A WHITE WAY.

A city to be progressive must advertise itself. Washington has every opportunity and advantage to become a metropolis. It should not lose an opportunity to impress these facts upon those visiting the city.

If the Board of Aldermen desires to have a lasting monument to their administration let them put something of this kind in operation.

LEND A HAND.

- Lend a hand to the tempted.
Lend a hand to the soul in the shadow.
Lend a hand to those who are of ten misjudged.
Lend a hand to the soul crushed with unspeakable loss.
Lend a hand to the poor fighting the wolf from the door.
Lend a hand to those whose lives are narrow and cramped.
Lend a hand to the boy struggling bravely to culture his mind.
Lend a hand to the young people whose surroundings are steadily pulling them down.
Lend a hand to the girl who works, works, and knows nothing of recreation and rest.
Lend a hand to the prodigal sister. Her life is as precious as that of the prodigal brother.

Mystical Number on Cohn. No one seems unwilling to accept a 15-cent piece, even though there are ten cents in the following hoodoo combinations: Thirteen letters in the scroll held in the eagle's beak; thirteen feathers in each wing; thirteen tall feathers; thirteen upright bars in the shield; thirteen arrows; thirteen leaves on the branch; thirteen letters in the words "quarter dollar."

All Show Character. Actions, words, looks, steps form the alphabet by which you may spell character.—Lavater.

Must Have Been. Says Mr. Filson Young in the Pall Mall Gazette: "I began yesterday by swimming in a sunlit sea, continued it by motoring through a hundred miles of lilac and gorse, and ended it listening to the most perfect concert program at Queen's hall that I have ever heard." Was it not a happy day? The answer, Filson, is in the affirmative, Mr. Punch remarks.

Darwin's Regret. If I had to live my life over again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a every week, for perhaps the parts of my brain now atrophied would thus have been kept alive through use. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness, and may possibly be injurious to the intellect, and more probably to the moral character, by enfeebling the emotional part of our nature.—Charles Darwin

Public Opinion. People say how strong public opinion is; and, indeed, it is strong while it is in its prime. In its childhood and old age it is as weak as any other organism. I try to make my own work belong to the youth of public opinion. The history of the world is the record of the weakness, frailty and death of public opinion, as geology is the record of the decay of those bodily organisms in which public opinions have found material expression.—Samuel Butler.

There is the Difference. A highbrow can retire to his study and emerge with the announcement that he has discovered a subconscious cosmos, and we call it new thought. But a lowbrow can spend five years exploring an unknown continent and claim to have discovered a new animal called the snigglebuck and we are unanimous that it is old bunk.—Cincinnati Enquirer

"I had a few saucers of porter in," said the man, amid loud laughter, when summoned for drunkenness at Thurley Sessions, Ireland; "but I could walk through any place in Ireland where there is a police barrack, and I wouldn't be minded only in Lifford, where they are summoning me every minute. I could touch the sky with summonses."

Uneda Biscuit

Baronet Biscuit
Round, thin, tender—with a delightful flavor—appropriate for luncheon, tea and dinner, 1 to cents.

Zu Zu
Prince of appetizers. Makes daily trips from Ginger-Snap Land to waiting mouths everywhere. Say Zu Zu to the grocer man, 5 cents.

Buy biscuit baked by NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY Always look for that name

Use Magazine Stories. An invalid or aged person who enjoys magazine articles sometimes finds the magazines, with their bulk of advertising, hard to handle. If the magazines are taken apart by removing the little wire clips that bind the sections together, the stories or articles can be easily handled separately. And any article specially likely to be enjoyed by a friend at a distance can be sent by mail when separated in this way.

More Appropriate. Fond Father—"Is that young Mr. Sapphedde still down in the parlor with daughter?" Fond Mother—"Yes, but I just heard him singing, 'good-night, beloved.'" Fond Father—"If he had any idea of the appropriateness of things he'd be warbling 'Good Morning, C'rie,' instead."—Kansas City Star.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children. The Kind You Have Always Bought. Bears the Signature of J. C. Watson.

Rough on the Old Maids. In a quiet English village there was recently held a celebration in the schoolroom at the dedication of a new fire engine. It was a giddy evening, with three speeches by local clergymen and a long-winded oration by a bald-headed politician. The gem of the evening was the following toast: "May she (the fire engine) be like the dear old maids of our village—always ready, but never wanted!"

Commercial Possibility. Little Ruth was usually occupied with her slate and pencil. Presently she ran to her father, whose face at the time reflected the seriousness of a barber, climbed upon his knees and rubbing her chubby little hand over his chin, said: "Papa, can you sharpen a slate pencil on that?"—Exchange.

Early Teach Law of Economy. The law of economy enters into all the practical affairs of life, but only of the community at large, but also of the family and of the individual. It should be diligently taught to our children, as one of the foundation principles of a good character.

Economic Epigram. A sentimental declaration, even if it runs counter to sound economics and the best interests of society, will have more adherents than a profound truth in political economy, the adoption of which demands an immediate sacrifice.

The Difference. A pessimist complains he has eaten 1,000 oysters without coming on a pearl; an optimist gives thanks that he has eaten that many oysters without getting plomaines.—New York Mail.

Serenity Best. Passion is out of place in any discussion and more than ever in a right cause, for it befores and bemuddles it.—Gogol.

Get Busy. If you are going to save up for a rainy day don't wait until the clouds begin to gather.—Detroit Journal.

Had the Pastor Guessing. "The Par's" Wife—"What peculiar eyes young Ashley has. They always seem half-closed." The Pastor—"Yes, he has me guessing. I'm inclined to think he sleeps all through my sermons—but I can't catch him at it."

Experienced. Auto Salesman—"This is the greatest car in the country. Eleven experts have worked on it." Prospective Customer—"The deal's off. I had three experts working on me on the witness stand once, and I know what they did to me."—Puck.

Generally Succeeds. There are more ways of winning a man than by "stringing" him—but there are few better.
