A STIRRING FILM TODAY AT THE BELLMO

The World Film Corporation five-reel photoplay based on the famous Wm. A. Brady production "As Ye Sow," which was written by a clergyman, the Rev. John Snyder, will be shown today at the Bellmo Theatre.

Alice Brady in this film has a part which will unquestionably establish her reputation as a screen actress. This part is that of Dora, the "woman who suffers and endures" of the play. The daughter of a wealthy man she marries a good looking young fellow from the country who has made an auspicious start in New York business life. Having won the girl by trickery he proceeds to reveal a baseness of disposition which makes the life of his young wife a terrible burden. He becomes a drunkard and ill-treats his wife and baby child. Dora resents his cruelty and he robs her of the child, surreptitiously conveying it to his mother and then, himself, going away to sea on a fishing schooner.

Dora, bereft of husband and child, becomes a prey to grief. She is in all essentials a widow, for the news comes that her vicious young husband was drowned at sea. Fresh sufferings await the girl, calling for the display of sustained emotional power on the part of Miss Brady. Concealing her identity she makes her way to the fishing village where her husband was born; becomes the paying guest of his mother; recognizes her own child; and excites the love of her husband's brother, now a clergyman.

These poignant situations make this photoplay a drama of strong heart interest, and keep Miss Brady at her tensest as an emotional actress. Many other interesting situations are brought out in the plot of the play, including the return of the husband, Dora's quandary and what finally becomes of her husband.

Edward ball team played two very interesting games last week, much to our regret. We lost both games. But our boys are very enthusiastic; when they lose they try the harder next time.

Prof. J. M. Perry, of Industrial College, Kinston, N. C., will begin a series of meetings at the Christian church fourth Sunday in July.

The Mission Band, composed of the children, had a very good and interesting meeting at the Christian church Sunday morning. A good program was rendered.

Everybody is busy now in our village harvesting crops; mainly tobacco.

FROM R. F. D. 2.

We are having some warm weather and the farmer is needing rain. Mr. and Mrs. Joe's Robinson spent last Saturday and Sunday with her mother, Mrs. L. Cox.

We had a runaway marriage in our section last Thursday. Miss Beate Burroughs, of the Laughinghouse farm, and Arthur Ormand, who lives on the Singleton farm, were married. We wish them good luck.

Misses Carrie, Emma and Lillian Davis spent last Friday afternoon with Miss Lizzie Cox.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Cox and sons, Wiley and Rodman, attended church at Ashbury Sunday.

Costly Animal Pest.

Australia is cursed with certain pests, such as rabbits, with dog, kangaroo and blowy. Large sums of money are spent in an endeavor to lessen the number of rabbits. It is estimated that in Victoria alone 150,000,000 were put to death in 1913. It is generally admitted that ten rabbits eat as much as one sheep, and many farmers have long since realized that they cannot profitably run sheep on properties infested with rabbits. Natural enemies, such as foxes and wild dogs, which are troublesome in certain districts, tend to keep the rabbits in check, assisted by the wire netting fences that landholders are erecting. Kangaroos have caused considerable damage in the northwest part of Western Australia, where ranch owners are said to have paid for thousands of scalps.—From Report of United States Consul Magelsen at Melbourne.

Arbitration.

First Director — "Gentlemen, the question is, Shall we arbitrate?" Second Director — "Never! Why, if we submitted this dispute to arbitration we might have to concede something." —Life.

Avoid Worry.

To live above worry is a little task, especially for persons of a nervous temperament. Nevertheless, it is possible and can be attained through the ever conquering power of the will. Then, too, worry is one of the heaviest, greatest destroyers. If lines the face with furrows that are difficult to remove and far from pleasing to look upon.

Some thirst-quencher is right. The most trying games are well worth the energy if followed by a cool glass of Pepsi-Cola.

Not only delicious and wholesome, but invigorating at all times—after contests of brain or brawn. And in the home it has the same appetizing and comfort-giving effects. You can get it at the fountain—or carbonated in bottles, at your grocer's.
