STOMACH TROUBLES
Mr. England Writes Interesting Letter on This Subject.

Madison Heights, Va.—Mr. Chas. A. England, of this place, writes: "I have been taking Theodor's Black-Draught for indigestion, and other stomach troubles, also colds, and find it to be the very best medicine I have ever used. After taking Black-Draught for a few days, I always feel like a new man. Nervousness, nausea, heartburn, pain in pit of stomach, and a feeling of fullness after eating, are sure symptoms of stomach trouble, and should be given the proper treatment, as your strength and health depend very largely upon your food and its digestion. To get quick and permanent relief from these ailments, you should take a medicine of known curative merit. In 75 years of splendid success, in the treatment of just such troubles, proves the real merit of Theodor's Black-Draught. Safe, pleasant, gentle in action, and without bad after-effects, it is sure to benefit both young and old. For sale everywhere. Price 25c. R. C. 117

When Figures Lied.
 An old player was entertaining some friends with baseball stories. One of them was about a game between Mobile and Savannah, in the Southern league. The score stood 5 to 4 in favor of Savannah when a row occurred, and the umpire awarded the game to Mobile by the usual 9 to 0 score. On the way home from the grounds two negroes were discussing the affair. "But if Savannah had five runs," said one, "how could the coach be able to no-bat?" "Let's see," replied the other. "Didn't Mobile hit four runs?" "Yes." "Well, then, don't you see five runs more?"—New York Post.

The Voice of Cash.
 Apropos of a young girl's rich man stage an official said: "Our girls don't marry disadvantageously as often as our boys do. In the whirl of love the female doesn't seem to get quite as dizzy as the male does. A pretty girl told me the other day that she was engaged to a very rich landowner. 'Well, well,' said I. 'And here you are young preacher who took you about so much last summer.' 'The girl smiled. 'Deeds speak louder than words,' she said."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Advantage of Credit.
 "My big sister has a beauty." "So's mine, but I don't like him." "Know what my sister'd do if I didn't like her beauty?" "No. What'd she do?" "She'd send him back and get him changed, 'cause we've got a charge account at the store he comes from."—Newark Star.

Bending Amber.
 To bend articles of genuine amber drop them into hot melted beeswax. After they have been immersed for a few minutes take them out and hold them before the fire and bend to the desired shape.

Getting Off Easy.
 "Very well," she said, "if you are afraid to ask father for me we will consider our engagement at an end." "Thank you," he replied. "I was afraid you might be disagreeable about it."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Remarkable Memory.
 "How far back can you remember, Elmer?" asked the inquisitive caller. "Oh, ever so far!" replied the little fellow. "I can remember when I was ever so little that I couldn't remember anything."—Chicago News.

Two Points of View.
 "I can't understand," she said, "how a man can let his wife and children go away for months while he remains at home." "I can't understand how a man can't," he replied.—Exchange.

High Fliers.
 "How high can you go, Mr. Mono Plane?" "Oh, miles, the sky's the limit."—Buffalo Express.

Asbestos.
 The first use of asbestos was in the manufacture of crematory robes for the ancient Romans.

MAN'S TRIALS.
Man that God is destroying
 The villain drove up the key until the same cord struck the corner patch, but it is not to break it, but to use it to untangle, that he stretches the string upon the twisted neck.—Becher.

Knives in Harms.
 To loosen knives in harness, straps, cords, ropes, or even shoestrings, hammer the knot on all sides with a mallet or a piece of wood, turning the strap or rope around, then dip in boiling water, holding it there a minute or two, according to size of knot to be loosened. Before doing so add a little soap to the water, then with a sharply pointed instrument pick the knot loose. It can often be done with the fingers. Knives that have been pulled in harness or ropes for months or years can be loosened readily.—Exchange.

Hang Everything.
 "I hear the duke's American wife is raffling the castle." "In fine style. It's a case of hang the paintings, hang the tapestries, hang the expense."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Always on Hand.
 Stranger—The stock in this jewelry store seems to be pretty low down. Do you suppose I could get any sort of ring here? Wag—Certainly. Rings are things always kept on hand.—Haltmore American.

A Sticking Misapprehension.
 Officer—Excuse me, madam; there goes eight bells. It's my watch on deck. Mrs. Lansman—Well, I don't blame you for keeping your watch on deck if it strikes as loudly as that.—Exchange.

A Good Reason.
 Pearl—They thought at first they would be married in Holland. Ruby—And what changed their minds? Pearl—Why, they heard that old shoes in Holland weighed from two to six pounds each.—Exchange.

The Go-So.
 Sally—Has Bertha taken her Ph. D.? Sue—No, but she will if he proposes.—Woman's Home Companion.

Extremes.
 The optimist tells who won the game. The pessimist tells who lost it.—Buffalo Enquirer.

He Was Posted.
 "Are you fond of Bach, Mr. Dubs?" "Really, Mrs. de Sousa, I seldom drink anything."—Buffalo Express.

Retaliation.
 Barber—Your hair needs trimming. Victim—I suppose it does. You trimmed it yesterday.—Judge.

A Different View.
 "Health is wealth," quoted the sage. "No, it isn't," replied the stranger. "I'm a doctor."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Vocal Chorus.
 If a fellow stutters and then tries to sneeze, what's the answer?—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Real Sequence.
 Mrs. Premier—You always get a new gown before you go away on a visit, don't you? Mrs. Seconde—No, I always go away on a visit after I get a new gown.—Woman's Home Companion.

Sure Cures.
 The only sure thing about a sure cure for anything is that it isn't.—Chicago News.

Greedy Birds.
 Why are birds the most greedy creatures? Because when they eat they take a peck at a time.

Unprofitable Gain.
 Pink—What did you gain in your deal with Brown? Green—A lot of respect for Brown's business ability!

Foretold.
 "I beg your pardon, sir?" "Granted, but it's no use begging for anything, lass!"—Glasgow Record.

As Usual.
 He—A poet is born, not made. She—That's right—blame it on the woman.—Life.

Not For Long.
 On the level, did you ever see a woman who was speechless with rage?—Chicago News.

More Needed.
 Common sense would do a lot more good if it were common.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

SAVE 10 PER CENT

Why pay the middleman a ten per cent profit in purchasing a piano when you get it yourself? Her concerns in this city use this method and put the profit in their own pockets, but we do not, we give it to you. If you don't believe it, let us prove it to you.

We sell Kimball Pianos and Reed organ, instruments which have behind them a long record of usefulness and reliability. If you want a piano or an organ that will give you the most value for the least money, try a Kimball.

Come and see us or drop us a line, and let us show you where you can save ten per cent by dealing with us.
