

BUY SEASON TICKETS AND HELP GUARANTORS FOR CHAUTAUQUA WEEK

Purchase Them Before Monday. Receipts At The Door Of Tent During The Week Do Not Apply On The Guarantee. This Should Be Thoroughly Understood.

BEST EDUCATOR.

Durham, N. C., June 18. Jno. G. Bragaw, Jr., Washington, N. C. I consider Chautauqua best educator and highest class entertainment in the country. You may never get a chance to see such high class entertainment again. Had our people known what character of entertainment it was we would have made money first year. We have sold over one thousand tickets for next year on first call. Don't let it pass if possible to land.

R. A. KNIGHT.

We again urge our people to buy their Chautauqua tickets before Monday. Only by purchasing the season tickets can they aid the local guarantors for at the receipts at the door of the tent during the week do not apply on the guarantee. This fact should be thoroughly understood by everybody. The thirty business men of the city who made themselves responsible for seven hundred season tickets at two dollars a piece assumed that risk for no other purpose than to secure for Washington an entertainment of the highest order at a price within reach of all the people. Those 30 men receive no remuneration in any way, shape or form beyond the satisfaction of knowing that Washington has been made a Chautauqua town. It is a badge of distinction that every town should covet. Now, as we said before, they can only make good their guarantee by selling the season tickets before Chautauqua or paying the deficit out of their own pockets. On next Monday, June 22nd they must turn over to Chautauqua $1400, because they have pledged themselves to do so. The money taken in at the door during the week does not help them at all. If the people of Washington appreciate the commendable spirit of these men, let them buy season tickets before Monday and give that much assistance to the enterprise. Some of our citizens who cannot attend Chautauqua have bought tickets in order to help the cause, and this is an example that many others might follow.

CAR-SKADEN FARM IS VISITED BY NEWS MAN

Will Be Sold By The Atlantic Coast Realty Company On June 26. Big Fish Fry Served Free. Big Crowd Is Expected.

The natural beauty of the Car-Skaden farm has been brought out by a few touches of hand of the painter and the opening up of vistas by the clearing away of obstructing trees and brush. When the reporter of this paper went to this place on yesterday he was agreeably surprised to find such a delightful spot.

The Atlantic Coast Realty Company has a large force of men at work on the farm subdividing it into small farm tracts and river shore lots, the property being laid out in a most attractive way. There are to be twelve lots running down to Pamlico river, all of which are situated on a high bluff overlooking the river and Chocowinity Bay, affording the most attractive view of the river that can be obtained at any point along its shores. In front of these lots is a sand beach which affords a bathing beach that cannot be excelled. These lots will doubtless prove very attractive to any one desiring a summer home site, of ideal location, close to Washington, at a moderate price. Beyond and below this property numerous cottages have already been built by Washington people who are there enjoying the pleasures of fishing and bathing which is not excelled by any of our coast resorts. Being only about fifteen minutes drive from Washington, it would seem that as soon as this property is sold, cottages and homes will soon make this a colony of a very attractive nature.

The farm lands will be sold in blocks running from twelve to fifteen acres. The fertility of this soil is demonstrated by the character of crops on the adjoining farm of Mr. B. W. Bergeron. He has there some of the finest tobacco that can be found growing anywhere in the country. He has just harvested his Irish potato crop, the yield from every acre of which will more than pay the price that these lands will bring at the sale. For early truck, corn, cotton and tobacco his land can not be surpassed. The small farms in the Car-Skaden division will all have good road fronts and anyone, though not a prophet, can tell that in just a short while after this sale they will all be veritable garden spots.

On the day of the sale, next Wednesday, June 24th, a big picnic fish fry dinner will be served free on the land. Boats will leave from Washington at 9 and 10 a. m., from the Market House dock to carry anyone who desires to go, free of charge.

