

EVANGELIST F. H. WRIGHT PREACHES GREAT SERMON ON SUNDAY EVENING

ARE YOU SAVED? WAS SUBJECT OF THE PREACHER

Not Only Preaches the Gospel But Sings Its Services Again This Evening At the First Presbyterian Church

Rev. Frank Hal Wright, the Indian Evangelist, is a great preacher. He preaches the gospel in the purity and does not fail to call a sinner a sinner. Last night at the First Presbyterian Church he spoke to a packed house, using as his theme "Are You Saved?" No Evangelist has ever visited Washington who was more earnest, more sincere or who gave the people a clearer insight into the demands of Christ as revealed in His word. For over thirty minutes last night this worthy ambassador of Christ told the people of their misdeeds, their misgivings, and the way in which they can redeem themselves. The speaker does not call upon words of many syllables to express a thought or group a phrase; so simple and plain is his words that a child of young and tender years can readily understand and direct. The simplicity of his speech is his power. Not only does he preach the gospel in the purity—able to the level of the masses, but in addition upon this has been bestowed the power of song. With this additional aid he charms and delights his hearers.

Mr. Walter R. Good, the leader of the singing, has a voice of sweetness and he and Mr. Wright in their duets simply captivate. It has been many a day since their voices have been heard in Washington.

The solo by Mr. Wright immediately after the close of his sermon last night entitled "Nothing but Heaven" was indeed a masterpiece. Under his sweet notes, sung to the glory of his God and preceded by a discourse appealing to his hearers to lead a better life, was a glorious hymn to a service long to be remembered. A service was held this morning for the children at eleven o'clock.

Tonight at eight o'clock Mr. Wright will preach again and each evening during the week. It will pay all the citizens to hear this gifted man of God. Services manifested an interest in their souls' salvation last night. A great outpouring is looked for as a result of this series of meetings.

Tick Fever Kills More Cattle In South Than All Other Disease

Washington, D. C., May 25.—During the seven years that the U. S. Department of Agriculture has been campaigning against the tick fever which annually kills more cattle in the South than all other diseases combined, an area of 198,000 square miles has been freed from the tick. Details of the work against a disease that is estimated to cost American farmers $40,000,000 a year are reported in a new circular of the department entitled "Effects of Tick Infestation on the Cattle Industry of the South."

Now comes the question, "What plan is best for farmers in these redoubt areas to improve their stock?" The following are some of the Department's suggestions in brief:

1. Get Bermuda or carpet grass started on all pastures. Improve the pastures further by sowing some lespedeza and bur clover on the uplands and some alkali clover, white clover and Paspalum dilatatum on the bottom lands.

2. Grow more hay and other forage on which to winter the stock; or, if a farmer has as many as 50 or 75 cattle, erect a silo.

3. Bring in good bulls of the best breeds to use for grading up the native cattle. Do not try to raise pure breeds to begin with.

4. If not able to buy a bull for individual use, form a bull club, and let each member buy stock in the club and place him on some central farm; or let one man buy the bull and the others obligate themselves to breed their cows to that bull.

5. Form a community club or a county live-stock association, so that members may exchange bulls every two years in order to get the maximum service from a bull without breeding him to his offspring. The members of a club should agree on what breed they want to use and all get bulls of the same breed, in order that the community may develop a trade and make a reputation as growers of this breed.

6. If the bull is young, do not let him run with the cows, but keep him in a separate pasture and give him some feed each day so as to keep him growing.

MADE IN HOUSTON BANQUET

Houston, Tex., May 25.—The Chamber of Commerce has opened today a big Houston-made-goods demonstration, which will last throughout this week. The annual meeting of the chamber will be celebrated with a banquet, at which absolutely nothing outside of this city will be served. One big feature of the week will be a trip to Sugar Land, the large property of the Imperial Sugar Company, when the visitors will be conducted thru the great mills and refineries and the wonderful process of sugar making unfolded. The manufacturing and industrial industries have opened their plants for inspection and all who wish may go from either to get and view the process of manufacturing Houston-made goods.

GREAT SHOW NEW THEATRE FOR TONIGHT

The New Theatre opens tonight with the Bol Schaffer Musical Comedy Company, assisted by the "Sawyer Sisters" for an entire week's engagement. This troupe comes here recommended as the best tabloid company that this house has yet produced. There will be an entire change of program every night. For tonight they will present "Midnight at Sherry," an act that is sure to make a big hit here. The comedians are all artists in their line. Each and every girl in the company is capable of leading as well as assisting in the chorus numbers. Be there is sure to be plenty of good singing tonight and every night this week. The wardrobe carried by this troupe is the very latest out for musical comedies. The musical program of high class pictures will be seen each night. The prices for this attraction will remain the same, 10c and 20c.

PRODUCT IS CREDITABLE TO FARMER

Mr. L. T. Thompson of Aurora, N. C., is not only one of Richland town ship's energetic and prosperous merchants but as a farmer he stands among the first. Saturday last the editor of the Daily News was presented with a sample of onions and they were beautiful. The product of this enterprising farmer. The onions were the largest for the time of year seen in Washington in years. Mr. Thompson is now busily engaged in shipping them to northern markets. This is but another evidence of the fact that Beaufort county has the best farmers to be found anywhere.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas, the community and the Methodist Sunday School, has suffered a serious bereavement in the sudden death of Miss Eunice Gibbs, and this school desires to pay deserved tribute to her faithful and valuable services, as a member and teacher.

