GATE BUILT THROUGH FENCE

Much Inconvenience and Repairing Can Be Saved by Adopting Method Shown in Illustration.

(By M. GOVERDEL.)
At the point where one is in the habit of crawling through the hog fence the wires become sagged and the woven fence is twisted out of shape, to say nothing of the inconvenience attending this unwholesome method of getting through the fence.
Set an extra post in line with the fence at such a point, stapping the wires securely to it. Brace the small Gate Through Top of Hog Fences.

post and the one next to it as shown in the illustration; cut the wires between them; make a small gate to fit this opening in the fence, and hang it, using either iron hinges or strips of leather, to support it and allow a free swinging. Attach a hook latch, as indicated, and you will save yourself much inconvenience and repairing of fences.

COTTONSEED MEAL FOR FEED

Hoard's Dairyman Thinks About Two Pounds Daily Quite Enough for Best Results With Cows.

In reply to a query as to the proper amount of cottonseed meal to use in a combination with mixed ground corn, Hoard's Dairyman makes the following reply:

As a rule, not more than two pounds of cottonseed meal should be fed daily. We recognize that in the South much more than this is fed, but for best results we think two pounds per animal a day is quite enough. A mixture, therefore, of the corn and cottonseed meal should be such as to provide this amount of cottonseed meal daily. It would be better, however, if some other feed could be mixed with these two, as we believe better results would follow. If the prices seem too high for the other classes of feeds, we would suggest that the corn and cottonseed meal mixture be put on top of the silage allowance.

FEEDING SILAGE TO COWS.

Feeding the silage tends to relax the cow's system like grass in the summer time, therefore, she is more susceptible to extremes of heat and cold than the cows that are kept exclusively on dry fooder and they should not be exposed to chilly winds and kept warm and comfortable.

THE DOCTOR'S WIFE

Agrees With Him About Food.

A trained nurse says: "In the practice of my profession I have found so many points in favor of Grape-Nuts food that I unhesitatingly recommend it to all my patients." "It is delicate and pleasing to the palate (an essential in food for the sick) and can be adapted to all ages being softened with milk or cream for babies or the aged when deficiency of teeth renders mastication impossible. For fever patients or those on liquid diet I find Grape-Nuts and albumen water very nourishing and refreshing."

"This recipe is my own idea and is made as follows: Soak a teaspoonful of Grape-Nuts in a glass of water for an hour, strain and serve with the beaten white of an egg and a spoonful of fruit juice for flavoring. This affords a great deal of nourishment that even the weakest stomach can assimilate without any distress."

"My husband is a physician and he uses Grape-Nuts himself and orders it many times for his patients."
"Personally I regard a dish of Grape-Nuts with fresh or stewed fruit as the ideal breakfast for anyone—well or sick."

In stomach trouble, nervous prostration, etc., a 10-day trial of Grape-Nuts will usually work wonders and in this way end the trouble. Name

SENT EASTER STORY

Telegrapher Who Flashing News of Massacre Just Retired.

After fifty years of Active Service John M. Carnahan Retires a Pensioner—Tells of $2,500 Words in Two Shifts.

Minneapolis, Minn.—The news of the Custer massacre was first told to the world in 1876 by John M. Carnahan, then manager and operator in the Western Union office in Bismarck, North Dakota. After an active service of more than fifty years Mr. Carnahan has just been retired on a pension.

Mr. Carnahan began his career as a telegrapher in 1861.
In the fall of 1873 the Northern Pacific railway line had been completed as far west as Bismarck, N. D. Mr.
Carnahan was asked to go to Bismarck and manage the office, and in the spring of 1875 he went there and the big chapter in the story of his eventful life began. For it was while he was at Bismarck that he sent to the world the account of the Custer massacre on the Little Big Horn in July, 1876.

Fort Abraham Lincoln, the post of the Seventh cavalry and the headquarters of Brigadier General Custer, was at Bismarck. Mr. Carnahan won Brigadier General Custer's friendship and he became the personal friend of the officers at Lincoln. And so it was that he and the post surgeon rode out from the old garrison with the Custer expedition when it started in June, 1876, to punish the Sioux. The surgeon and the operator made the first twelve miles with the Seventh cavalry. Then they turned back with the last dispatches which Brigadier General Custer sent.

No word came back to Bismarck from the Seventh cavalry and its commander. But that occasioned no surprise. Expeditions of that sort were a common occurrence in those days.
It was on the night of July 5 when the steamer Far West came down the river to Bismarck. The Far West brought the wounded of Reno's command and the official dispatches which told of the complete annihilation of the Custer command.