FLAG DAY IN CAPITAL NOW POPULAR

Flag Day each year is becoming of more and more importance, and great pains are taken by government to fittingly celebrate Old Glory's National Day. Last Saturday the nine mezzanine floors of the great post-office department which overlooks the glass-roofed court below were crowded with a vast gathering of high officials, employees and citizens who crowded the galleries of every floor to enjoy the special program of oratory and music provided for the occasion. The whole rotunda was effectively beautified with tall palms and potted plants. Hundreds of the various ancient types of the stars and stripes and many flags of other nations decorated the handsome white marble balconies surrounding the court, while in the center, high over the heads of the dignitaries gathered upon the temporary platform constructed for the occasion proudly hung a brand new flag, the largest in the world, measuring 36x62 feet—an immense Old Glory indeed. As the Marine Band played the music of our national anthem the great audience rose and joined lustily in the singing of the Star Spangled Banner. Secretary Bryan made the principal oration. He spoke eloquently of the reverence and love of Americans for their country and its flag, declaring that everywhere under its folds were found both peace and progress.

Among the numerous state emblems the one most frequently pointed out was a beautiful New Jersey flag in yellow silk. The knowings whispered that it was one of the many handsome wedding presents received by Mrs. McAdoo, the President's youngest daughter.

One of the very prettiest ceremonies of the day occurred early in the morning in front of the magnificent new union depot, the great building which is the pride of all American tourists, for before it, on the broad plaza—between the depot and the Columbus memorial fountain—stand three immense standards on which the national emblem was unfurled on flag day, to the breeze for the first. A joint resolution of Congress authorized the War Department to furnish the stars and stripes and the Terminal Company gladly agreed to have one of their men attend to the duty of raising and lowering the flags each day. Hereafter every vis-

Medical Society Praises Board Of Health Work

The principal feature of Wednesday's meeting of the State Medical Society was the conjoint session of the Medical Society with the State Board of Health. It was at this meeting Dr. Rankin, as Secretary of the State Board of Health, gave his official report for the year.

Dr. Rankin started out by explaining that the growth of health work had made it necessary to differentiate the work of the Board into six departments or bureaus. Those departments in the order of formation have been first, State Laboratory of Hygiene, second, Bureau of Hookworm disease, third, the Bureau of Engineering and Education, fourth, Bureau of Vital Statistics, fifth, Bureau of County Health Work, sixth, Bureau of Tuberculosis. Dr. Rankin then gave a statistical report showing the work accomplished by each bureau during the year.

The work of the State Laboratory of Hygiene is especially varied and includes a great many analyses of various kinds, such as water analyses, sputum analyses, examinations for rabies, for malaria, for hookworm, for typhoid fever and other miscellaneous examinations, together with a great many treatments for people bitten by rabid dogs and for children who have contracted diphtheria, together with the manufacture and distribution free of charge of sufficient typhoid vaccine to immunize about ten thousand people against typhoid fever within the last few months.

The work of the Hookworm Department indicates that hookworm campaigns have been held in 98 out of our 100 counties, and that preparations are already being made for holding campaigns in the other two counties. The plan of work with reference to hookworms is being changed from that of county campaigns to specialized community work directed against this disease.

The work of the Bureau of Education and Engineering consists in preparing and distributing all literature and other educational matter of the board, besides the engineering work in connection with the water works

DR. RODMAN HOME FROM MED. SOCIETY

Dr. John C. Rodman returned last evening from Raleigh, where he attended the State Medical Society. Dr. Rodman for the past six years has been a member of the State Board of Examiners and was one of that body's most popular and efficient members. He was the first president of the examining board. Dr. Rodman now retires as a member of the board as the law of the medical society is such that the term of office is six years. His work as a member has been very creditable and he leaves the board bearing with him the best wishes of his fellow members. Dr. J. G. Blount is now a member of the board from this city.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR GOOD BALL

The prospects are for a first class ball team in Washington this season. Now that such well known players as David T. Taylor, Horace Cowell, Samuel Fowle, Jamie Fowle, Reginald Fulford and others are on the ground, it looks propitious for the organization of a team that will give a good account of itself before the season is closed. Of course the local players are there "with the goods" and unless something unforeseen occurs the lovers of the national game will witness contests that will be creditable.

