GEN. HUERTA APPOINTS HIS DELEGATES

Washington, D. C.—Mexican developments are still moving rapidly with an evident tenseness in the diplomatic and military situations. The South American mediators after several conferences gave out to the public through secretary of state, W. J. Bryan, that General Huerta had named DeMillo, Rabasa, an eminent Mexican jurist, and Augustin Garza, under-secretary of justice, as two of his delegates to confer with the mediators. As yet Secretary Bryan has made no reply to the mediators, as to the appointment of American delegates.

Reports as to the desperate condition of General Huerta at Mexico City is continued to be circulated. The desperate straits of Huerta have reached Washington from many quarters. One dispatch was received from a foreign minister at Mexico City, which stated: "Position desperate, but no details."

The mediators expressed satisfaction with the class of men chosen by Huerta as his delegates to confer with them.

Secretary Bryan expressed satisfaction today with the mediation proceedings. He went to the White House for a conference with President Wilson, during which the status of the mediation and the Mexican situation generally was gone over.

During the day it was announced that President Wilson planned to go to Brooklyn on Monday to meet the Montanas, which is bringing back the bodies of the American marines killed at Vera Cruz, and deliver an address. Should public business require the continued presence of President Wilson at Washington, Secretary Daniels will speak for him.

There have been some amusing features to lighten the serious aspects of the mediation proceedings. The mediators have been receiving a great number of letters approving their course, and offering advice. One letter urged that Theodore Roosevelt was the man to set up a provisional government in Mexico, backed by north, south and central America, and that the Spanish republic should induce him to undertake the provisional direction of affairs at Mexico.

This will be welcome news to their many friends.

The case of State vs. R. H. Miles, for murder, was continued until the November term of court as it was the opinion of the solicitor and counsel for both the State and defense the cause could not be reduced at this term of court.

In the case of State vs. Gus Alexander for the murder of Frank Brooks, the prisoner was arraigned also yesterday afternoon and a venire of 515 men were drawn from the box. This cause is set for trial tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

In the case of State vs. Bill Branch for murder the prisoner was arraigned, but as yet no time has been set for his trial.

In the case of State vs. William Swanner for violation of a city ordinance and which, at the last term of court, was a mistrial, was not prosed.

The case of State vs. J. G. Parker for assaulting his child, consumed most of the afternoon session yesterday. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

"AN AMERICAN CITIZEN" HERE WEDNESDAY

The New Bern Journal had this to say of the recent performance of "An American Citizen," by the Paint and Powder Club of that city:

"The performance given last night by 'The Paint and Powder Club,' with its noted membership of amateurs was the most notable of a long list of the most excellent performances by this club. Their rendition of the famous war play 'Shenandoah,' several years ago, and the very pleasing excellence of 'The Little Minister' last season was still fresh in the memories of the capacity audience that filled the house, but it remained for them to eclipse their former efforts by last evening's portrayal of this laughable comedy.

Mrs. D. S. Congdon was never seen to better advantage, and her gracefulness and winsome manner endeared her still more to her audience.

Albert Willis, though essaying an entirely different role from his usual portrayals, captured anew one by one of his adaptation of the nervous business man.

Mrs. Isaac Cohen had the entire audience with her from her first appearance and the entire house was in an uproar. She was indeed a most clever artist.

In fact the entire cast supported the leading roles in a most pleasing and attractive manner."

The New Bern Sun, classed the performance as the most perfect work of amateurs that had ever been seen on the local stage, and said that it was not for the fact that the performers were so well known locally that it would have been hard to have believed that it was amateurs presenting the performance.

A visitor in the audience from New York, who had witnessed the original play by Goodwin and Elliott, was loth to believe that in fact it was being portrayed by "home talent."

The play will be presented at the New Theater, on Wednesday night the 6th.

MRS. MARSH INDISPOSED.

The friends of Mrs. M. C. Marsh, who resides on West Third street will regret to learn that she is confined to her bed. It is to be hoped she will soon be convalescent.
