

BATTLE NOW AWAITS OUTCOME OF ALLIES TO OUTFLANK GERMANS

The battle of the Alps seems to be waiting on the outcome of the attempt of the allies to outflank the German right wing. At any rate the French official report, while it speaks of an advance made by the allies left in the region of Lassigny and another report states that this advance was one of about 12 miles.

The battle has developed into a war of attrition with the allies in the role of attackers against the strongly entrenched positions of the Germans which are fortified with large and small artillery pieces and hedged about with barbed wire entanglements. A press dispatch says that the Serbians have retaken Ljubovia from the Austrians and that in the fighting the losses were heavy.

In reply to German's protest against China's violation of the neutrality by permitting Japanese troops to land on her soil China has said that she was unable to defend her neutrality.

SERBIANS REOCCUPY LJUBOVIA AFTER DESPERATE FIGHTING

London, Sept. 24.—A dispatch to the Reuters Telegram Company from Nish says the Serbians have recaptured Ljubovia after violent fighting. Losses were heavy on each side. Farther to the left the Serbians have occupied Srebrenica (10 miles southwest of Ljubovia to Bosnia).

FIFTY THOUSAND WOUNDED GERMANS PASS AMSTERDAM

Amsterdam, via London, Sept. 24.—The telegraph correspondent at Maastricht says that during the past few days about 50,000 Germans, wounded on French battlefields, have passed through Liège on the way to Germany.

FRENCH REPORT ADVANCE OF ALLIES IN LASSIGNY REGION

Paris, Sept. 24.—The following official dispatch was given out in Paris at 3 o'clock this afternoon:

First—On our left wing, on the right bank of the river Oise, we have advanced in the region of Lassigny, where there have been violent encounters with the enemy. On the left bank of the Oise and to the north of the river Aisne the situation is unchanged.

Second—On the center, between Rheims and the river Meuse, there has been no change of importance. In the Woëvre district, to the northeast of Verdun and in the direction of Mouilly and Dohren, the enemy undertook violent attacks which were, however, repulsed. In the southern part of the Woëvre district the enemy held a line from Richcourt to Sijeherep to Lironville, from which he has not issued.

Third—On our right wing, in Lorraine and the Vosges, the Germans have evacuated Nancy and Arracourt, and have shown little activity in the country around Domèvre.

The capture by the Russians of the fortress of Jaroslavl in Galicia, is announced.

NEARLY TWELVE HUNDRED ON BRITISH CRUISERS LOST

Lowestoft, Sept. 24, via London.—So far as can be ascertained 1,047 officers and men were saved out of a total of 2,300 who were on board the three British cruisers when they were sunk by a German submarine yesterday.

A trawler arrived here with 24 survivors, including two officers. As far as can be determined the three ships—the Aboukin, the Hogue and the Crescent—carried crews totalling 2,300 men. Of the total 1,123 appear to have been lost.

WEDDING OF INTEREST AT PANTEGO, N. C.

Wednesday morning at 10:20 o'clock a beautiful wedding was celebrated at the Christian church at Pantego, N. C., when Miss Lotta Miss Bishop became the bride of Mr. J. L. Simpson, Rev. H. B. Searight, of this city, performing the ceremony.

Just before the bridal party entered Mrs. O. C. Swindell, sister of the bride, charmingly sang "Till the Sands of the Desert Grow Cold."

While Miss Ida Shavender was playing the wedding march, Miss Della Gibbs, wearing a handsome dress of blue with black picture hat and carrying a bouquet of white asters, entered the right aisle and was met by Mr. Clyde Casey at the altar where they took their respective places. They were followed by Mrs. J. C. Davis, wearing green with black picture hat, carrying a bouquet of white asters. She was met at the altar by Mr. Davis.

Next to enter was Miss Nina Topping, wearing a gown of green with black picture hat, carrying white asters. She was met at the altar by Mr. Alonso Bishop, brother of the bride.

Next Mrs. Samuel Pegram, the dame of honor, wended her way down the right aisle. She was gowned in blue with black picture hat and carried white asters.

