KID WILLIAMS AND YOUNG DIGGINS TO MEET
Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 30.—Kid Williams, the basketball champion, and Young Diggins will meet in a six-round bout here this evening. Williams has arranged after this contest for a trip through the middle west, where he has been offered his money for bouts in St. Louis, Kenosha and Akron, O.

And What Could He Answer?
One Sunday morning Mr. Moody, the revivalist, entered a Chicago drug store, distributing tracts. At the back of the store sat an elderly and ill-looking citizen reading a morning newspaper. Mr. Moody approached this gentleman and threw one of the tracts upon the paper before him. The old gentleman glanced at the tract, and asked: "Are you a reformed drunkard?" "No, sir, I am not," cried Moody, drawing back indignantly. "Why don't you reform?" quizzically asked the old gentleman.

Deadliest Diseases.
Tuberculosis of the lungs, commonly called "consumption," still bears the unenviable palm as a destroyer of the human race, or at least a portion of it that is found in the United States. A close second to tuberculosis comes pneumonia, then the various forms of stomach troubles, with cancer following hard after them all. Heart disease ranks well up with the above-mentioned maladies, while Bright's disease and diabetes are responsible for the death of thousands.

Good Joke on Sothern.
Mr. Samuel Sothern, the English actor, says the worst moment of his stage career was passed in a state of mental paralysis owing to a trick played on him by another actor. This actor, who had a passion for practical joking, and Mr. Sothern were appearing in the same play. It was a sentimental comedy in which Mr. Sothern had to make a long and effective speech with the stage all to himself. The practical joker got an alarm clock, timed the alarm very carefully, and set it upon a sideboard upon the stage. "At the very moment I opened my mouth to declaim," Mr. Sothern says, "it went off. I stood before the footlights literally gaping, whilst the blatant bell rang and thumped and clattered through an eternity. It was a nightmare! I wanted to run, and could not; I wanted to speak, and could not. Suddenly from the gallery a piercing voice cried out: 'Say, boss, I guess your line's engaged!'"

PAGE COMMITTEE READY TO SHIP FOOD TO BELGIUM

New York.—The American commission for relief in Belgium formed by Ambassador Walter Hines Page in London has opened offices at 71 Broadway, with Linden Bates in charge, and has hired dock space. The commission announced today that it was ready to ship provisions in any quantity straight through to Belgium. The commission is attending strictly to the transportation end of Belgian relief work, and does not in any way conflict with other committees.

Ready for All Shipments.
It has the funds to handle all the shipments which America can raise this winter.

Already 17,000 tons of food have been sent across the sea and distributed with the help of the German military authorities, 30,000 tons are now afloat, and the commission announced today that 40,000 tons more were in sight. Forty wagon loads of American corn have reached Liege, enough for four days.

Hugh Amount of Food Needed.
Bates said today that half a million tons of food would be needed by the Belgians this winter. He said the war was largely responsible, and continued:

"What Belgium needs is any kind of food, so long as it will stand ocean transportation. It would be a good thing to send the Belgians clothing were it not that food is the first necessity of life, and America will have to strain every effort this winter to bring the Belgians through alive."

"Wheat, flour, beans, peas, and preserved meats are especially needed, but perhaps above all things the most pathetic need of Belgium is for condensed milk. The cattle are gone and children of a certain age cannot live without milk."

"We have just received $35,000 from Hawaii to be expended for food. Hawaii is so far away that they find it more expeditious to send us the money at present instead of supplies. Later they may send a food ship."

Women Join the Movement.

Women's organizations whose memberships aggregate 5,000,000 have enrolled in an executive co-operating committee to assist the commission in Belgium. It was announced tonight by officers of the women's section of the commission. Fourteen national and international

NEPTUNE'S DAUGHTER AT NEW THEATER

Announcement is made that the opening performance at the moving picture feature Annette Kellermann piece at the New Theater on Friday, "Neptune's Daughter," will take matinee.

