

CORPS AFTER CORPS
[OF GERMAN HURLED
AGAINST THE ALLIES

For three long days without cessation the Germans have hurled their masses against the French and English along the entire front in North France. The French official view is that these operations, the fiercest that have yet taken place, are by high command, meaning possibly direct instructions from the Emperor himself.

The bayonet has played an important part in these engagements, where the men in the trenches on one side or the other, only a few hundred yards apart, come to grips with steel, after the positions have been shelled and raged with rifle fire.

Emperor William's youngest son, Prince Joachim, has just recovered from a bullet wound.

From Petrograd comes an official statement from the Russian general staff that German attempts in Russian Poland have been repulsed and that the Germans are now in retreat.

Many Stunts Will be Seen With
The 101 Ranch Show Oct. 2nd

Strenuousness, it is announced, is the keynote of the 101 Ranch Wild West Show, which will be seen in this city next Friday, October 2. In the 101 Ranch Show, it is declared, it is not necessary to train the horses to run in a ring as in the circus, for the arena is an open one, and it is possible to run them at break-neck speed. This gives a dash and "go" to the performance that can scarcely be equalled in any other form of entertainment.

The 101 Ranch, just as all big Wild West shows have always been, is pre-eminently a horse show, but this management has the advantage of owning a great 101,000-acre ranch at Hills, Oklahoma, where its horses are permitted to run at large all winter, absorbing the wildness and spirit which give such zest to the exhibition. One of the most exciting features of the program is the broncho-busting, and this is ensured by the fact that at least fifty absolutely wild mustangs are always kept with the show. When any of these horses show signs of becoming "broken" they are returned to the ranch and replaced by other "outlaw" horses.

The dared devil riding in the show is not confined, it is declared, to the cowpunchers, although they are credited with performing many feats of thrilling and unusual horsemanship that are both thrilling and unusual. Some of the most sensational riding is done by the cowgirls—in fact, it is said that they often do stunts in roughriding that would stump the average cowboy. The Mexicans and Conzacks, who have a particular interest at this time, also perform feats of rough-riding that stir the blood, and an especially strenuous feat is a wrestling match between Blanche McGahey, a little Montana cowgirl, and a big-horned Texas steer.

These, it is announced, are only a few of the strenuous stunts which help to give vigorous action to the 101 Ranch performance. All the Wild West people will, it is declared, appear in the street parade which inaugurates Wild West day.

YOM KIPPUR
BEGINS TUES.

LOOKED UPON BY THE
HEBREWS AS THE HOLIEST
OF DAYS IN THEIR CALENDAR.

Wednesday is to be celebrated here by the Hebrews as the "Day of Atonement," being known as Yom Kippur, the holiest day in the Hebrew calendar. The holiday will begin on tomorrow evening at sunset. The Hebrew date for the Day of Atonement is the 10th of Tishri, which, according to present reckoning of time is September 30th.

The festival is ordained in Leviticus xvi., 29-34 and xxiii., 26-32. In both passages it is styled, "A Sabbath of solemn rest."

The purpose of the Day of Atonement is clearly indicated by its name. It is intended to complete and crown the work of the penitential season begun on the first of Tishri (New Year), by finally reconciling the soul with the Almighty. It is kept as a fast in obedience to the command given in each of the two passages above cited where the expression "Miet his soul" must be understood in accordance with the traditional interpretation, as synonymous with fasting.

"BUY A BALE OF COTTON"

The price has been driven down by the European war; if we are united we can drive it up. Let's all come to the aid of the farmer and purchase his cotton at 10 cents per pound. We can do it and thus aid in this present crisis.

Already Washington business men and firms are seeing the wisdom of the BUY-A-BALE movement and several firms have purchased bales of cotton, while others have exchanged for trade and some have taken it on account. This is surely commendable, but there should be others to follow—get busy and buy a bale of cotton. None will regret it—it is money and bridges over those less fortunate at a time when aid is imperative.

The Daily News will be glad to publish the name of any one who purchases a bale of cotton on the BUY-A-BALE movement at 10 cents per pound.

The following firms have already purchased bales at this price:

Bank of Washington	One Bale
First National Bank	One Bale
Savings & Trust Co.	One Bale
Hon. J. H. Small	One Bale
Hon. E. S. Underhill	One Bale
J. P. Buckman & Son	One Bale
The following firms have contracted and purchased cotton at 10 cents on account and in exchange for merchandise:
Paul Bro.	Nine Bales
Hassell Supply Co.	Fourteen Bales
J. E. Adams	Four Bales

OTHER YEARS—WELL
REMEMBERED.

Washington is honored today by a visit from Mr. Dickerson G. Baker, who is now general manager of the Carrels Freres, Ghent, Belgium, and also a member of the Engineers' Club of New York city.

The boys of years ago will remember Mr. Baker with pleasure as being a resident of Washington when his father, Mr. John S. Baker, was manager of the wholesale grocery house of Lawrence & Lyon, and doing business where the First National Bank building, at the corner of Main and Respass streets, is now located.

Mr. Baker left Ghent, Belgium, on August 30th. He speaks of his experiences in that country in such a way as to interest every one. Since his departure from Washington, years ago, his vicissitudes have been many and varied. The boys who were boys with him then are again delighted to shake his hand.
