly swear that the testimony you shall give shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth?" "No; I won't swear to anything of the kind," answered the man who had been a witness in several big cases. "The lawyers won't let me tell half the truth." Legal Journal.

WILMINGTON HAS GOLD FEET FOR THE TEAM
HERE

Wilmington beat Washington on Wilmington ground which by no means showed the strength of the two teams as was acknowledged by Wilmington coach and was caused by two of Washington's best players being knocked out. No scoring was done until the last quarter. Then two days before the date of the game scheduled at Washington between the two teams, after an arrangement had been provided for the same advertised, and after it was too late to arrange another game with some other team, Wilmington got cold feet and called the game off with the excuse that if Wilmington won this time it would put Wilmington out of the championship race. Wilmington has played only two high school games and Washington has played four and have lost only the one to Wilmington. The game scheduled with Wilmington would have made five. Had this game come off and Wilmington won, as Wilmington was afraid they would do, Wilmington would not have been eligible to go to Chapel Hill, and this was their reason for not playing.

This is not true sportsmanship and Washington would be glad to play Wilmington at any place except on Wilmington grounds and with any one but a Wilmington referee to see who goes to the University to play for championship of state against Raleigh High School. Washington asks no odds but asks for a referee to have a square deal. Date of the game was to have been Friday, November 14th.

Long Sentences.

For the longest sentence on record we must go to the French. In "Les Miserables" Victor Hugo has one sentence that runs through a hundred lines, and earlier in the book, in one of the chapters descriptive of Waterloo, there are over fifty lines without a full stop. England's record rests under official patronage, for it would appear to be the seventh section of the foreign enlistment act, which does not stop until it has very nearly reached its six hundredth word.

No Whips Allowed in Moscow.

Among the curious things that arrest the traveler's attention on arriving in Moscow is the fact that drivers of cabs, carriages and all other vehicles do not carry whips. There is a law prohibiting their use. The excellent condition of their horses attests the benefit of this humane law. Nowhere are there sleeker and better groomed horses than those used in the carriages of Moscow.

Retort of John Wilkes.

In the days when George III. was king, and when his periodic lapses into infirmity of mind brought about remonstrances of the regency and changes of policy, there was an English lord chancellor who trimmed his sails to the doctor's bulletins. He was a politician of a type with which we are all too familiar. He heard one day that the king was better and would resume the reins of office, and he made an impassioned speech against the regency in the house of lords. In his peroration he cried, "I cannot forget that I owe to the bounty of my gracious sovereign; and when I forget him, may my God forget me!" How impressed with the magnificence of his own oratory, and could not refrain from repeating the last phrase to John Wilkes, whom he met in Westminster hall after the debate. "Forget you!" said Wilkes. "He'll see you damned first."—Wall Street Journal.

Arranging Flowers.

To arrange flowers the best way to take a lesson from the fields, woods or garden where you find them growing. Where red and white clover, daisies and grasses are found, arrange them in a loose bouquet to look just as they grew; and, as these are unpretentious flowers, do not put them in a glass vase, but rather choose an old dainty vessel—a brown unglazed pot, a gray Chinese finger jar or an earthen crock. The effect will be artistic. Indeed, the finding of exactly the right vessel for every flower is a delightful study, just as well as to the proper arrangement of the flowers themselves.

LIGHT THAT PRODUCES SOUND

Statement Sounds Incredible, but Experiment Will Speedily Demonstrate It to Be a Fact.

It seems incredible that a beam of light could be made to produce sound, but such a thing can be done. A ray of sunlight is thrown through a lens on a glass vessel containing lampblack, colored silk or worsted, or any like substance. A disk having slits or openings cut in it is made to revolve swiftly in this beam of light, so as to "cut it up," thus causing alternate flashes of light and shadow. When one places his ear to the glass vessel he hears strange sounds so long as the flashing beam falls upon the vessel.