Resolved first, That we publicly express the keen sense of our loss in her removal from a life of usefulness and that while joining with the stricken family in mourning her death we yet remember that this affliction comes from the hand of a wise and merciful Father.

Second, That we express also our appreciation of her earnest labors in this school, and the good she accomplished both by her teachings and by her daily life—and that we hold in sacred recollection the lesson she taught by precept and by example.

Third, That these resolutions be published in the Daily News, and the Raleigh Christian Advocate, also a copy spread upon the minutes of the Sunday School, and a copy be sent to the bereaved family.

NOTICE AS TO HOW TO SHIP THE FRUIT

Atlanta, Ga., May 25.—Anticipating annually heavy fruit and vegetable crops throughout the South, eastern States, the Southern Railway and affiliated lines, (including the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific Railroad, Alabama Great Southern Railroad, Mobile and Ohio Railroad and Georgia Southern and Florida Railway), through their market agents, based at Atlanta, Cincinnati, Washington and St. Louis, have begun an active educational campaign for the purpose of assisting growers and shippers to successfully dispose of their products.

With this end in view, an illustrated pamphlet has just been issued giving full information in regard to marketing and proper methods of preparing, packing and loading the various kinds of fruit and vegetables grown in the South. This pamphlet was prepared after very careful study and should be invaluable to Southern growers and shippers. Eighteen illustrations are shown of proper containers to use. Copies of the pamphlet will be furnished interested parties for the asking.

Not only will the market agents assist Southern growers in properly marketing and packing their products in sound and attractive shape, but will put them in touch with dealers located at the various important points in the United States and Canada and help them to find the best markets.

MUST SERVE SENTENCE ON THE ROADS

Chief of Police, O. J. Nye of Beaufort, N. C., arrived in the city this morning via the Norfolk Southern train bringing two prisoners, John Satterthwaite, sentenced to the county roads for four months and Emma Mans, who is to be carried to the insane asylum.

Satterthwaite was sentenced to the county roads Saturday last by Recorder J. A. Leigh for the larceny of a pair of pants stolen from the store of S. J. Peale.

A warm and cordial welcome awaits this distinguished divine in Washington.

GEO. V. CREDE PASSED AWAY SWAN QUARTER

George Veal Crede, a name familiar to every citizen of Hyde and Beaufort counties—a man whose word was his bond, yesterday morning just as the Sabbath sunlight was about to burst forth in all its glory, at his home in Swan Quarter surrounded by those who loved him best and have lost most, at the ripe old age of eighty-two, God's chariot swept down and amid the plaudits of earth he was carried to the battlements of heaven and rushed amid triumph through the pearly gates of the New Jerusalem to meet his Lord face to face.

The news of Mr. Crede's death was received here yesterday via telephone and as soon as it was known sorrow and sadness gathered around those homes where he mingled and shed rays of sunshine when it was such that he could visit them.

He had been indisposed for months but only until the last two weeks was he compelled to take to his bed. From that time to the end ministrations of loved ones and the skill of the physician exhausted their power for God knew best and so he went, carrying with him a record of a well spent life both in church and state.

Mr. Crede was born at Swan Quarter eighty-two years ago last November and all during his long life was one of the county's honored and highly respected citizens. He followed the farmer's and merchant's life and now that the vacant chair sits in the corner and the White Horse and his rider loiters at his portal, he was ready. "A Living epistle, known and read by all men," he was what he was. No mercenary spirit, no hypocrite, no deceit entered his heart. He was the soul of honor, honesty and square dealing was his life's slogan.

All during the war between the states, Mr. Crede was ever on the picket line. Brave in battle he was equally as tender in peace. His children today can truly say of him: "He has fought a good fight, he has kept the faith." A monument more lasting than stone.

The deceased leaves six children, twenty-five grandchildren and twenty great grandchildren to mourn their loss. The children are: Mrs. Oliver Swindell, Mrs. Louis H. Swindell, George T. Crede, Dr. Edmund Crede, Nathaniel Crede of Hyde county, and Mrs. Charles Wahab of this city.

For many years he has been a consistent member of the Methodist church and a loyal Mason. Whatever trust was committed unto him he was faithful and true. He hewed to the line in all things, not caring what the outcome would be. May this paper not write upon the clasp of his book of life the words, "Well Done." To those bereft the Daily News joins in extending sympathy. At this writing the funeral arrangements had not been announced. A well spent life has gone to its reward. What a worthy life to emulate.

FINE TOMATOES.

Robert Mitchell exhibited in this office this morning a basket of full grown tomatoes. They were perfect in every way and much admired by all who saw them.

REAL LIVE BABY GIVEN AWAY FRIDAY

If there is any one in the city that wishes to adopt a child, they will have the chance of getting a real live baby at the New Theater Friday night without any condition attached to the transfer of the baby whatever. This baby has been turned over to the management of the theater to be given to some responsible party that is sure to bring it up in the way that it should be. The baby is good looking and in every way it is all that could be wished by any party that wishes to secure it. This notice is in this paper merely to give the people of the city a chance to think over the proposition. The name of the lucky person will not be decided until Friday night. Be sure and attend Friday night, if you desire the baby.