This photo-play met with an enthusiastic reception in New York, and was indorsed by every critic, as an exceptional picture. The story deals with the Land and Make-Believes, for two hours and one-half we wander from one beautiful scene to another, while the creatures of this mystic land unfold a tale that might well have come from the pages of Hans Christian Anderson.

Annette Kellermann as "Neptune's Daughter," dives, swims, dances and fences and does some remarkable acting. As the principal figure in this romantic drama of land and sea of the realm of the immortal King Neptune and the mortal King William, Miss Kellermann is ever on the screen.

BELIEVES THE TITANIC CAN BE RAISED

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 30.—Explorer and geographer, Capt. J. Foster Stackhouse, is firm in the belief that the liner Titanic can be located and raised. He believes she was sunk by an iceberg which was itself aground on the summit of a submerged mountain. The investigator is to be part of the schedule of the international oceanographic expedition which will set out from London next May, having as its chief end the definite locating of some 3,600 reported uncharted dangers of the deep.

Not Many Plays Now Scheduled

New York, Nov. 30.—The approach of the holiday season is beginning to cause the theatre managers some concern, because it is feared that the city will not be crowded with visitors as in former years. Not very many new plays are scheduled for presentation. The ones that have attained success are set down for long runs. The changes that are booked to take place, however, are of unusual importance.

At the Forty-eighth Street Theatre "The Law of the Land" is sure to be the attraction long after the snow has ceased to fly. Miss Julia Dean is observed at her best as the distraught heroine, while the Messrs. Lillford Fawcett, Milton Sills, Harry Lillford and other leading members of a very well chosen company contribute effectively to the marked success of the entertainment.

"Under Cover" Selwyn & Company's production of Rol Colper Meigs's mystery play continues to attract highly satisfactory audiences to the Cort Theatre, where it will begin next Monday night the sixteenth week of its remarkable engagement. William Courtenay and the original cast including Lily Cahill, Lucille Watson, Rae Selwyn, Phoebe Foster, Lolo Fisher, DeWitt C. Jennings, Wilfred Draycott, Ralph Morgan, Harry Crosby, John May and George Stevens still remain.

No visitor to the big burg has received a more cordial welcome than "The Girl From Utah," as played by Miss Julia Sanderson and supported by Donald Brian and Joseph Lawthorn. Here one finds humor at the quaintest sort, attractive performers, a witty and interesting plot and an unusual number of catchy songs.

Augustus Thomas has written the biggest thing in his career in "The Big Idea," which has finished its second week at the Hudson Theatre. This thrilling drama tells the story of a young man distraught with grief by the prospect of seeing his father imprisoned for embezzlement. Unless $20,000 can be realized, the head of the family will be disgraced. A clever young woman strikes upon the idea of using the situation as it exists for the plot of a big play, and the idea proves to be immense that the situation is saved and all turns out happily.

"Life," which is the talk of the town, will probably be prolonged indefinitely at the Manhattan Opera House. It is a newly adopted custom at this theatre when the last seat has been sold to make an oral announcement in the lobby that those who may wish to go to other entertainments may be enabled to reach their destination on time.

Play come and go, but at the Hippodrome the crowds gather twice daily to see the wonderful production entitled, "Wars of the World." Contrary to the expectations of many the piece has nothing to do with the conflict in Europe, though it does present with remarkable realism the wars of many years ago that existed between various nations.

The New Amsterdam has a novelty that will last throughout the season in "Papa's Darling." The piece is in adaptation from the French and is so cleverly conceived that it ranks among the first of the season's musical comedies.

O. Henry Book Club Guest Mrs. Simmons

A large and representative club meeting was thoroughly enjoyed Friday afternoon at "The Colony," the handsome country home of Mrs. Norwood Simmons. The hostess graciously received the members and escorted them to the dining room, where Mrs. Louis Mann dispensed delectable egg nog to the many guests. The meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Rodman. Minutes and roll-call over the library selection for the afternoon was Shakespeare's jesters by Mrs. H. W. Carter. As usual Mrs. Carter handled her subject in a masterly way; her treatment of her theme showing broad study of these inimitable characters and her description of their fantastic and grotesque attire was delightfully entertaining. She was happy in her selection of incidents and charmed all present.

