

EDUCATION THE THEME BY REV. DR. F. N. PARKER AT M. E. CHURCH TONIGHT

THIRD DAY'S SESSION.
(By Susan Eden.)
The anniversary of the conference board of education will be held in the church this evening, the address to be made by Dr. F. N. Parker, of the Biblical department of Trinity College. The public is assured that the address will be one of the most able during the conference.

The program are meeting at the church this afternoon.

Trinity Banquet.
The Trinity Alumni banquet will be held at the Elks' building this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Mr. James H. Southgate, of Durham, will act as toastmaster and there will be addresses by Bishop Waterhouse and others. The banquet is being served by the Women's Civic League of Washington and is in charge of a number of young ladies.

Business Progressing Rapidly.
The business of the conference has progressed rapidly and at the close of today's morning session was well in hand. This was one of the liveliest and most interesting sessions of the conference. The most important matter being the action of the conference in the matter of church insurance and the reception of the class into full connection.

Song and Testimony.
The third day of the North Carolina Methodist Conference was opened with a song and testimony meeting interspersed with an occasional burst of song. Bishop Waterhouse emphasized the value and need of testimony meetings. He did not care, he declared, whether it is called "class meetings" or by some other name, so men and women are given a chance to testify. The fathers of Methodism, he declared, were a testifying people. It had been hoped Bishop Waterhouse stated that Bishop Kilgo, "your own bishop as you are pleased to call him," would be present during the sessions, instead a telegram of greeting was received from him. "So," said Bishop Waterhouse, "your own history is the first to give his testimony this morning," and he read Bishop Kilgo's message, Ephesians 16, verses 18 through to 19. It was a charge to be strong in the faith and to constantly fight against wickedness in high places.

The service was one of the most inspiring and beautiful that has marked the conference. The testimonies were short and full of feeling, the Bishop now and then adding a word of encouragement and stressing some special point in the testimony.

Rev. J. V. Williams Present.
Among those who rose to testify was one whose face was familiar to many in the conference, Rev. J. V. Williams, who went from North Carolina to Brooklyn, N. Y., to preach. At his church in Brooklyn, Mr. Williams is preaching the "old-time gospel" and is holding class meetings such as the fathers knew.

Following Mr. Williams' testimony he swung into the old hymn that used to be so familiar: "Oh what ship is that will take us all home," the congregation joining in. "It is the old ship of Zion, Hallelujah."

Uncle Betts rose and thanked God for His goodness, then announced that he was Mr. Williams' mother's pastor years ago.

The service was concluded with the singing of "Jesus Lover of My Soul."

Following the reading of the minutes of Thursday's session, the secretary was instructed to send suitable response coupled with an invitation from the Bishop and the conference to visit the conference.

At his request, Rev. H. M. Jackson was located. The name of Rev. C. C. Brothers was referred to the committee for the superannuate relation.

Rev. John A. Thorpe, an elder of the M. E. church, who has been serving in Elizabeth City, was received into the conference.

Rev. J. T. Simmons was elected a second assistant secretary.

the Episcopal church of Washington, for 41 years, and Dr. Malou was a pleasant feature of the morning's session, and the words of brotherly love and Christian fellowship from Dr. Harding were received with deep yearning advanced to class of full connection by the conference.

The following in the class of the fourth year made their report and are eligible to elder's orders: J. M. Ormond, L. D. Hayman, C. J. Harrell, B. T. Hurley, O. M. Daniel and K. F. Duvall. E. L. Stack, of the class, also made his report.

The following local preachers were elected to diacon's orders: H. E. Myatt, M. B. Andrews and H. L. Glass. G. B. Andrews, a local preacher, was elected to elder's orders. L. B. Pattishall, of the New Bern district, was admitted on trial. Dr. S. B. Turrentine, president Greensboro College for Women, spoke to the conference about the work of the college which is the property of the two Methodist conferences of North Carolina. The college is a fully equipped class A college with all departments for the Christian education and training of the young women.

Church Insurance.
The report of the committee appointed at the last conference, to investigate the Methodist Mutual Fire Insurance Company, a company started by the Western North Carolina Conference to insure church property at the lowest rates, the profits accrued to be returned to the church, called forth the warmest and most interesting discussion of the conference, a number of laymen, among them Mr. James Southgate, of Durham, and Mr. B. B. Adams, of Four Oaks, speaking the one for and the other against the resolution.

The recommendation which was presented by Mr. W. B. Cooper and adopted by the conference read as follows:

"1. That this conference endorse the action of the Western North Carolina Conference in the matter of organization of the company and the plans adopted for the conduct of the business.

"2. That this conference elect five directors, to be recommended to the Western North Carolina Conference for election on the board of directors of the company.

"3. That the matter of complete church control be safeguarded in every particular and the board of directors be requested and instructed to thoroughly investigate, safeguard and protect every avenue by which the church can be deprived of the complete control of the affairs of the company.

"4. That the preachers and laymen give their hearty support to the officers of the company in securing business. There is only a small percent of our church property insured, a matter which should no longer be neglected."

On motion of Rev. M. T. Plyler the following, two lay and three clerical, were elected the directors: N. W. D. Wilson, C. S. Wallace, J. C. Wooten, L. S. Covington, and W. B. Cooper.

Representative Church.
Dr. Harding, of Mt. Vernon, M. E. Church, South, of Washington, D. C., addressed the conference on the work of the representative Southern Methodist church at Washington. It is desired to begin work on this church, which is greatly needed in the national capital, early in the year. Of the $5,000 pledged by the North Carolina Conference, $3,531.50 yet remains unpaid.

On motion the matter was referred to the conference board of church extension to report some method of raising the remainder of the pledge.

