PROTEST OVER SHIPMENTS

San Francisco, Aug. 5.—Protests against the "unmoral traffic in arms and ammunition" with England, and criticism of the government's atti- tude toward Germany were expressed today in resolutions unanimously adopted by the National German- American Alliance.

The resolutions declare the loy- alty of German-Americans to be steadfast but say "We deplore that our government has, on the part of England, practically permitted viola- tions of international law and in- terference with commerce to the detriment of American interests and has on the part of another country, Mexico, supplied the destruction of American life and property while in the case of Germany, it quickly assumed a threatening and uncompromising attitude."

BRITISH PRAY FOR VICTORY

London, Aug. 5.—The British em- pire united today in prayerful ob- servance of the anniversary of the beginning of war against Germany. In virtually every city and town in the British Isles and in all parts of the dominions and colonies overseas the day was one of the intercession and prayer, with meetings of com- munity purpose to ask the aid of the Almighty for ultimate victory in a cause which the British peoples con- sider righteous.

PLAN LIKE BUILDER

Germans Prepare for Battle With Great Precision.

Decide on Certain Plan, Provide Nec- essary Soldiers and Equipment With Margin for Miscalculation, but No More, Never Less.

Petrograd.—In an interview with a correspondent a Russian general who fought in the Galician battles has just explained the German plan of cam- paign which has resulted so success- fully this summer.

He said the Germans plan battles as builders plan houses. A builder gets together his blue prints and his estimates, engages a sufficient number of workmen and a certain quantity of material and sets to work. He doesn't try to build a bigger house than he has materials or labor for. Of course, accidents or bankruptcy may prevent the execution of the plan.

Similarly the Germans plan that a certain thing shall be done; they bring up the necessary soldiers and the necessary guns, shells and bullets, with a margin for miscalculation, but no more and never less.

They may, through accident or mis- calculation, fail. But they never start fighting on the principle of doing the best with the men and shells they have.

To revert to the house parallel: The house may collapse during con- struction, owing to a mistake. But the builders will not decide suddenly that they have not enough material and dock the house of one story, nor will they abandon the house half built, because of lack of work- men or material. They know what they want to do. The battle planned and prepared for months in advance is a precise work.

The whole eastern campaign shows this. When the Germans won at Tannenberg they planned the march on the Lower Vistula, which ended near

The buggy was completely demol- ished and Mr. Forrest narrowly a- voided losing his life. However he was not injured with the exception of a bad shake-up and fright.

Avoid Worry.
To live above worry is no little task, especially for persons of a nervous temperament. Nevertheless, it is possible and can be attained through the ever conquering power of the will. Then, too, worry is one of the most treacherous destroyers; it lines the face with furrows that are difficult to remove and far from pleasing to look upon.

SEEKS FAME ON THE STAGE

Chinese Girl Aspires to Be the Sarah Bernhardt of the Oriental Race.

For all of her Irish name, PEGGY O'Wing has never seen Ireland, nor, or that matter, have her father and mother had any Irish ancestry. Peg is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wing Lock of Newark, N. J. Of course one wonders why, if her father's name is Lock, she is called O'Wing. The Chinese do things which we Americans seem to be puzzled over. It is because her father and mother are Chinese but her name is O'Wing. That signi- fies daughter of Wing, Wing being Mr. Lock's surname. Though she is thor- oughly Americanized, some of the ori- ginal ways which she has not forsaken added charm to the fair Celestial maiden who is seeking a husband. Peg is, according to the manner of Chinese reckoning, eighteen years old, but only seventeen according to the American method. Now eighteen in China is considered an old age for an unmarried girl, and her father has endeavored in every possible way to aid Dan Cupid. Chinamen by the scores have come to the rock home and have been captivated by the charm of the fair maid, but she would have none of them, because she has made up her mind to have none but an American husband. Her charming features resemble those of a Spanish beauty, and that is saying something, for when a Spanish girl is a beauty she is "some pipin'." Peg O'Wing has other aspirations besides securing an American husband; for she aspires to be the Sarah Bernhardt of her own race. It was against the wishes of her father, who is a prominent merchant, that she studied for the stage, for in China the parent of a girl frowns on any at- tempt of his child disposing herself for the admiration of the crowd. Con- sequently a stage life for the Chinese woman is never encouraged. So rare is the Chinese actress in China that men often play the roles of women. Miss O'Wing will be the only Chinese actress in the United States. Her three sisters are praying that she will meet with the success she deserves on her initial appearance in New York. She speaks Italian, Chinese, German and French as well as English, and she feels that an American of her ideal type will appreciate her more as a wife, than a Chinaman.

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Gardul, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Gardul, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Gardul, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill. I wish every suffering woman would give
