WASHINGTON, NORTH CAROLINA, JULY 17, 1915.

Perhaps it is not, but there is no use getting peevish about it. In the past the poor fellows who are now getting down below as...

It would be a hard job to go out today and find one man that is not trying, with all his might, to get together all the cash that possibly can. That is one trouble with the world today.

What's the matter, Biggs? did someone sell you a gold brick? The next time you happen to be up town, drop in at the Harr Hardware Company and sign up for Chautauqua tickets.

JURY ACQUITS CUTSLER.

The jury in the Cutsler case yesterday turned the defendant loose and had his liquor returned to him. The jury probably arrived at their verdict by deciding that there was no evidence of any intent to sell the liquor and that Cutsler intended it for his own personal use.

There was another detail, however, which the jury evidently overlooked. Cutsler purchased the liquor in this State and in doing so he violated the law, no matter if he did intend to drink the rum himself. There is nothing in the laws to prevent a man from going to Norfolk or some other point and bringing back any amount of liquor, providing that he is going to use it for himself or his family.

The Greenville Reflector is of the opinion that "Watch Watch! Washington Win" ought to suit the tastes of the Washington Daily News in the way of a slogan.

KEEPING GOOD ROADS AFTER GETTING THEM.

The governors of many states are issuing proclamations designating certain days as "good road days," and calling upon citizens generally to observe the same.

It is hoped, however, that sufficient names will be signed within the next twenty-five days to warrant the going of the contract for the Chautauqua next year.

JUDGE PEEBLES' OPINION.

Judge Peebles hasn't much of an opinion of a town officer who searches a man's grip to see how much liquor there might be in it and inferentially would countenance the knocking down of an officer who would lay violent hands on such a grip without being armed with a warrant.

WILL INSPECT NAVAL MILITIA

Raleigh, July 17.—Adjutant General Young today was advised that Ensign F. G. Blandell, U. S. N., had been detailed to report here July 28 for the purpose of making an inventory and making the proper account for the five companies of naval reserves in this State.

WILL EXHIBIT N. C. RESOURCES

The agricultural department of the Atlantic Coast Line is again preparing an exhibit of farm products, vegetables, fruits, tobacco, cotton, grains and forage crops grown in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Alabama.

WANTED HIS NAME CHANGED

A negro from out in the country appeared at the court house yesterday and wandering into one of the offices, stated that he desired to have his name changed and wanted a "de judge."

NOT MANY TICKETS PURCHASED

When asked this morning how many tickets had been in pledge for the Chautauqua, C. F. Bland, who is in charge, stated that although two or three men had named their names, the outlook at present was not very encouraging.

THE STIEFF Tone A Quality Tone

From every standpoint of tonal values the Stieff tone is a quality tone. Throughout the entire range of the instrument there is an evenness, a velvety smoothness that speaks the work of a master hand.

Stieff tone is a rare combination of unlimited volume and sympathetic singing quality.

Stieff is evidenced the imagination to conceive and the skill to produce an instrument of extraordinary quality.
