800 LINES NEW FREIGHT HOUSES.

Chicago, Dec. 15.—The new Chicago freight terminal of the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie railway, which is attracting so much attention, consists of an expenditure of more than $10,000,000. The site covers eleven city blocks and extends south from Twelfth street, between Canal and Clinton streets, to Fifteenth street, where it extends west to Halsted street. To protect crossings, the tracks are being built on a deck structure and the space beneath will be used for storage purposes. From the street the track deck will be reached by two incline driveways, one beginning at Twelfth street and the other at Fourteenth place. Arrangements have been made with the Chicago Tunnel company to provide connections with freight carrying conduits, so that service can be furnished to skyscrapers in the loop.

The in-freight house will be served by five tracks and will have a floor space of 1,000,000 square feet. It is expected this capacity will be doubled within the next few years. Eight tracks will furnish service to the out-freight house, which will have a floor area of 65,000 square feet. The company will have an area of working space under roof of 17,200,000 square feet.

THE DOMINICAN ELECTION.

Washington, Dec. 15.—The United States is watching with peculiar interest the national election being held in Santo Domingo. The fact that two United States candidates have been added to the race in the Dominican Republic, for any attempt on the part of the United States to take a hand in their elections will shake the confidence in the government and weaken it with the people.

A creature that is not a creature, but a creature in a creature, is the only creature that is not a creature, but a creature in a creature.

REPUBLICANS GATHERING FOR CONFERENCE.

Washington, Dec. 15.—Leading Republicans from all parts of the country are gathering here today for the first meeting of the National Committee since the break. A number of important questions will be considered, but that of reconvening will occupy the most attention. There will be a spirited fight over the meeting place for the convention which is reported will be called next spring.

MR. WARDEN'S NEWS.

Mr. W. H. Russ of the Farm & Home Bureau of the State of Ohio, who has been in the city for some time, will be unable to attend the funeral of his uncle, Mr. Lacy Warren, who passed away at his home in that town yesterday. The deceased was about 70 years of age and had been in the highest esteem in that section. For years he has been one of the most prominent farmers of Mercer county and his going is universally deplored. He leaves several children to mourn their loss. The funeral will take place this afternoon in the funeral home and the interment will be in the family burying ground.

POSTPONE ENGAGEMENT.

Announcement is made that Mrs. H. W. Carter and Miss Lida T. Rodman will be unable to fill their engagement to speak at Bath, N. C. on December 16. They will make a date sometime later.

Soda crackers are more nutritive than any other flour food. Uneeda Biscuit are the perfect soda crackers.

Though the cost is but five cents, Uneeda Biscuit are too good, too nourishing, too crisp, to be bought merely as an economy.

Buy them because of their freshness—because of their crispness—because of their goodness—because of their nourishment.

Always 5 cents. Always fresh, crisp and clean.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

Courteous to the Last.

When on the scaffold Robert Bamford, who was hanged at Nottingham, England, several years ago, politely asked the hangman if he could have more rope. On his request being granted, he endeavored to shake hands with the hangman, but being unable to do so with his pinioned arms he gave him a courtly bow and smile of thanks.

Reason for Reconciliation.

The newly married young woman rushed into her father's presence and threw herself on her knees before him. "Oh, papa!" she sobbed. "I have come to you for forgiveness and blessing! It was wrong and unkind of me, but I loved Richard so that I just had to elope with him. But I couldn't be happy till I had been reconciled with you, so here I am at your feet." "Well, well," growled the old man, much affected in spite of himself, "I suppose I'll have to. But you are alone—where is—er Richard?" "He's just outside, papa dear, with the cabman. And now that you have forgiven us, please lend us enough to pay the horrid brute so that he'll go away. You see, we only had enough money for the license and the minister."

Counterfeit Dog.

"Does you 'member dat dawg I used to have," asked Erastus Pinkley. "Yes," replied Uncle Ramsey. "You means dat mixed dog?" "He was kind o' mixed; he was what I calls a black-an'-tan-dale terrier. Well, sub, dat owag ain' brought me nuffin' but bad luck. I sold 'im to a man for two dollars, an' de two dollars he slipped me were counterfeit." "What you gineter do?" "Wut kin I do? If I shows 'im any way to prove the transaction was unlegal, he's ginter make me take the dawg back."

Matter of Color.