Then as the organ sweetly pealed forth its sweet notes of the wedding march, all eyes were turned on the door to catch a glimpse of the attractive bride, who entered the church with her maid of honor, Miss Mable Rieka. She was met at the altar by the groom and his best man and brother, Mr. Robby D. E. Simpson, where they were made man and wife in the presence of a packed church.

The bride wore a handsome going-away gown of green with hat and gloves to match. She carried a lovely shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Her maid was gowned in green, wearing a black hat, and carrying white asters.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Simpson are well known in this city and highly esteemed by all who know them.

The bride is an attractive and very popular young lady and is a graduate of the Atlantic Christian College for Women.

The groom is a former resident of this city and is now president and manager of Car Altkpa Hardware Company, Greenville, N. C.

Both the bride and groom are very popular young people and all their friends wish for them a long and happy life. They received a large number of handsome presents.

They will be at home to their many friends after October 1st at Greenville, N. C.

The out-of-town guests were: Mr. A. J. Simpson, father of the groom, and Mr. Robby D. E. Simpson, brother of the groom, Greenville, N. C.; Mrs. J. P. Bishop and Mrs. Joe Phelps, Belhaven; Mr. and Mrs. M. Windley, River Shore.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Pegram, Mrs. W. D. Woodard, Mrs. James L. Mayo, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Davis, of this city, and Miss Della Gibbs, of Belhaven, N. C.; Mrs. J. P. Bishop and Mrs. Joe Phelps, Belhaven; Mr. and Mrs. M. Windley, River Shore.

PREACHES TUESDAY.

Thomas Dixon's Famous Play Here Friday Night

A fact which theatre-goers should remember is that in the presentation of "The Sins of the Fathers" at the New Theatre on Friday night, it will be given under the personal direction of its author, Thomas Dixon, and that he is regarded today as one of the greatest living writers. Millions of readers throughout the civilized world know his "Leopard's Spots," "The Clansman," "The Root of Evil," and now comes his, "The Southerner," one of the best sellers. For such a man it would be impossible to cover up artistic temperament with commercialism—a fault too often taken into consideration by modern theatrical managers. In "The Sins of the Fathers," he has naturally driven his irresistible and electrifying brain into this remarkable production. It requires a genius to write a great book, dramatizing it and then produce it, but Dixon is a genius, he is as one able critic said, "One of the ten talent men of his time." And his genius is equally strong as dramatist and novelist. His splendid production of "The Clansman" proved this and "The Sins of the Father" is still stronger dramatically than the former piece which succeeded in breaking all records in the South, from a box office point of view. And now his tremendous influence is being felt. His tender and delicate plea for the purity of the white race, has struck the popular acclaim and "The Sins of the Father" is taking the place of "The Clansman" with even greater results.

Again calling the attention of the theatre-going public to the fact that "The Sins of the Father" is produced in toto by the author of the play and book and that he has inserted his remarkable talents in every phase of the production, the public can rest assured that aside from the box office results, every essential and details has been most carefully taken care of and that the engagement in this city will be a memorable one.

"BUY A BALE OF COTTON"

The price has been driven down by the European war; if we are united we can drive it up. Let's all come to the aid of the farmer and purchase his cotton at 10 cents per pound. We can do it and thus aid in this present crisis.

Already Washington business men and firms are seeing the wisdom of the BUY-A-BALE movement and several firms have purchased bales of cotton, while others have exchanged for trade and some have taken it on account. This is surely commendable, but there should be others to follow—got busy and buy a bale of cotton. None will regret it—it means prosperity and bridges over those less fortunate at a time when aid is imperative.

The Daily News will be glad to publish the name of any one who purchases a bale of cotton on the BUY-A-BALE movement at 10 cents per pound.

The following firms have already purchased bales at this price:

- |                      |          |
|----------------------|----------|
| Bank of Washington   | One Bale |
| First National Bank  | One Bale |
| Savings & Trust Co.  | One Bale |
| Hon. J. H. Small     | One Bale |
| Hon. E. S. Underhill | One Bale |
- The following firms have contracted and purchased cotton at 10 cents on account and in exchange for merchandise:
- |                    |                |
|--------------------|----------------|
| Paul Bro.          | Nine Bales     |
| Hessell Supply Co. | Fourteen Bales |

IMPORTANT THINGS TO BE CONSIDERED NEXT YEAR BY BEAUFORT CO. FARMERS

To Farmers and Business Men of Beaufort County:

In every emergency a plan of action is a great help. The prices of food products are high and there is every indication that they will remain so during next year. The war in Europe has disturbed production abroad and has interfered with consumption and with markets and financial conditions in this country. This state of affairs, familiar to every one, makes it imperative that every farmer and every community should plan for next year's work accordingly.