Received Into Full Connection.
The following were received into full connection: T. W. Lee, J. L. Midrett, B. B. Slaughter, H. C. Smith, N. M. Wright, G. W. Porry, E. B. Dodd, W. V. McRae, J. A. Morris and C. E. Vale.

The charge and admonition of Bishop Waterhouse as he received these young men was a very beautiful and reliable address. The importance of the vows was felt by everyone in the congregation as they were given by the Bishop. Having passed their examination and two years of trial the Bishop congratulated these young men on being received into full connection.

THURSDAY NIGHT'S SESSION.
ADDRESS by Dr. Ivey.
The address at the anniversary of

Scene From "PEG O' MY HEART."

At New Theater Wednesday Night, November 25th.

"Peg O' My Heart Coming New Theater Nov. 25th

There's nothing "succeeds like success" finds an echo in the wonderful success attained by Oliver Morosco's delightful "Peg O' My Heart," which will be seen at the New Theater on Wednesday next. Coming as it does with the stamp of approval of play-goers everywhere, this charming comedy of youth, could present no greater endorsement than its record run of 609 consecutive performances at the Cort Theatre, New York, and that local patrons want no better recommendation, is attested by the current comment and personal view of those who have been fortunate enough to witness the famous Man-hers' play. The author with a view of giving the public what they want, has interwoven a delicate love story with an abundance of clever wit, in so unique a manner as to make it absolutely original. It is one of the prettiest and cleanest comedies seen on the stage in many years. Rea Martin will be seen in the title role, surrounded by a notable cast of players which include, Frederick Meade, Harry Calver, George Mendelssohn, Raymond Branley, Clara Sidney, Helen Haskell, George Claire and Kittle O'Connor, comes as a welcome relief after the "sameness" of a season always brings in the way of plays.

REV. M. T. PLYLER

Presiding Elder of the Elizabeth City district and former pastor of the First M. E. church here. Mr. Plyler is one of the coming men in the North Carolina Conference, both as a writer and preacher. No member of the conference has a wider circle of friends. Having served his allotted time as presiding elder on the Elizabeth City district he will be assigned to another field of labor at this session of the conference. In whatever field of labor he serves fortune will be that community. Rev. Mr. Plyler on yesterday received a flattering vote for the editorship of the Raleigh Christian Advocate.

MEXICO CAR IN THE CITY ADVERTISING

People of Washington, who happen to visit the vicinity of the A. C. L. depot have their attention attracted by a very unusual looking car on sidetrack. The car is a magnificent private car, brilliantly painted in colors of red, white and green, flying the Mexican flag, and called "Seeing Mexico."

The car was loaded in Mexico City by the Mexican National Educational Society and many valuable relics were allowed to be taken from the National Museum and placed for exhibit on the car.

Besides the agricultural, industrial and mineral exhibits of Mexico of great interest are the Aztec relics, of stone and pottery, some of the relics being recently unearthed by Prof. Nivin, who has discovered a buried city 15 feet below the old Aztec capital. The discoveries of Prof. Nivin are regarded of such importance that the United States Geological Society recently sent experts to Mexico City to secure detailed accounts of his work. There is one Aztec idol called "The God of Love," which is the only idol permitted to leave Mexico. On the car will be found many things of special interest to the ladies, such as the drawn work, blankets, fingers paintings, etc. The school children will be interested in the school display of the Mexican children, also in the Mexican parrot, Mexican monkeys, etc. The car will remain in Washington until Tuesday evening. Open daily 9 a. m. to 10 p. m.

AN APPRECIATION.

I desire to express to the business men of Washington my appreciation for their offers to store portions of my toy stock on account of being forced to vacate the building the stock is now in.

Many persons have kindly offered to help me, for which I am exceedingly grateful. K. JOHN, Adv.

TOMORROW IS TAG DAY FOR THE LIBRARY OF CITY

Tomorrow, Saturday, November 21st, is Tag Day. Every public-spirited citizen should buy a tag. The young lad's, who have kindly volunteered their services will call on you; also the school children. Help them with your interest. One tag is all you will be asked to buy, and remember it is for the Public Library—your library and every citizen's library. You need it, and so does every other citizen. Your children derive pleasure and benefit from it. Remember Saturday, Tag Day. Wear a tag and help the Public Library of Washington.

For any information, see one of the following ladies:
Mrs. John Small, Mrs. Frank Rollins, Mrs. W. L. Vaughan, Mrs. Samuel Fowle, Mrs. Merriman, Mrs. S. C. Bragaw, Mrs. H. W. Carter, Mrs. John Rodman, Mrs. N. L. Simmons, Miss Sadie Wiswall, Mrs. Betts.

THEIR ACT IS ONE OTHERS TO EMULATE

The Washington Beaufort Land Company, one of this city's enterprising business concerns, always ready and willing to help in any cause that means the advancement and furtherance of this city, have kindly donated the tags gratis to the Public Library to be used as Tag Day. Every citizen should remember that tomorrow is the day in which the promoters of this well and much-needed institution are to call on the good people of the city for a contribution. Buy a tag and wear it, thus showing that you are a loyal and true citizen.

In presenting the tags that are to be worn tomorrow by the Washington and Beaufort Land Company their thoughtfulness is indeed commendable.

COL. CITIZEN DONATES TO THE FUND

The Belgian Fund has passed the hundred dollar mark and is now on its way toward two hundred. One notable gift today is that from some of the Public School children. The Daily News is proud to publish the note enclosing the donation:

"In behalf of the Belgian sufferers, we, Grade 3A, wish to contribute the contents of our treasury."
(Signed)
"LATHAM TANFIELD, Pres.,
"MARY MacLEAN, Sec.-Treas."
Another contribution worthy of mention is that from one of our colored citizens. It is very pleasing to find this spirit existing as evidence that the members of that race are ready to do their part, also in helping this distressed nation.