"Funny things happened in my town last week," said the chatty man in the railway carriage. "What was that?" asked the interested individual. "Black, a white man, and White, a black man, thought a fellow named Brown was pretty green and tried to sell 'em a white horse. But Brown was well read and he deceived them both—in fact, he got all the money they had."

More Useful.

"What do you want with this immense knife?" "That's a hunting knife. I'm going camping. Want something suitable for skinning wild animals." "Better follow my advice and take something suitable for skinning potatoes."

Where Dean Swift First Met Stella.
Moor Park, Fife-shire, which has just changed hands, is to the lover of literature one of the most historic places in England.

It was there that Swift met Stella when he was secretary to Sir William Temple, and at Moor Park he also wrote "The Battle of the Books" and "The Tale of a Tub." The estate, which is not to be confused with the one of the same name near Rickmansworth, also lives in the pages of Jane Austen, where the provenance of some especially choice apricots is credited on the strength of their being "genuine Moor Park's."

Evergreen Scent.

Evergreen trees of any kind can be made to yield up their sweet scent in the winter if their branches and boughs be gathered for use in the open fire. The needles will usually fall as the branches dry, but if they are dried on newspapers or a large sheet of cheesecloth they can be easily gathered up to burn. Pine trees are especially fragrant and pine cones make a roaring and picturesque fire, besides giving off a breath of the pine woods whenever they are burned.

Eczema.

The constantly itching, burning sensation and other disagreeable forms of eczema, tetter, salt-rheum and skin eruptions promptly cured by Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment. Geo. W. Fitch, of Mendota, Ill., says: "I purchased a box of Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointments. I have had eczema ever since the civil war, have been treated by many doctors, none have given the benefit that one box of Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment has." Every sufferer should try it. We're so positive it will help you we guarantee it or money refunded. At all Drugstores or by mail, 50c.

Another Mrs. Malaprop.

"No, she wouldn't listen to reason," said Mrs. Twickenbury. "She was in a most indicative mood."—Christian Register.

Putting it in Another Way.

Macaulay said: "You must dig deep if you would build high." He might have added: "You must live in little if you would rise to greatness."

NUMBRANCES IN DAILY LIFE

Many People Who Through Thoughtlessness Allow Themselves to Be Guilty of Discourtesy.

In the Woman's Home Companion appears an article entitled "Little Courtesy of Social Life." In the course of which the author mentions, as follows, a few people who make mistakes of themselves:
"Other discourtesies you meet in private as well as in public. Do we not all know the man or woman who takes up a book or paper and reads while others in the circle are talking? Do we not meet every day the person who discards his papers and places and things they know and we don't? Does any one of us escape the trial of the interrupted who breaks in upon our best story with an irrelevant remark, or who snags our most telling argument in two to interject comment, humorous or otherwise? Or of the chronic story-teller who can hardly wait for the conclusion of our anecdotes because of his eagerness to cap it with one he believes better? We have all met just such people who have done these very things, thoughtlessly, no doubt, but not the less unpleasant for that reason."
"These and many others are always with us, and all are guilty of discourtesy and genuine bad breeding. The only way to eliminate them and their breaches of manners is by individual effort with our families, our friends and ourselves."

The Dream-Lion.

A Vienna professor is credited with saying that dreams are usually wish-fulfillments. Maybe so. What about that childish dream in which the ferocious lion comes bounding along behind you, and you run as fast as your feet will, and the lion closes the gap little by little, and then—all of a sudden—your legs grow limp, and your muscles turn to water, and your feet fray out, and the lion leaps—and you awake with a yell, if your voice isn't paralyzed, and everybody in the house wakes with you?

Flemings Built Up English Town.

Rochdale, England, laid the foundation of its prosperity in the reign of Edward III, when a body of Flemish emigrants took up their abode there and introduced their craft as clothiers. Rochdale, in the time of Queen Elizabeth, had become so famous for its woolen manufacturers that the "aulinger," the official appointed by the queen to measure all woollen cloth made for sale, had to appoint a special deputy there to keep peace with its manufacture and see that the crown was not robbed of its dues.

Croup and Cough Remedy.

Croup is a terrible disease, it attacks children so suddenly they are very apt to choke unless given the proper remedy at once. There is nothing better in the world than Dr. King's New Discovery. Lewis Chamberlain, of Manchester, Ohio, writes about his children: "Sometimes in severe attacks we were afraid they would die but since we proved what a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup, coughs and colds." So can you. 50c and $1.00. A bottle should be in every home. At all Drugstores. R. E. Bucklen & Co., Phila., St. Louis.
