SCORES UNWRITTEN LAW.

If we accept the validity of the unwritten law for men, we must accept it for women, because it is unjust that any laws should apply to one sex without applying to the other.

But the so-called unwritten law is really an ugly survival from the days of lawlessness, a mark of the best which all thinking men and women should be quick to discard.

There you have outlined the eminently sane and logical argument of District Attorney Lewis J. Smith. There is no place for unwritten laws in our civilization. They belong to the cave man era, to the days when brute force and not human reason prevailed.

"Violence never solves anything," he said gravely. "It may remove a troublesome factor from the slate, but can't give the right answer to the problem. Even as a defence for men, isn't the unwritten law falling into disrepute? It didn't win freedom for Harry Thaw, with all his millions to help. It didn't preserve Captain Haines from punishment.

There is a very simple and obvious way for any woman to protect her home and children from contamination by a husband whom she knows unworthy? In every State in the Union except one she can divorce him for unfaithfulness. That is the sane, legal, reasonable method of treating the situation. It's preferable to the insane, criminal expedient of murdering either the husband or the other woman, or both.

Physical violence is a form of argument which has come down to us from animals, without brains and without language. It is an argument which must be abhorrent to cultivated minds. Whenever women employ it for any use, they hurt themselves more than they help."

STATE FARMERS' UNION MEETS NEXT WEEK.

In Greenville next week, November 15, 19 and 20, the North Carolina State Farmers' Union will hold its seventh annual session. The membership throughout the State will be gratified at the excellent reports in this issue, says the Progressive Farmer, reviewing the year's work in numbers of counties—and numerous other reports just as good are left for publication next week and later.

The Union in this State is doing things—not merely talking about doing them—and today the Union is stronger in North Carolina than anywhere else in America. This gratifying condition is largely due to the fact that Union leaders in North Carolina, as perhaps nowhere else, have insisted not merely upon organizing, but upon organizing to do something. "Practical business co-operation" has been the battle cry, and wherever a Local or county does some practical work successfully, the old members stick and new members come.

We congratulate the order, its leaders and its membership, upon the record of the past six years, and hope that the Greenville meeting will lay plans for making it of still greater service to North Carolina farmers the coming twelve months.

WALL STREET PROBLEM.

The problem of making a living in Wall Street is getting tougher every day, and the curb brokers, who once lived in a golden era, are complaining bitterly that they are being harried and hounded. Today the police added to their troubles by trying to disperse the crowd, that has been making New Street its headquarters since the war dropped a pall on business. The police have been receiving many complaints about the put and call brokers who formerly gathered on New Street.

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy.

Castorin is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil. Paregoric, Drope and Soothing Syrup. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS Bears the Signature of CHAS. H. FLETCHER In Use For Over 30 Years The Kind You Have Always Bought because the street is so narrow and the shouting, jostling curb brokers impede traffic and create a din. They say the police are the only ones along the street who have money. The curb brokers themselves admit the New Street crowd hurts business, but they say they have to earn a living by doing the best they can, so they are still on the job.

DAIRY FACTS

TWELVE GOOD SILO REASONS

Farmers' Bulletin Tells Farmer Should Provide Himself With Huge Receipts For Feed.

T. E. Woodward of the "Dairy Division" in Farmers' Bulletin 556, furnishes 12 good and well-considered reasons for the farmer providing himself with a silo. Every one of them touches some spot of vital importance to the larger profit of dairy farming. Here they are:

- 1. More feed can be stored in a given space in the form of silage than in the form of fodder or hay.
2. There is a smaller loss of food material when a crop is made into silage than when cured as fodder or hay.
3. Corn silage is more efficient feed than corn fodder.
4. An acre of corn can be placed in the silo at less cost than the same area can be husked and shelled.
5. Crops can be put in the silo during weather that could not be utilized in making hay or curing fodder.
6. More stock can be kept on a given area of land when silage is the basis of the ration.
7. There is less waste in feeding silage than in feeding fodder. Good silage properly fed is all consumed.
8. Silage is very palatable.
9. Silage, like other succulent feeds, has a beneficial effect upon the digestive organs.
10. Silage is the cheapest and best form in which a succulent feed can be provided for winter use.
11. Silage can be used for supplementing pastures more economically than can soiling crops, because it requires less labor, and silage is more palatable.
12. Converting the corn crop into silage clears the land and leaves it ready for another crop.

INCREASING WORTH OF COWS

Not Over One-Third of Dairy Animals in Ohio Produce 300 Pounds of Butter Fat Yearly.

An estimate made by the Ohio station indicates that not over one-third of the cows in that state will produce 300 pounds or more of butter fat in one year if reasonably fed. No dairy-man should be satisfied until the poorest cow in his herd is capable of producing at least three hundred pounds of butter fat per annum. The estimate is further made that if all cows in the state were developed to this point the value of the increased production of butter fat would amount to approximately $17,600,000 annually, an amount equal to the value of all butter now made in the state. What is true for Ohio is equally true for the rest of the country.

The Yachting Accident. "First Seaside Bore—I can remember hearing a strange, gurgling sound; then I suddenly saw before me a huge mass of foam—and do you know what I did? Second Seaside Bore—Yes, old top; you let the foam settle a bit, and then had a good swim."

Naturally. A woman is generally sufficiently conceited to think her husband must really be a superior sort of man or she wouldn't have married him.