A still more extraordinary effect is produced when the beam of sunlight is made to pass through a prism, so as to produce what is called the solar spectrum. The disk is turned and the colored light of the rainbow is made to play through it. Now, if the ear be placed to the vessel containing the silk or other material, as the colored lights of the spectrum fall upon it, sounds will be given by the different parts of the spectrum and there will be silence in other parts.

For example, if the vessel contains red worsted and the green light flashes upon it, loud sounds will be heard when the red and the blue parts of the rainbow fall upon the vessel. Other colors produce no sounds at all. Green silk gives out sound best in a red light. Every kind of material gives more or less sound in different colors and no sound at all in others.—Harper's Weekly.

WORLD'S DEBT TO VEGETABLE

Rosebly Sun Worship Had Its Origin in Knowledge of the Fact of the Dependence.

Vegetable life may worry along without animals, but animal life can't continue without vegetables. Therefore, says an English chemist, man owes a great debt of gratitude to the vegetable. He should do his best to foster it. It is not intimated whether this is an argument in favor of the theories advanced by the vegetarian, but it is considered ample proof man would not be here only for the humble vegetable kingdom. But vegetables, like animals, life, are dependent upon sunlight for their existence. The vegetable, however, is both the direct and the indirect substance of animal being. Animal life of certain species exists only, or almost so, on the flesh of other animals. But that latter food eventually is dependent upon the vegetable. This world exists on animal life. The relations between plant and animal form a beautiful dependence. Man owes to the vegetable more than he does to any animal life. "Think," concludes this chemist, "it's possible the sun worshippers perhaps had a greater realization of the value of Old Sol than we of the present century!"

RECORDER GIVES REASONS FOR THE MAYOR'S POWER

He States Over His Own Signature That the County Commissioners Desire to Cut Salaries. Most Interesting Data Given to Daily News Readers.

To the Editor: Recorder Windley says there is a reason that Mayor Kugler wanted that part of the Recorder's court giving him (the mayor) jurisdiction of all violations of city ordinances, he says the reason is that heretofore the city of Washington paid its mayor a flat salary of $50 per month for his services as such; which required about one-fifth of his time and now the state of North Carolina emphatically says through the Studdert bill ratified in both houses on the 3rd day of October, 1913, that the mayor and board of aldermen of the city of Washington shall not have the power to pay the chief of police and the mayor less than $75 nor more than $100 per month, so you can easily see his reason. Another reason, I was not satisfying him in the sentences of whiskey cases and I knew tenaces of whiskey cases. I was not satisfying him and neither did I try to, as I managed my court to suit myself in the past and I intend to in the future according to the law and my conscience directs. Mayor Kugler does not like me as an officer because he can't manipulate things in my court as he wishes to. He did not vote for me, but on the contrary he spent his money to defeat me but did not do it. At the polls I did him the same way I did not vote for him, only voting for two aldermen and Mr. Frank Flynn, then a policeman of this city, and Recorder and acting as pollster; and asked if I was not going to vote for Mayor Kugler and my answer was I am not, because he voted and spent his money to elect me, and last but not least he is not my kind of a boss. Mr. Frank Flynn practically voted the fourth ward for Kugler as he was in charge of the registration books and Kugler's friends had no showing at all. Then what happens? Mr. Kugler was elected mayor of the city of Washington and then Mr. Kugler lost sight of the valid word Mr Flynn did for him at the fourth ward. Instead of continuing the old man on at his job, which he had practically spent his days at as night policeman, getting at the time I was city clerk $50 per month and Mayor Kugler told him, instead of his being a policeman at $50 per month, he must wait all the filthy places of the city as sanitary inspector at a salary of $40 per month. That is gratitude! The state of North Carolina says in the act creating the recorder's court of Washington, Long-Acro and Chowan county township cities the following language: All appeals from justices of the peace courts in cases in which jurisdiction is given to this court, the said justice of the peace courts shall certify said cases to the recorder's court hereby created. The first case Mayor Kugler had I have been told was one John Hardy for cruelty to animals and he found him guilty, made him pay the cost of court when the law plainly reads, no justice of the peace has original jurisdiction in such cases and must be bound over to the higher court, although he disposed of the case. The next case he had a negro stealing a hat and he bound him over to my court (to my surprise) and I sent the negro to the roads for four months. The next case was George Styrone, who resides in the city of Washington, for signing for twelve plates of liquor. Mr. Styrone tells me he admitted he received the whiskey, carried it home and drank it; but denied he had ever sold a drop of it and the state did not prove a sale, as that he had it for the purpose of sale and the officers never found it in his possession, still Mayor Kugler found him guilty and bound him over (not to my court as the law directs) to the Superior Court of Beaufort county, placing him under a justified bond of $150 for his appearance. If Mayor Kugler issues warrants for every man and woman who signs for over one gallon of whiskey, or five gallons of beer and sends them to the higher court for trial, then the county commissioners will have to build four or five more jails, for the majority of our good men has ordered time after time more than the law specifies, for I have seen the records of the Southern Express Company myself. I see on the express records that Mayor Kugler received and signed for on October 15, 1913, fourteen pounds of whiskey when the United States liquid measure says that eight pounds of liquid measure make (1) one gallon, so you see the mayor himself had almost the same quantity as poor old George Styrone had. Those who live in glass houses should not throw stones. I invite the mayor to examine the records, both express and railroad, and see if he can find my name on their records for whiskey of any kind since I took my oath of office. This is a free country and every one who wishes to have liquor for his personal or family use, as Mayor Kugler and George Styrone, both in my mind had it for lawful purposes and not for sale; for as I understand the law a person can have a case of whiskey and not be embarrassed by the law if he does not have it for the purpose of sale. I think if Mayor Kugler had devoted more of his time in carrying out his promises to the people to get them to vote for him, that if elected, they would have severals all over the city, water pipes all over the city and the city should own both improvements they would enlarge the electric light plant, would give the city more light and more power to operate elevators, would give them drinking water that was not polluted as he claims it is and with all these promises he has done nothing towards his promises, only to buy the waterworks which were already here and Mr. Kugler always to credit of me having

