THE ELECTION TODAY.

The election throughout the United States today is chiefly important because a new House of Representatives is being elected. It is said, that the outlook presages a Democratic landslide and that the House will have not less than 100 Democratic majority. It is hoped that the forecast is correct, for it will show that the country overwhelmingly endorses the Democratic administration.

Anyhow, a Democratic majority in the House is needed to support President Wilson during the other two years of his term. Several United States Senators are to be elected by the people and it is said that body will be assuredly Democratic. Even Pennsylvania may send a Democrat in place of Senator Penrose, standpat Republican.

North Carolina will elect a United States Senator, ten Congressmen, and a Legislature. Democrats will, no doubt, turn out and vote so the State can be counted strongly for the Wilson administration. The only doubtful Congressional districts in this State are the Eighth and the Tenth, in the mountains, but the Democrats are confident of carrying them. However confident we may feel, it is the duty of Democrats to turn out and stand by their party all over the State.

It also is hoped the Progressive men of all parties will vote for the ten constitutional amendments. They will stand for progress, and that is what North Carolina needs at this time.

CO-OPERATIVE FARMING.

In this age of co-operation, in which manufacturing and commercial interests have attained wonderful development and success by pooling their resources, it is not to be wondered at that co-operation has slowly but inevitably wended its way to rural life. The old method of individualism is gradually giving way to the co-operative spirit and the result is a greatly reduced cost of living and lowered expense of farming.

North Carolina farmers are leading the co-operative movement and it is gradually being extended into every feature of community life.

RURAL TELEPHONES.

The telephone is one of the most profitable business agencies that the farmer can employ. It affords him facilities for keeping in constant communication with the markets, provides a sitting room for the community where the families can assemble and discuss the events of the day without the inconvenience of travel or loss of time, and in sickness and emergencies, it renders a divine service.

North Carolina farmers should encourage the building of telephone lines. Local co-operative companies can be formed and country lines built at small expense.

AMERICAN HORSES IN BATTLE.

The American horse is one of the first to answer the bugle call of the European war. Representatives of many foreign governments are in this country purchasing horses for the various armies of the warring nations and practically every State in the Union is contributing cavalry material to the belligerent factions.

The American horse is a utility animal and excels that of any other country on the face of the earth. He has plowed our fields, fought our battles and is the most faithful of animal kind. His reputation has extended to other countries and he is now going to perform the services for foreign countries which he has so faithfully fulfilled at home.

Alcohol From Sap of Nipa Palm. The Philippine islands produce approximately 10,000,000 gallons of alcohol yearly. Almost all of this is made from the sap of the nipa palm that grows in great abundance in various swamps of the country.

HE FIDDED ON HIS VIOLIN

Wife Says "Music" Was Torture and Got on Her Nerves, So She Asks for Separation.

New York.—Mrs. Ethel C. Larrabee, Jersey City, names no correspondent in the suit for divorce she has brought against her husband, Albert P. Larrabee. She blames his fiddle.

Mrs. Larrabee is a pretty blonde, twenty-eight years old, and the couple have an eight-year-old daughter, whose custody Mrs. Larrabee demands. They were married in 1903 at Kennebuc, Me., and separated at Elizabeth, N. J., three years ago because, she says, Larrabee had completely nullified his devotion from her to his fiddle.

They had lived happily until he got the fiddle fever. He was at his instrument, she says, during every hour away from business. As to the quality of his "playing, the inference to be drawn from her complaint is that he was no Kubelick.

"I never thought," says she, "that beautiful instrument could utter such musical sounds. It reminded me of a buzz saw going through a knot in a Maine sawmill."

When Mrs. Larrabee protested that she could not get on her nerves, she says, he took to staying away from home altogether, going where he could get more sympathetic audiences.

FARMER MAKES TWO PROFITS

Need for Making Special Study of Combining Feeding Crops to Realize Increased Returns.

We need to make a special study of combining our feeding crops if we would realize an increased profit from feeding them out on our own farms. To make a fifth of our mature crop and combine profitable stock feeding can never work out on a safe principle of farm management. The man who grows crops at less cost than his farm and realizes more for them than the market price is making two profits.

NEAR DEATH BY SMOTHERING

But Husband, With Aid of Cardui, Effects Her Deliverance.

Draper, N. C.—Mrs. Helen Dalton, of this place, says: "I suffered for years with pains in my left side, and would often almost smother to death. Medicines patched me up for awhile but then I would get worse again. Finally, my husband decided he wanted me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, so he began using it. I bought me a bottle and I began using it. It did me more good than all the medicines I had taken."

I have induced many of my friends to try Cardui, and they all say they never been benefited by its use. There have been, and never will be, a medicine to compare with Cardui. I believe it is a good medicine for all womanly troubles."

For over 50 years, Cardui has been relieving woman's sufferings and building weak women up to health and strength. If you are a woman, give it a fair trial. It should surely help you, as it has a million others.

Get a bottle of Cardui to-day.
