CARNEGIE ENDOWMENT FOR PEACE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 15.—The undersigned have been associated for some years in the execution of a trust to promote international peace and our duties have involved a continual survey of the efforts to that end throughout the world.

We wish to say to all friends peace that the dreadful war now raging affords a just cause for discouragement, no discredit to past efforts, and no reason to doubt that still greater efforts in the future may be effective and useful.

The war itself is teaching the gospel of peace through a lesson so shocking and so terrible that the most indifferent cannot fail to attend and understand it.

Not only have the destruction of life, the devastation and the suffering in the warring countries passed all experience, but the cessation of production, the closing of markets, the blocking of trade routes, the interruption of exchanges, have affected industry and caused ruin and poverty in all the peaceful countries of the world.

The universal interdependence of nations has been demonstrated and the truth forced upon every mind that the peace of all nations is the vital concern of every nation.

To cast our weak protest now among the tremendous forces that are urging on the great conflict would be futile; but the end of this war will come before long and then the great question will stand for answer:

Shall the lesson be forgotten; the sacrifice lost?

That question the belligerent nations only will have the power to answer; but every one in the world will be entitled to be heard upon it, for it will be a question of civilization, the most momentous of our era.

It seems incredible that after this the stricken people will set their feet in the same old paths of policy and suspicion which must lead them again to the same result.

Finding expression through a great multitude of voices everywhere the general public opinion of mankind should influence the minds of the negotiators who settle the terms of peace and inspire them to a new departure in the establishment of justice as the rule of international relations.

While we must not be overconfident of our individual qualifications to point out the detailed methods of through which the result may be accomplished, we may still advocate measures which seem practicable and appropriate to the purpose.

We can see that definite rules of national conduct should be agreed upon; that a court of competent jurisdiction should be established to judge of national conformity to those rules, and that new sanctions should be provided to compel respect for the judgments rendered.

Above all the motive and spirit of the new institutions should be clearly and fully, not the promotion of ambition or the extension of power, but the safeguarding of human rights and the perfection of individual liberty.

Toward this high end the courage and hope and conviction of the humblest citizen of the most distant land may contribute.

FRISCO FAIR READY FOR OPENING DAY

San Francisco, Feb. 15.—With every bit of the work on the exposition itself completed and with only a few minor things still to be done on concessions and state and foreign pavilions, officials of the Panama-Pacific exposition are turning their attention toward the perfection of arrangements for the opening day, February 20, and the reception of notable visitors.

The eleven big palaces and festival halls have been completed for some weeks and the exhibits are being installed by day and night shifts of workers. On perhaps a half dozen concessions there is still some work to be done, but this will be accomplished by opening day or soon afterward.

Finishing touches are being put to seven state pavilions, including that of New York, and these will be ready on time. The same is true of three foreign buildings, with the possible exception of that of France. Although work on this was begun only last month the roof is already on and it is proceeding toward completion.

The opening week will be as notable as will the opening day itself. On February 20, 200,000 persons brought here, for the occasion from all parts of the world, will march to the exposition grounds in carnival array.

At 6 o'clock on the opening morning bells will ring, whistles will blow and bands will go about the city awakening the sluggish and setting them in line for the day's festivities.

Governor Johnson has declared February 20th a legal holiday. The parade will start at nine o'clock and at 11 o'clock and minute yet to be designated President Wilson standing in the rotunda of the United States Capitol will press the electric button that will officially open the 1915 event. There will follow ceremonies both here and in Washington.

On February 22nd will occur the Vanderbilt cup race, that is expected to draw 300,000 persons. On February 24th will be Japan dedication, February 25th, Canada, Ohio and New York dedication; February 26th, Norway, Illinois; Philippines dedication; February 27th, Grand Prix automobile race.
