WEDNESDAY, APRIL 1, 1914.

Here's to those I love. Here's to those who love me; Here's to those who love those I love, And here's to those who love those who love those who love me.

Woman—The fairest work of the great author; the edition is large, and no man should be without a copy.

Someone has said that "The ladies: with assiduity we court their smiles; with sorrow we receive their frowns; but smiling or frowning, we love them."

It is said that the place where all of us are treated best and grumble most is the home.

Easter tide is approaching and with it comes the smile of the good women—time to show their Easter bonnets.

Says the Greensboro News: The dictionary defines a crisis as a "decisive moment," but the dictionary maker had never met a Mexican crisis. We should say not.

President Wilson seems to be having trouble getting a fellow for the French Ambassadorship.

Consternation is now rampant among the women for they are likely to be minus of their hair and become bald headed if they continue to keep up the present styles in headgear such as tight fitting hats and head bands. This is the opinion of a Kansas physician. He claims that the styles now in vogue are similar to those of the ancient Egyptians.

Beaufort county is falling in line with her sister counties for politics are beginning to be the leading topic and candidates are fast announcing their claims.

Keep off the streets Monday and Friday afternoons from now on; If you don't you are liable to get run-over. "A stitch in time saves nine." The boys are trying to learn the trick of running an auto-fire truck and they desire the entire thoroughfares of the city.