Each Dummy Waterworks to fight our fires. Messrs. Lynch and Dunbar are the two men who have done the credit of little Washington having a water system, as when the city bought the plant they had to make a deal to issue notes or as equivalent for the purchase price and up to the present date the Mayor never sold the bonds which was voted on several months ago, so I think if Mayor Kugler had devoted more of his time to fulfill his promises to the people for their votes, and not devoting so much time to my little office trying to take away honest bread from me and mine I think the city would have been in far better shape and there would not have been friction and faction as he is causing among us people in the oldest little city of its name in the state. God grant us the day when our people can live together as brothers and not as enemies as we are doing.

The county commissioners through their clerk, Mr. G. Rumly, notified me to appear before them on the first Monday in December, which he to show cause why my salary should not be decreased. I am now getting $75 per month and the clerk $25. Making the recorder's court an expense of $100 per month. Now for the benefit of my friends who voted for me and for the benefit of the tax-payers as a whole of Beaufort county, I have submitted for your investigation the following figures below, taken from our court records, showing what has been done since I have been recorder for only a period of (11) eleven months; which has actually cost the county in salaries for the clerk and myself for four months July, August, September and October, which is $400. Since Mr. Weston has been clerk, we have collected in fines and dues amounts so $138.32. Besides, we have sixteen cases bound over to the superior court to be tried next week which if found guilty our court will get all our fees and perhaps some of the fines. There is two defendants who has skipped their bond which I had them under good bond and which our court will get credit for them. Since Mr. Weston was made clerk, I have sent 27 men to work the public roads of Beaufort county whose sentences total 3 years and 5 months. Have only sent 2 people to jail, one for 30 days, the other for 10 days. I have kept them out of jail as I will know our taxes had to pay the bill to keep them in there. For the benefit of the tax payers I have also gone over our court records where Mr. E. G. Mallison was clerk so our court and during his term of office, a period of six months, our fines and fees amounted to $2,581.50. During that time we