The reading by the club of the 4th and 5th acts of "As You Like It," was made most interesting by each member choosing a character. These readings are proving most instructive and enjoyable. A vote by the club resulted in a generous offering for the worthy Belgian fund.

After distribution of the books a delicious ice course was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Louis Mann.

The club had as its guest one of Washington, D. C.'s most attractive women, Mrs. I. O. Crisp.

The next meeting will be December 16th at the residence of Mrs. W. A. Blount.

MOVES TO CITY.
Mr. D. G. Latham and family, who for the past thirteen years have been residing on their farm on R. F. D. No. 2, have moved back to this city and are residing at No. 113 Brown street.

Mr. Latham has sold his farm to Mr. Walter Leggett. He says that he intends to live and die in Washington.

THE ANNUAL SHOW OF PEKINGESE CLUB

New York, Nov. 30.—The annual show of Pekingese Club of America promises to be a more fashionable event than ever this year, and when the show opens today, it will be found the entries surpass, both in quality and numerically, those of earlier shows of the same club. The list is Miss Lydia Hopkins, of California, president of the Pacific Toy Dog Association. She herself owns about 200 pekingese, pomeranians and Brussels griffons. This year the ballroom at the Plaza has been specially decorated for the Pekingese show. The key of all the adornments is Chinese in character, and rich and rare Oriental decorations play an important part. The value of the prizes offered by this club far exceed in value and beauty those of any other specialty dog club in America. The enormous solid silver vases presented as trophies by the late J. J. Pierpont Morgan and by James Gordon Bennette are the most remarkable and costly of their kind.

WILL REFUSE TO SUPPLY LEASE WIRES
New York, Nov. 30.—Commencing today, the Postal Telegraph Company will refuse to supply leased wires to brokerage houses. In future brokers' messages will have to be paid at the regular rates. The company will continue its leased wire service to newspapers and commercial houses. Most of the Wall street houses use wires leased from the Western Union, which has not altered its arrangements with the brokers.

POLICY OF GERMANS IS TO WEAR OUT TROOPS OF ALLIES
Hugo von Kiehl, giving the German view of the war situation, says: "The policy of the Germans in the field seems to be to wear out the troops of the allies by continual bombardment interspersed with local assaults. Many of their charges have been met with apparent defeat, but the famous war machine of the Kaiser refuses to acknowledge or accept defeat, and return to the charge repeatedly. They fight with a stubbornness and recklessness which is remarkable."

Whatever deterioration there may be in the material which is now being drafted into the ranks of the enemy must be admitted that the Prussian war machine, acting on a nation which has previously been insured to the utmost discipline, has obtained most remarkable results. The Germans have hitherto been able to make good their losses and continue to deliver repeated blows with fresh men.

"Such is the effect of a century of national discipline. That the men subjected to it are the victims of an aristocratic military caste does not alter the fact that they have accepted that system as necessary to the attainment of national ideals. The elements which make up the German Empire have by the force of the Prussian war machine been welded together to be able to fight for the national existence, and it is evident that for them Deutschland uber alles is no empty cry."

Ben Franklin's Glasses.
Everybody who uses bifocal glasses probably wonders where the idea originally came from. Bifocal glasses are the kind that consist of two segments lenses cemented together so that by looking in the upper part one can see at a great distance, and by looking through the lower half one can see. Most authorities are inclined to give Benjamin Franklin credit for the invention. He was, so the story goes, an inveterate reader and could not see his reading glasses when looking any distance away. Finally the notion came to him that he could combine his glasses, and he thereupon had the lenses cut in half and one-half of each lens placed in the rim of each spectacle rim. The result was that a single pair of glasses was sufficient though present day oculists state that the sharply drawn line must have affected his eyes. From this idea the oculists gradually developed a glass in which the lower part was arranged for reading and the upper part for long-distance vision, while the annoying "marking line" was eliminated.