Let's build in Washington Park.

NOW IN JAIL FOR LARCENY OF ARTICLES

William Whichard, colored, was arrested yesterday afternoon at his home, this city, by Policeman Williams, under a search warrant and lodged in jail.

The authority to search his home revealed the fact that about $15.00 worth of toilet articles, sundries, etc., were located belonging to the drug firm of Worthy & Etheridge. His case will be heard this afternoon before the Recorder at the City Hall.

Whichard has been in the employ of Worthy & Etheridge for the past two years and all during his employment the firm has been missing goods from their store. At first they were unable to locate the thief, at last however, they suspected Whichard. Yesterday a search warrant was issued and the home of Whichard searched by the officers with the above result.

INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION

Toronto, Ont., June 19.—The International Stamp Manufacturers' Association comprising the representative dealers in rubber stamps, seals and numbering machines, of Canada, Great Britain, the United States and after adjourning at Buffalo yesterday after adjourning at Buffalo yesterday this association represents an investment on the North American continent alone of over fifty million dollars.

Washington, June 19.—Representative Kent of California told the President and Secretary Bryan yesterday he had telegraphic information from Mexico that General Carranza was about to leave his headquarters and flee to Laredo, Tex. Mr. Kent did not give the name of his informant.

Eagle Pass, Tex.—That General Villa has presented an ultimatum to General Carranza demanding absolute separation of the civil and military branches of the constitutional government was the substance of dispatches received at constitutionalist headquarters in Piedras Negras.

A committee of three officers was said now to be in conference with Carranza at Saltillo presenting Villa's plan.

According to constitutionalist officials at Piedras Negras, this plan is as follows: First, Villa to have complete control of the army and to direct the military policy without interference, while Carranza is to have control of the civil government and foreign relations.

Second, Villa agrees to recognize Carranza as his superior, provided Carranza accords him recognition as supreme military chief.

Third, the promotion of officers and the disposition of their commands to be in Villa's hands.

Constitutionalists expressed their belief that if these demands were granted, Villa would proceed with the campaign and take personal command of the forces in the field. Otherwise, they said they thought he would persist in his resignation.

The third clause of Villa's alleged ultimatum was accepted here as a direct answer to Carranza's promotion of General Natera to command the division of the center, and his resulting disastrous attack on Zacatecas.

Washington, D. C.—While administration officials said they still had hopes for a successful outcome of the mediation at Niagara Falls, they apparently were more doubtful than they have been at any time since the conference began.

Officials close to the President feel that Senator Rabasa's published note of yesterday disclosed anew that the Mexican delegates are consistently holding out for a Huerta adherent for the provisional presidency despite the fact that many such men have been mentioned as "neutrals."

President Wilson is equally determined in his view that unless a man approved by the constitutionalists is chosen the new provisional government will be in trouble from the outset.

White House officials said that when the reply of the American delegates to Senator Rabasa's note was published it would be a sufficient explanation of the attitude of the United States.

Niagara Falls—Justice Lamar was at work early yesterday on a reply to the statement issued by Emilio Rabasa of the Mexican delegation, but waited word from President Wilson and Secretary Bryan as to whether it should be made public.

Mr. Rabasa's statement was a paraphrase of a memorandum given to the American delegates last Friday criticizing their plan for establishment of a provisional government.

The statement declared that insistence by the United States on a constitutionalist for provisional president would be "tantamount to abetting and even exacting fraud and violence at the elections."

MURDERER HANGED

Decatur, Ala., June 19.—Up to a late hour last night no orders had been received countermanding the ruling in the case of John Ragland, negro, and he will be hanged today, convicted of the murder of his wife. About a year ago Ragland killed his wife by cutting her throat with a large knife. Many people witnessed the deed, which was commuted on one of the main thoroughfares of the town. He was given the death sentence in the court here, and the verdict was affirmed by the Supreme Court.