On the morning of July 6 Mr. Carnahan found on his desk in the telegraph office a message bag filled with official dispatches. There was an immense load of them. He "flashed" the news to the East, and then settled down to the transmission of the official story to the department of war in Washington.
It was eight o'clock on the morning of July 6 when he began his tremendous task. Not until five o'clock the following morning—21 hours—did he leave his instruments. Then for three hours he slept the sleep of utter exhaustion. He returned to his work, and for 30 hours he sat at his key. It was four o'clock the next morning when he checked off the signature of the last dispatch in that old carpet bag. He had sent 80,000 words in the two shifts.

For two days the eastern newspapers had been clamoring for news, and there was no one to send it. Mr. Carnahan could not leave his official work and there was no other telegraph operator within two hundred miles.
To the New York Herald, the Chicago Inter Ocean and the St. Paul Pioneer Press he sent as much of the news as he had strength to prepare.
And that was the way the news of the Custer battle was sent out.

That was the big news article in the career of John Carnahan. But in the professional secrets of 53 years at a telegraph key there must be many incidents stored up which would startle the world if they were told.

COW IS USUALLY UNDERFED

Idle Animal of Any Sort Will Not Pay for Extra Feed—Feed According to Accomplishments.

A man is generally paid according to what he earns. Why not apply the same rule to the dairy cow? The good cow is usually underfed, while the poor one is given more than she deserves or can pay for. Feed the live stock according to what they do and what is expected of them. The idle animal of any sort, or a dairy cow that will not pay for extra feed, should only receive as much feed as is necessary to maintain it in the condition desired. The young animal should usually be kept growing, while the good dairy cow should have her feed increased, over and above that given others, so long as she will continue to pay an increased net profit.

QUITTS HUSBAND FOR TRAMP

Woman Twice Crosses Continent With Man Arrested With Her on Serious Charge.

Portland, Ore.—After twice crossing the continent in business and going out a messenger existence as a tramp with Fred Halstead, Mrs. W. H. Slade, aged thirty-one, walked from Oakland to Portland, with Halstead and was arrested with him by Detective Hynd and Vaughn, who charge Halstead with violating the Mann "white slave" act.

According to information received by Detective Captain Hartz from True Van Bickie, attorney of Oakland, Cal., Halstead caused the woman to desert her husband and three children at Oakland.

When they first fled, more than a year ago, Halstead and the woman worked their way to New York and made the return trip in a similar manner.

Mrs. Slade is suffering from a dislocation of one of her hips, the result of a beating administered by Halstead when he found out she had written to her husband.

Also Tells Wife She is His Sister-in-

Tacoma, Wash.—Discharged Monday from the Pierce county hospital, where for months he had been unable to remember his own name, Edward C. Cooper, went to Seattle with his wife, who had just discovered his presence in Tacoma.

The next day he disappeared again.
When he next came to official notice he was at the Tacoma city jail, representing himself as the Rev. Ernest A.
Cooper, who had come from Africa, to help find his missing brother, Edward.
Instead of the dingy, brown suit he had worn as the "man of mystery," he had donned a long frock coat with silk lapels, black rimmed spectacles, fancy vest and broad clerical hat.

He had the police bring out the picture taken of the strange wanderer arrested on Tacoma avenue last March. He declared this unkempt, bewildered person was his brother Edward. He seemed much disappointed when informed the unknown had left the county hospital, but declared he would keep up the search.

JUDGE HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Dumb-Bell Exercises Arouse Suspicion That He is Communicating With Enemy.

London.—An English judge had a narrow escape from arrest on the ground of signaling to the enemy. He was taking a short holiday on the east coast, and, as is customary with him, was indulging in a little dumb-bell exercise before retiring to rest.

The movements of his arms behind the red blind of his bedroom attracted the attention of the sentries on the walls. They thought someone was signaling and hastened to the hotel to capture the culprit. For some time they refused to believe the judge's explanations, and it was only on being shown the doctor's book that they

OUR FORCING BOX
Patent applied for

Is well and solidly built of 7-8-inch cypress wood and painted to avoid rotting. The dimensions are 12X14 inches at base, with an 8X10 top and depth of six inches.
The glass slide works in a groove at the top, permitting it being withdrawn at the will of the grower and also to facilitate easy storage from season to season. When the glasses and wooden portion can be kept separately, the wooden boxes being of such shape that they "nest" nicely, one within the other and take up very little storage space.

Cucumbers, Cabbage, Tomatoes and other vegetables are wonderfully hastened in their growth and productiveness by the use of these boxes, and in sections where they have been used growers have met with the greatest of success. No other methods of forcing has yet been devised and we suggest that orders be placed early as there is sure to be a great demand for them as soon as their true worth is recognized Various Views of the Snow.

The farmer calls the snow the poor man's fertilizer. It keeps the ground warm and puts dollars—prosperity—in his vacant pockets. It is much esteemed by artists, who use almost every color except white when they set out to paint it. Their favorite tints for this purpose are pink, purple and slaty blue. It seems to be the chief business of artists to inform us commonly but firmly, that our eyes see snow—nothing.
