Time's Changes. Why is it that laws which worked very well fifty or sixty years ago are being discarded? Why is it that laws which a quarter century ago would have been laughed down are getting upon the books of every state in the Union? Why is it that there are new ideas in teaching, new ideas about the liberty of the individual, new ideas about a man's relationship with his neighbor? Why is it, in short, that there is a vast discontent with old institutions and old ways? It is because the world has outgrown the government, the ideas, the habits of thought that fitted easily and serenely enough into the lives of our great-grandparents, but which are creaking in their joints now. Life today is a very different thing from life fifty or sixty years ago.—Toledo Blade.

A Map That Failed. The French National Library in the Rue de Valenciennes, Paris, is full of wonders for the lovers of history. One of its treasures is a map of North and South America as French possessions. The map is dated 1594, and here is the explanation of it: Catherine de Medici, the queen of Henry II, and mother of Francis II, Charles I, and Henri III, dreamed once of the conquest of the two Americas. She even named viceroys, one for North America and the other for South America. They were on their way to the new world when the queen's audacious plan fell through because of events at home. The queen, however, had a map made showing her projected possessions under the French flag.—New York Sun.

VISITING HERE. The many friends of Mrs. Laura Tankard, of Middleton, N. C., will be pleased to learn that she is visiting in the city. She is the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. B. Walling, on Market street. Mrs. Tankard for years was a popular resident of Washington.

GUEST OF PARENTS. Mr. David T. Taylor, who is a student at the University of North Carolina, and who on Thanksgiving day was honored by being elected captain of the University football team for the coming year, is here spending the holidays with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. D. T. Taylor, at their home on West Main street.

AT COUNTY HOME. Mr. W. B. Harding conducted services at the County Home yesterday afternoon. There were quite a number present and the session was much enjoyed. The choir of St. Peter's Episcopal church furnished the music.

C., says: "My back troubled me for months and my kidneys were disordered. The kidney secretions gave me a great deal of annoyance, especially at night. After I had used two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from the Hoyt Drug Store, I was relieved. I have not had to take a kidney medicine since." Price 50c. at all dealers. Doan's

HENRY WARD BEECHER SAID:

From the same material one builds palaces and another hovels: One rears a stately edifice, while his brother vacillating and incompetent, lives forever amid ruin.

Which would you prefer? To build up your home on a property laid off with the specific view of making of it a high class, restricted residential section with many parks and broad avenues for a desirable class of people? or

To build in a property laid off with the promoter's only view of turning a quick dollar. No care or consideration as to who buys (white or colored) nor to the future outcome of the property?

Washington Park has advantages surpassing any section around Washington. Yet, without foresight and stitching done this material could have been ruined.

If you will keep in touch with Washington Park and its development, you'll say its bound to be the most select residential section of Washington, and those who have foresight and forethought will gain future good in buying and building upon this property.

A few of the choicest lots left. Better secure one today. Come at once.

A. C. HATHAWAY.

His Finiah. A politician was describing at the club the death of a rival. "Yes, Jones is dead," he said, and with a chuckle, he held his glass up to the light. "Yes, Jones is dead," he slipped on the parquetry floor of his library and killed himself. The politician gave a loud laugh. Then he added: "A hardwood finish, eh?"—Kresbange.

CONSUMPTION VERSUS WAR

Germs Far More Destructive Than Generals.

But Beer's Emulsion Times Up System and Tends to Prevent Tuberculosis. Civil war deaths, 1861 to 1865, 305,000. Consumption, 1904 to 1907, 640,000.

Would it not be a sad time in your home if your husband, wife, daughter and son would have to march out today in another civil war? Look at the above figures again. They are facing an army that is commanded by an officer that is far more destructive in his attack than Jackson or Lee ever were. This officer waits until you are down and then jumps on. The quiet way these attacks are made is awful. What are you going to do about it? Let it go from day to day? Or are you going to build up your system, that is weakening away and exposing you to this "consumption germ"? Beer's Emulsion is by far the most effective remedy to ward off this germ with. For it not only maintains normal conditions of nutrition, but has a well defined specific palliative influence upon the system of the germ. Another special advantage which gives the remedy the preference is that it is invariably beneficial to the disordered digestive organ. For disturbances are almost constantly present in this way as in many others.

Beer's Emulsion proves to be better than any other remedy sold. One dollar a bottle or six bottles for five dollars. Express paid if you can't get it from your druggist. Sold by Worthy & Etheridge.

A Caution. "Darling, I will tell you in poetry of burning meter that you are the light of my life." "All right, but don't do it with the gas meter."—Haitimore American.

Easy Work. He chitterly: "I suppose you consider it quite a triumph to make a top of a bun?" She: "Oh dear, no! A triumph is something done that was difficult or achievement."
