OUR NEW HOME.

The Daily News is now ensconced in its new and modern home in Union Alley between Main and Second streets, where the patrons and friends of the paper have a cordial invitation to call at any hour during the day.

The new building erected for our plant by the Messrs. Bowers is in every way adapted for the successful prosecution of a newspaper and job plant. We feel that although we have missed several issues due to moving that our readers in visiting our former quarters and then looking in on us in our new home will at once see the change and not be ready to condemn us for seeming imperfection in issuing the Daily News each afternoon as is our regular custom.

We have installed several new and up-to-date appliances in both the paper and job departments—a word—we have anticipated the future and endeavored to be ready to meet them and be ready at all times to give our patrons a creditable and worthy newspaper and job work on schedule time and, too, in a workmanlike manner.

We hope to merit the confidence of our constituency in the future as in the past and believing that we will, we again cordially invite every subscriber and patron of the Daily News to call and inspect its new home.

RIGHT MOVE.

The Board of Aldermen in ordering a policeman to be stationed at the corner of Main and Market streets Saturday afternoon to abate the congestion of traffic is certainly making a move in the right direction.

SHELLS STRENGTH.

The City Fathers of late have been placing oyster shells on different streets of the city and the result is that when the shells have been properly crushed and settle they will make a thoroughfare second to none.

HOLIDAY GIFTS GALORE.

No town in North Carolina can boast of a more elaborate display of goods than Washington. One only has to pay a visit to the respective stores to see this assertion fully verified.

The Turkey lost his head completely Thanksgiving day but Judge Carter kept his intact, however, if he was investigating Asheville Blind Tiger. More judges of the Carter stripe and there will be less violence.

Equal to the Situation.

Two lawyers in New York were walking along the street discussing the subject as to whether the Irish were as witty as they were reputed to be.

"When Pat came along No. 1 says: 'Say, Pat, did you know the devil was dead?'"

Pat looked very thoughtful for a moment, then slipped his hand into his pocket, drew out a coin, and handed it to the lawyer.

"Sure, indeed, in the country there where I came from we always give alms to the orphans."—Nation's Food Magazine.

In London they tell of a man with a serious disease of the throat, who consulted a specialist. The surgeon recommended the removal of the larynx, an operation which the patient feared might prove dangerous.

"Oh, no! You are quite sure to recover," persisted the patient. "I understand that this sort of operation is very serious indeed."

"My reason," continued the surgeon, "for saying that you are sure to recover is this: The mortality is nineteen out of twenty, and I've had nineteen deaths already."

SHOWS VALUE OF COURTESY

Cleveland Philosopher Shows He Has Found the Only True Way to Live.

A worthy Cleveland philosopher here has found the only true path to happiness and the secret of ending people's bad habits. It is appreciation and showing people that courtesy and consequent happiness pays in dollars and cents.

Incorporation papers have been filed for the Appreciation League of the United States by William Vernon Baker, founder of the new club, idea, which he believes is to become world popular.

"Tolerance: The Art of Making Happiness Evident," is the title of a little book published by Mr. Baker, setting forth the philosophy of tolerance, which is to have every "self" report employee in any vocation for courtesy instead of discipline.

Every member of the Appreciation League is to be provided with cards blanked to permit filling in the name and business address of a clerk, conductor, postman, collector—any one at all. Then there are spaces in which to place a cross after any one or all of the words, "Attentive, Obedient, Sympathetic, Helpful, Obedient and Polite."

The idea is to have all of our members make out and mail these cards whenever they find an employee or other person who shows them courtesy," explained Mr. Baker.

"When an employee has received three 'courtesy reports' he is entitled to a special letter from the league secretary to his employer and a badge of merit bestowed by the league."—Cleveland (O.) Dispatch to the New York Herald.

Ants Which Plant and Bake.

The extraordinary habits of the harvester ant have been known to naturalists. Certain species not only harvest and store in granaries the seeds upon which they feed, but actually plant and cultivate an annual crop of their food seeds.
