CLAY BOTTOM N. C. NEWBOLD GIVES $250 FOR ROADS

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING WAS HELD IN THAT SECTION OF COUNTY.

GREAT INTEREST

Meeting Was Well Attended and General Sentiment Was Expressed in Favor of Good Roads.

A well attended and enthusiastic meeting was held at Clay Bottom school house at which the good roads movement in Beaufort county was thoroughly discussed. W. A. Thompson and P. N. Lawrence presided at the meeting and made talks on the advantages that would be derived from better roads in the county. Many questions were asked regarding the contemplated procedure of the work and great interest was manifested by those present. When asked what they would subscribe towards the work, nearly all of those present promised to contribute, some in money and others in work. Close to $300 was raised for improving the roads.

The next meeting will be held this week at Blounts Creek and it is probable that a meeting will also be held with the road commissioners of Chocowinity township at which a delegation from Washington will be present.

Seize Liquor From Train

Hold Made by Police on Train from Norfolk and Several Arrests Are Made.

Plymouth, N. C., June 14.—On Thursday last Sheriff Reid was notified that Ionia Faulk, wife of King Faulk (suspected "Tiger, or perhaps Tiger and Tigress") had gone to Norfolk and would probably return "loaded." The Sheriff together with Chief of Police Newberry, night Police Doughtie and others, boarded the night train at the junction. Ionia was there, so were two suit cases containing three gallon jugs of liquor each, and the husband who had come to meet them.

Before the train reached the station the Sheriff found one Lemon Little, of Greenville, on his way home from Norfolk with two suit cases and a large package of liquor, and also one Jonas Beaman, of Walstonburg, who not only had a suit case but a trunk full as well.

The officers took the whole outfit to jail and on adjournment of court Friday night they were given an airing before Recorder Gaylord, who found them all guilty. Ionia, who has a small child, was let go on payment of cost, but the three men were given four months on the roads each. All appealed to the Superior Court, and on Monday Beaman and Little were heard before Judge Whedbee and upon second conviction were given the same dose administered by the Recorder. Faulk's case continued until August term.

The seemingly most cruel feature of the proceedings was enacted on Wednesday morning when Sheriff Reid proceeded to empty the confiscated fuel upon the ground near the market house, in the presence of a large and exceedingly thrifty crowd of spectators.—Roanoke Beacon.

Baseball vs. Sunday School

Sunday Game at Kinston Empties Seats in the Sunday Schools of the City.

Kinston, N. C., June 14.—"Baseball vs. Sunday School" might be made the title for a tragedy that occurred in East Kinston yesterday afternoon. Christ Episcopal church had had a flourishing Sunday School until the "season" opened. A vacant lot contiguous to the church then became the center of interest on Sunday afternoons, with the Sunday school's average attendance percentage dwindling into last place rapidly. The officers protested to the authorities. The vacant lot was seized by the police yesterday.

N. C. NEWBOLD WRITES ON Y. M. C. A.

FORMER WASHINGTON RESIDENT HIGHLY FAVORS PROJECT.

IS A NECESSITY

Says that Growth and Development of Washington Demands Institution of this Kind.

Another endorsement of the Y. M. C. A. movement in Washington was received this morning by Prof. N. C. Newbold, formerly superintendent of the Washington schools, and now connected with the State school system. Mr. Newbold has many friends in the city, who will read his views with interest. Editor, The Daily News, Washington, N. C.

Dear Sir: A friend of mine in Washington has informed me that there is now a movement on foot there to begin a Y. M. C. A. for the young men of the city, and requests that I write a brief statement for publication in your paper. Very naturally I feel a delicacy in doing this since I am not now a resident of your good city. My personal feelings, however, for Washington and its people, prompt me very readily to do anything I can that is suggested by which good may result.

On a recent visit to Washington I saw very definite evidences of material progress. Within the past two years many business buildings have been erected and occupied. Your new water and power plant has been pronounced one of the best in the State. Your efforts to install a complete sewerage system will soon be satisfactory rewarded. You already have an excellent school system, good churches and other necessary public buildings. Very logically, therefore, it seems to me that some definite step on the part of the city to provide for the ever increasing number of young men a place of meeting, amusement, pleasure and profit should be considered as a necessity. It would give me very keen satisfaction to know that Washington has handsomely provided for its young men by erecting a large Y. M. C. A. building and equipping it for their use; or making some temporary arrangements to do Y. M. C. A. work until such a building can be provided.

Very sincerely yours,
N. C. NEWBOLD.
P. S.—I have been informed that several hundred dollars are now available to begin work. That is very encouraging.

Takes Position In Nebraska

Mr. Raynor, Former Principal of Washington Collegiate Institute, Writes Friends Here.

An interesting letter was received this morning from Ernest A. Raynor, of Long Branch, N. J., who was formerly principal of the Washington Collegiate Institute and who will be remembered by many of the residents of the city for during his stay in Washington he made many local friends.