We suggest to the farmers of Beaufort county the following important things to consider for next year:

1st. A home garden for every family. The home garden is one of the most important means of cutting down expenses and producing the living of the family on the farm. Proper attention to the garden will give the farmer wholesome food during a large portion of the year.

2nd. Produce all the corn needed on the farm. Figure how many bushels you will need for your own use and some to sell, and put your acreage in accordingly. You will need corn for the feeding of your live stock and your family, and a reasonable surplus and to make it get good seed corn and follow good methods of soil management, which are first, good drainage; second, break your soil deep (not less than eight inches); third, fill it with humus; fourth, thoroughly prepare the seed-bed, and fifth, do frequent shallow cultivation.

3rd. Produce your own hay and forage crops. If for any cause you haven't a hay crop this fall sufficient to carry your stock through next year, begin right now while you yet have time to sow a few acres in crops that will give you hay abundantly by first of next May. We suggest any or all of the following combinations of seeds, according to your needs or requirements. These suggestions are per acre: 2 bushels oats, 10 pounds vetch, 10 pounds crimson clover; or 2 1-2 bushels oats, 15 pounds vetch, or 1 bushel wheat, 15 pounds vetch, or 8 pounds tall meadow oat grass, 7 pounds orchard grass, 6 pounds red top and 4 pounds Alsike clover. This mixture of grass and clover will give good cutting of hay and then make excellent pasture; or 3 pecks rye and 15 pounds crimson clover. (Cut for hay before rye heads out).

4. Produce enough chickens and hogs to make your own meat. As a rule our Beaufort county farmers have too few chickens. (Eggs now 25 cents per dozen). Pay some attention to them. With a little work they can be produced cheaply, and enough of them will save the necessity of purchasing meat. Every farmer should plan to raise at least a few head of hogs and the crops necessary to feed them. Save your brood sows and hens and pullets. You can not afford to sell any breeding stock. Market a part of your corn crop and peas and peanuts through hogs and chicken do not be tempted to sell helpers or cows; breed them to good beef type bulls and grow your own meat.

5th. Cut down your fertilizer bills by raising all manure and by planting cover crops, especially vetch and clover.

Buy fertilizers for next year carefully. Purchase only high grade materials of the kind you need. Do not buy any kind unless you know your land requires it. Crops turned under add fertility to the soil and save fertilizer bills.

6th. Plant less acreage in cotton and tobacco. Why? Because food products will remain high and cotton and tobacco remain low if the war lasts. Do not run any chances. Follow a safe plan. You will need the extra acre to produce the food crops. It is estimated that between three and four million bales of cotton will have to be carried over out of the present crop. A normal acreage in cotton next year, and no increase in food crops, will certainly mean high-price food and low-priced cotton and tobacco. You cannot afford to be compelled to purchase high-priced products out of a very narrow margin of profit in cotton and tobacco crops. "Economy" in raising what cotton and tobacco is planted is of supreme importance. The best economy is in good farming and living at home. Make your plans now to meet the situation.

"Diversification and the production of home supplies is the only safe plan to follow."

Very truly yours,
J. F. LATHAM,
Agent in Charge Beaufort County Farm Bureau.

A FOOT BALL TEAM HERE

AN ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION WAS ORGANIZED HERE LAST EVENING.

At a meeting last night at the office of the Pamlico Chemical Company an Athletic Association was formed, which will be known as the Washington Athletic Association. The following officers were elected: President, Captain George T. Leach; vice-president and manager, Charles M. Brown, Jr.; secretary and treasurer, Charles Cowell.

A committee composed of the following men were appointed by the president to solicit members: William Ellsworth, Elbert Weston, Harry Kear and the secretary, Charles Cowell.

The purpose of the organization at present is to promote football. The members expect to organize a football team and with the material at hand should have no trouble in getting out a team of which Washington will be proud.