Editor Daily News, Washington, N. C.

Your readers who remember me will be interested in knowing that I completed my graduate work this spring, receiving the degree of Doctor of Theology from the Drew Theological Seminary and the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from the New York University.

I have just accepted a call to the chair of Philosophy and Religion of Nebraska Wesleyan University at Lincoln, Neb., to begin work at the opening of the University in September.

We have enjoyed our year here by the seashore and the advantages of living near New York. We trust that your city has recovered from the effects of that disastrous hurricane and that you are sharing in the general prosperity. Please remember me kindly to my Washington friends.

Yours cordially,
ERNEST A. RAYNOR.

"12 BARRELS" MAY CAUSE A SUIT

RUMORED THAT A. C. L. WILL BRING SUIT AGAINST OFFICIALS.

IS NOT VERIFIED

Attorney Reports That No Definite Action Has Been Taken in the Case As Yet.

Reports were current on the streets this morning to the effect that the Atlantic Coast Line would bring suit over the action of the city officials in removing the twelve barrels of liquor from the A. C. L. depot Saturday morning.

When asked for an expression of opinion regarding this subject, one of the prominent attorneys in the city stated that the Coast Line had not definitely announced any suit. The same attorney admitted that there might be grounds for suit, not against the city, but against the officials as individuals, who ordered the removal of the liquor under the protest of the railroad officials. He stated that neither Mayor Kugler nor Chief Roberts were enforcing a city ordinance by their actions, but a State law, and that this would eliminate the city as a corporation from being sued.

AUTOMOBILES ADVERTISE 'TAUQUA

CARS LEFT THIS MORNING TO MAKE ADVANCE CAMPAIGN.

MORE TOMORROW

Will Take Trips to Belhaven, Williamston, Aurora and Other Cities in this Section.

A campaign for advertising the Chautauqua in this city, was begun today. A number of automobiles from the different wholesale houses left this morning to cover their territory in this and adjoining counties and incidentally will distribute literature and advertising matter relative to the Chautauqua.

Tomorrow morning four or five cars will leave for Belhaven, Williamston and Aurora. They will also carry advertising literature and will also sell tickets. It is expected that these trips will bring a large number of visitors to the Chautauqua from the nearby cities.

The ticket selling campaign is progressing nicely and a large number of tickets have already been sold. The various ticket committees started this morning for the last four days' campaign. They expect to sell several hundred more before the opening day of the Chautauqua. Advance information received from cities where the Chautauqua is being held, states that the various numbers are far better than last year and that the company has met with great success in the cities where the Chautauqua has been given to date. The features of the program are many and varied.

BERLIN PRESS COMMENT ON NOTE

BERLIN PRESS COMMENT ON NOTE

DIVIDED IN SUGGESTIONS AS TO WHAT COURSE WOULD BE ADVISABLE FOR GERMANY TO PURSUE.

BRYAN A PUZZLE

Papers Cannot Understand His Action in Leaving the Cabinet at the Present Time. Washington Officials Are Encouraged.

Washington, D. C., June 14.—Officials are drawing much encouragement from the comment of the European press on the contents of the American note to Germany. The important thing which is gleaned from the press comment and other utterances was the fact that the German government was no more desirous of adding the United States to its list of enemies than the United States was of participating in the European conflict. The chances for a peaceful outcome of the present difficulties are believed in well-informed quarters to be improving daily.

Berlin Papers Comment.

Berlin, June 14.—Various comments were made by the Sunday papers of Berlin on Secretary Bryan's actions. The general opinion appeared to be that the Comptroller was hasty in his action and had less confidence in the honest desires of the American government than have the Germans. The papers also intimate that Bryan took an advantage of the opportunity to escape easily from a situation which was no longer pleasant.

Press Is Divided.

Berlin, June 14.—A number of the Berlin papers appear to favor the re-opening of negotiations with the United States, while others reject any departure from the course heretofore followed by the German government. The Morgen Post stated that "the offer of mediation between Germany and Great Britain will be gladly accepted by Germany." The Rundschau declares, "the torpedoing will go on."

Want Dog Law to Be Modified

Petition Being Circulated by Ladies, Asking That Changes Be Made in Ordinance.

Several ladies of the city, who are greatly opposed to the proposed new dog ordinance, which is to go into effect on the 15th of this month, have been busily engaged during the last two or three days in securing signatures of residents to a petition, asking that the proposed ordinance be abolished.

The ladies state that they are in favor of some kind of an ordinance to limit the liberties of the dogs on the streets of the city, but that they do not favor such drastic measures as are contemplated by the city officials. They desire that steps be taken to allow pet dogs some degree of liberty and not enforce the same stringent laws upon them as against the mongrel curs that run at large. A large number of signatures have been secured for the petition, which, it is understood, will be presented at the next meeting of the board of aldermen.
